LETTER FROM THE PUBLISHER

Welcome to Tlaquepaque (pronounced Ta•la•ka•pa•kee). Located along the beautiful banks of Oak Creek in Sedona, Arizona, we are one of the most distinctive arts and shopping experiences in the Southwest.

A landmark since the early 1970s, Tlaquepaque, meaning the “best of everything” in ancient Aztec, is authentically fashioned after a traditional Mexican village. Our vine covered walls, cobble-stone streets, and tiled fountains, make you feel as if you’ve been transported to another time and place.

Tlaquepaque which was started as an artist community, remains home to renowned local and international artists, gallery owners, and shopkeepers. We have a safe and clean environment for you to enjoy. As mandated by the city of Sedona, the wearing of masks is required by all. We request that you follow the local guidelines and those recommended by the CDC to ensure everyone’s health and safety.

Although many of our annual events have been postponed, join us for the Marigold Mural Project in November and Holiday Sweet Stroll and the Annual Tree Lighting in December. The full schedule of events can be seen on page 2.

Save the date for our 2021 celebrations, including Cinco de Mayo and Great Sedona Chili Cook-off on May 1, Day of the Dead on November 6, and Luminarias on December 11.

Whether you have an hour, an afternoon, or a day, there is always something unique to discover at Tlaquepaque.

I hope to see you here soon!

TA-LA-KA-PA-KEE

The Abe Miller Story

VISIONARY, DEVELOPER, LOVER OF THE ARTS

In the 1970s Sedona had only one stoplight and the area was mostly an open range, but visionary businessman Abe Miller saw the potential for more. A traveler, Abe had spent time in Mexico where he became enthralled with its vibrant arts scene—in particular, that of a small arts and crafts village outside of Guadalajara that would become our village’s namesake, Tlaquepaque (Ta-la-ka-pa-kee). It was Abe’s dream to establish a place for artists where they could collectively create and sell their work.

At that time, Abe also fell in love with Sedona. In particular a unique piece of property on Oak Creek with a distinctive 100-year-old sycamore grove. He knew he had found the place to bring his arts and crafts village to life. It took two years of being persistent, but Abe finally acquired this piece of land from its owners Harry and Ruby Girard, assuring them that their beloved sycamores would remain untouched (a promise he kept and that we continue to honor today).

To express his vision, Abe collaborated with a gifted and unconventional local architect, Bob McIntyre. As the story goes, Bob, Abe, and Bill Herrick, the contractor, flew Abe’s plane all over Mexico and ventured into small villages to photograph, sketch, and document their look and feel. They studied how they were constructed—the materials, their structural components, detailing and flow—with a goal to build Tlaquepaque as authentically as possible. They photographed thousands of scenes from rural villages and sketched dozens of vignettes of Spanish Colonial architecture.

When Bob and Abe came upon a small village, they would sit and watch for hours, coming to know the importance of how people, gardens, fountains, and trees shaped social interaction in a public space. They carefully studied the architecture. They were soul searching, discovering what life really looked like in rural Mexico and what architectural elements they should embrace, taking particular note of how the patios, courtyards, tiled walls, and plazas created natural gathering places for the villagers to sell their crafts and minge together. They began to bring artifacts reflecting Mexican culture back to Sedona—iron grillwork, huge carved doors, handmade lanterns, clay pots, and benches were incorporated into the architecture to create the genuine feel and spirit of Tlaquepaque.

In keeping with his unconventional ways, Bob McIntyre purposely hired only amateur artisans and self-trained plasterers, chosen for their heart and enthusiasm for the project. No professional stonemasons were on the crew. He gave tremendous artistic freedom to the workers who “loved to be turned loose on a wall and watch it grow under their hands.” If they weren’t happy with their day’s work, Abe allowed them to tear it down and start over. “Forget the plumb, use the thumb,” was a favorite saying on the construction site. Very little of Tlaquepaque was sketched out on paper. Everything was eyeballed, keeping the basic orders of columns and capitals, but allowing for variables. It was all part of what gave Tlaquepaque its authenticity and unique charm.

| Patio del Norte

THE LEGACY CONTINUES

In 2015 Tlaquepaque North, located on the other side of Sedona's highway 179, was carefully built to maintain Abe and Bob's original spirit and authentic design.

Here too, no detail was overlooked. With its gracious central fountain, stuccoed walls, hand-painted murals, tiles, elegant archways and pavers throughout, the new structure gives the impression that it too has stood here for years. Signature giant Sycamore trees and colorful flower beds add to its inimitable style. A beautifully renovated former cobblestone home can also be found on the grounds. The only structure that was retained during the renovation, it is now home to one of Tlaquepaque and Sedona's most loved restaurant, Pump House Station Urban Eatery and Market.

The shops and galleries of Tlaquepaque North have been carefully curated to add to the visitors' experience, providing them with even more choices to explore and discover what the arts and shopping village has to offer. Sophistication and style abound. Come to visit and see for yourself.

LOCATED AT THE HEART OF SEDONA, TLAQUEPAQUE OFFERS A PLACE FOR ART COLLECTORS, DISCERNING SHOPPERS AND GUESTS TO EXPERIENCE A RARE TREASURE AS THEY CELEBRATE ART, ENTERTAINMENT, BEAUTY, AND COMMUNITY.

ROSALIE'S OF SEDONA

Events at Tlaquepaque are made all the more memorable by the food the guests enjoy. Whether attending an engagement party, wedding, family reunion, or a corporate event, the beauty of Tlaquepaque's architecture and grounds is enhanced when the guest's culinary experience is as artful and delightful as the surroundings.

