Considered to be the "crème de la crème" of custom home builders, Dior Builders creates exquisitely designed homes that exude the Incorporating a European flair comes naturally to Peter Di Iorio, Owner of Dior Builders. A native of Rome, Peter grew up in an exquisite mountainside estate, featuring many of the distinctive elements found in homes Dior Builders creates today - towering ceilings, extensive balconies, soaring windows, and elaborate architectural details.

Peter, along with his wife Kathy, and their three sons, Carlo, Mario, and Anthony take pride in building homes of distinction. Since its inception in 1979, award-winning Dior Builders has made a name on Chicago's most prestigious suburbs including Inverness, Barrington, South Barrington, Barrington Hills, Lake Forest, Hawthorn Woods, Oak Brook, Burr Ridge, Kildeer and Long Grove.

The company's distinctive European flair is most evident in the materials used throughout their custom homes. Teeming with marble, unique stone, and expansive millwork, the homes also boast the latest in home building technology and automation.

"We enjoy taking a piece of raw land and creating a dream-come-true for clients," Di Iorio says. "By building homes using the highest standards, we are able to provide families with a lifetime of enjoyment."
