To Chris

TEMPER RELIEF

This resting home is for yesterday's sex workers where the wild cat strikes and the capital gains air. In this region of challenged sentences there is the largest loss of temper relief. With Virgin money can you buy patriotic rhetoric and a competition that will mop up the absurdity (of life) in a cultural shift? Change that respects women to the highest degree involves glamour model celebrations of old sexism. This will assess my breast and generate marks out of ten-type entertainment in their language of choice. The military concurs with democratic process while participating in a cultural chasm. How well we can make judgments from the fireside coffee table. If he is a rational president delivering the right message, he deserves a pat on the back and a huge prize that will distract attention from kick-backing influence. This will signal the right path and gently wean leaders away from corruption that ultimately vomits on the shoes of aid donators. The key word approach in box classification connection is a view of the world which organises knowledge for all. Then when and if the new look cross-border attacks, linked to disease and that poison relations, have now changed course to a war on obesity. There is some active support for unplanned headlong qualifications of choice making the prime factor almost always and without exception, a divisive memory. If you have a body mass index of 29 you are very nearly obese.

ASSOCIATED DISEASES

A peer reviewed thesis has produced a healthcare political time bomb. Long before the advent of the straight forward answer was the yardstick spike.

Goal posts were moved overnight regularly declaring a new reality that was conclusive and beyond debate.

The correlation between evidence and the emphasis uptake declares that voters were treated as an afterthought on this already congested island where phrasemongers war with misleading statistics and sloganisation. They go into the water with their bomb-making training material, and people systems crush the rebels with research evidence that tows the line.

DEAD DOGS

The problem with big space projects is that there are fewer national caveats failing to meet objectives. Stripped of responsibilities, chess board killers offer dead dogs drinks for want of temperate language. The risk to the public is quite small if one claps at the end of a video conference. 14 poppy free provinces but NATO could do better. The soul makes guns go off—a tick box for isolating the extremist. In the garden after lunch where the bougainvillea rains, I shall water the saladini both fresh and weary. If you lower your voice you can defeat her screams as another rebel group withdraws. The unhappy Secretary General is staying the course ‘no fast exit’ shielded again by temperate language.

9.11.07

The potential vagueness of language is in the mouth of social space. Big theatre discourse on terrorism amounts to living with fireworks spent on the beach; thunder clap/canon and lethal tank. The longslow sweep away of our moral refuse failed to bring about change and China sets its sight on the moon. You row your own boat and I will swim as language, and move on—like water. “What a fiasco”—Lowering the upper limit of compensation help to rebuild your life and home. With a decade long free kick family friendly borrowing policy there has been an appalling catalogue of serious error in judgement. We might as well have turned to the barmaid who can crush beer cans in her bare breasts and hang spoons from her nipples to bring in the customers.

AVOID THE ART MARKET

The reclaimed oak hedgehog house arrived eventually as the postal workers returned to work. Our best top tip for radicalising and indoctrinating a welcoming committee of school children is the next step forward on the mission in pursuit of truth and short term tricks.

They say they don't target civilians and suicide bombers can opt out in the south.

The sea (her inspiration) had been exciting that morning. She said "I haven't been out of my way for these pictures".

COUPONS

Is he all spin and no substance?
(Who Cares) Legally binding omission limits would be expected in eco towns occupied by catslikefelix with rising aspirations and challenges for the future.
Top down centralising pancakes of draft legislations that will harmonise the judiciary and the executive power sharing arrangement deal—when waterfalls came to her in a dream, like a delayed dusting of snow on the hills remembered when slamming tennis balls across an open space. The mouth space opens and shuts for language a landscape.

DYNASTY

It is time for sacrifices; ban bullying at work now, as the time has come to measure out the world in wonderful restaurants. The mass protest march went off like a mammoth conic fountain in a counter coup – grandiose and in earnest. She is subtle in her criticism while focusing on how best to mobilise a protest on the street during a spell of house arrest. A change of tone was noted as the hair shirts came off the so utterly recognisable silent clowns seen towing the party line. Good old dramas where the id is let loose in the body.

PERMIT

Tensions are palpable and the law has made fools
of us all putting public safety at risk.
What went wrong? He texted a friend and London
on a heightened
state of alert
let shooting
an innocent become a breach of health and safety.
Commander
control lost
the strapline
and had no idea the radios didn't
work underground.
Major failings,
serious and
avoidable errors
meant the implementation of order to stop
was preceded by shoot on sight.
