Some of this work appeared at <http://www.archiveofthenow.com>. An earlier version of the opening passages appeared on DVD as part of Camcorder Guerillas’
Voices for Vanunu. Extracts appeared on the walls of the Cooper Gallery, Barnsley, January–February 2007 as part of the Talking Points Local Marks Global Impressions exhibition.

Thanks are due to Tom Leonard, Peter Manson, Larry Butler & Graham Hartill, who read drafts & who all made valuable suggestions.

Thanks particularly to Morven Gregor who read the manuscript as it was being written & offered encouragement & insight.

Thanks also to Iain Orr.

that person himself was completed in draft at Hotel Chevillon, Grez sur Loing, where I spent two months in 2006, made possible by a Robert Louis Stevenson Fellowship; I am grateful for this opportunity to the Scottish Arts Council & the National Library of Scotland.

Field research was made possible by a grant from the Scottish Arts Council.

In addition, I am grateful to Jim Mac Ritchie & Andrew Schelling in Boulder & to Masayuki Ebinuma in Nagasaki who all gave me room in their houses when it was needed. Andrew Schelling also shed much light for me on passages of the Bhagavad Gita.

The book would not have happened without the testimony of the many survivors quoted in these pages – verbatim. To them, their memory & to all those to whom I spoke, I extend my humblest & deepest gratitude.

Although no information on the test was released until after the atomic bomb was used as a weapon against Japan, people in New Mexico knew something had happened. The shock wave broke windows 120 miles away and was felt by many at least 160 miles away. Army officials simply stated that a munitions storage area had accidentally (sic) exploded at the Alamogordo Bombing Range. The explosion did not make much of a crater. Most eyewitnesses describe the area as more of a small depression

Missile and Target Debris

Occasionally, missile malfunctions result in test debris outside Range boundaries. Some of these devices may be innocent looking metal boxes which actually contain explosives, flares, or detonators. Any of these items, as well as the antipersonnel bomblets, may explode if moved.

Explosives come in many shapes, sizes and colors. Some are hidden in electronic devices and other metal spheres which children might mistake for toy balls. Some are bright and shiny.

THE ORYX

And now I am prepared to say by the authority of Jesus Christ, that not many years shall pass away before the United States shall present such a scene of bloodshed as has not a parallel in the history of our nation; pestilence, hail, famine, and earthquake will sweep the wicked of this generation from off the face of the land, to open and prepare the way for the return of the lost tribes of Israel from the north country. The people of the Lord, those who have complied with the requirements of the new covenant, have already commenced gathering together to Zion, which is in the state of Missouri; therefore I declare unto you the warning which the Lord has commanded to declare unto this generation, remembering that the eyes of my Maker are upon me, and that to him I am accountable for every word I say, wishing nothing worse to my fellow-men than their eternal salvation; therefore, “Fear God, and give glory to Him, for the hour of His judgment is come.” Repent ye, repent ye, and embrace the everlasting covenant and flee to Zion, before the overflowing scourge overtake you, for there are those now living upon the earth whose eyes shall not be closed in death until they see all these things, which I have spoken, fulfilled
