The Secret to Happiness

A number of years ago in a letter to the Cardinal Archbishop of Paris, on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the annual youth pilgrimage to Paris, Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI, expressed beautifully the “secret to happiness”.

The former Pope called on young people to imitate Mary's response when she was "invited to follow an amazing yet disconcerting journey. Her readiness led her to experience a joy of which all previous generations had sung. Our 'yes' to God makes the font of true happiness gush forth," the emeritus Pope affirmed. "It frees the 'I' from everything that closes it in on itself. It brings the poverty of our lives into the richness and power of God's plan, without restricting our freedom and our responsibility. [...] It conforms our lives to Christ's own life."

If we think about our lives and the different events that have shaped us, we can no doubt point to the times when we have precisely done just what the former Holy Father suggests; when we have said yes to God and opened ourselves up to Him and to others. We can also, sadly, think of times when the “I” of ourselves has taken center stage and we have closed ourselves off from God and others.

Being created in the image and likeness of God, who is One yet at the same time, a community of persons in the Holy Trinity suggests that we are not created to be alone. We are created to be in community, in relationship with others. Every time when through some form of selfishness we exalt the “me” of myself otherwise known as the “Ego” and think that we are the center of the world, we actually turn in on ourselves and end up excluding God and those around us. People, and even God, become “things” for us to use rather than beings with whom we relate. As John Donne well stated, “No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main.” We can never be happy alone, and if we try we will fail.

On the other hand, even as challenging as it may be, when we are willing to give of ourselves, when we are willing not to be the center of things, when we are willing to submit to God rather than try to have him submit to us, it is then that we open ourselves to God and to others. It is then, like Pope Emeritus Benedict accurately described, we find the secret to happiness.

God bless you,
Father Joseph Byerley

Corpus Christi Procession

The Feast of Corpus Christi gives us a wonderful opportunity to affirm our faith that the Holy Eucharist is not merely a memorial meal nor just a symbol of Our Lord, but IS JESUS CHRIST- body, blood, soul, and divinity!

Our parish will be having the traditional Corpus Christi procession following the 11:00am Holy Mass on Sunday, June 7, 2015

following the 11:00am Holy Mass

Please join us, whether or not you attend the 11:00am Mass around 12 noon when the procession will go around the parish campus on 4th, Green St., 3rd, and Kings Highway. Spiritual Center Library

"America! America! God shed His grace on thee...." God has blessed America abundantly and in ways like no other nation. It appears that we were created to be a light to all nations, a country appointed to build a peaceful world based on Christian principles and values of faith, freedom, charity, equality, justice, and humanity. But in spite of our calling, we have often abused our bountiful land and allowed ourselves to be distracted by selfishness, power, greed, and addictions. We sometimes compromised on our ideals and misled our youth. We must pray for conversion. In our Spiritual Center Library, we have an inspirational prayer booklet entitled the "Patriotic Rosary." It was specifically written for the conversion of our country, for our President, for the Supreme Court of the United States, for the Senate and House of Representatives, and for county and municipal offices. Each decade of this rosary incorporates 10 states and prays for the people in those ten states. By the end of the rosary, the people or souls of all our states have been prayed for and our national and state governments. Beautiful meditations precede each decade. Copies of this unusual booklet are available in the Library for you to borrow. Now, more than ever, our country needs our prayers.