Rosalie's of Sedona is one of Tlaquepaque Art & Shopping Village's exclusive catering partners. They are masters of creating memorable experiences with their expert event planning, design, and execution. Bonnie Grant, the company's founder and director, can often be seen on the Tlaquepaque grounds as she and her team intently set up these events.

"TLAQUEPAQUE HAS SUCH A UNIQUE FEEL AND OFFERS AN AMAZING PALETTE TO START DESIGNING FROM," BONNIE NOTES, "NO MATTER THE LOCATION, ONCE WE HAVE COMPLETED THE SET UP IN THIS AMAZING PLACE, WE CANNOT HELP BUT BE PROUD OF THE END RESULT. EVERY EVENT IS SO PICTURESQUE."

One of the only fully licensed and insured off-premise caterers in the area, Bonnie and her team pride themselves on their ability to understand their clients' needs and help achieve their vision through the design of unique, delightful events. Having owned and run a restaurant before, Bonnie is deeply passionate about food, as well as putting her clients first, working under pressure, and solving problems in-the-moment.

Her food and event experiences garner many accolades. Clients note that Rosalie's of Sedona is "amazing," and "delectable," as well as being a "truly full service" company that works tirelessly to make their client relationships as easy and effortless as possible.

Bonnie's unwavering approach is to always start with quality ingredients that produce a superior product. "I love creating unique menus and new food recipes," Bonnie explains, "The most important detail to me is that we stay true to this vision and always serve quality, hot food. This means that some items and styles of food will not present well or taste the same when served to a large group. This is a critical detail in catering and one we pay attention to in order to retain the quality of our food and presentation." They address these constraints innovatively as they work closely with their clients to bring their vision and desired food and event style to life in a beautiful, cost-effective, and tasty way.

No event is too large or too small for Rosalie's of Sedona, they will cater the most intimate of receptions to the most extravagant of occasions. Exquisite food, expert coordination, and gracious service are always provided.

INSIDER TIPS FROM BONNIE

Bonnie sheds light on important, often misunderstood things to understand about catering:

1. BUFFETS ARE LESS EXPENSIVE

This could not be further from the truth. A buffet requires more equipment; therefore, more set up and labor, more food selections, and more food to provide options and the opportunity for multiple visits. They still require wait staff for the food and beverage service, keeping the tables clean and cleared, and cleaning up at the end of the event.

2. SMALLER EVENTS MEAN LESS CATERING COSTS

This would be true for the rental equipment; however, it is not necessarily the size of the event that dictates the labor required (which is a big part of the catering costs). It is guided by how detailed the event's "look" is and the style of the service and menu. This means that the "per person" cost for a hundred guests is always less than that of a thirty person event.

3. SERVING JUST HORS D'OEUVRES FOR A PARTY IS MORE COST-EFFECTIVE

Contrary to that thought, hors d'oeuvres are very labor-intensive. They require several different ingredients for the actual hors d'oeuvre and for the garnish for presentation. Although some hors d'oeuvres can be placed in a chafing dish, many hors d'oeuvre selections must be made before serving to ensure a fresh look and flavor. These types of parties require additional preparation staff in addition to the usual serving staff required.

UNDER THE SYCAMORES

“The sycamores are a Tlaquepaque treasure that my team and I deeply admire and work hard to protect. Their natural beauty brings unique forms, colors, shades, and light to our village, as we watch them change and grow from season to season. Art in motion.”

- Wendy Lippman,
Resident Partner and General Manager.

Tlaquepaque Arts and Shopping Village was constructed amid a grove of 100-year-old Arizona Sycamore trees. This robust and handsome tree is found only in a small area of the United States and Mexico. Their majestic beauty is a big part of what attracted Abe Miller, Tlaquepaque’s founder, to this unique piece of land stretched alongside Sedona’s meandering Oak Creek.

When Harry and Ruby Girard eventually agreed to sell Abe the land (it took over two years for him to convince them), a stipulation of their agreement was that he would cherish and protect their beloved sycamore trees. This is a commitment that the Tlaquepaque team continues to honor today. Of the 200 trees at Tlaquepaque, more than 100 are Arizona Sycamores. Each one is carefully numbered and cataloged to be properly identified and specially cared for to ensure their health and longevity.

Tlaquepaque village was built thoughtfully around these stately trees. You can see this today as you walk the village and Tlaquepaque North. Arizona Sycamores gracefully intertwine with rooflines, grow through walls, and nestle up against buildings. They elegantly canopy many of the cobblestone streets, plazas, and patios, providing shade throughout most of the year and stunningly beautiful bursts of color in the fall. One can even be found reaching up the center of Rowe Fine Art Gallery and skyward through the roof. Nature and architecture growing together in harmony.

Arizona Sycamores have been known to grow 75 to 85 feet tall with a similar size spread of their branches, making them great shade providers. A deciduous tree, these magnificent North American shade trees, also known as the buttonwood tree or the American Plane Tree, lose their giant star-shaped leaves in the fall before sleeping for the winter. They have a distinct mottled trunk that looks like light-grey camouflage as it exposes the white of the inner bark. Often found along creeks, rivers, and streams like at Tlaquepaque, they aid in preventing erosion. A peek inside their hollowed-out trunk could see you face to face with desert birds and other animals using it for shelter.

To recognize them as you explore Tlaquepaque village, look for the largest, twisting trees on the property with the camouflage-like peeling bark. Once you’ve found them, take a moment or two to enjoy their awe-inspiring beauty.

ALT BOOKS & RECORDS

RARE BOOKS, VINTAGE RECORDS, AND EXCLUSIVE ART

If you're looking for a comfortable spot to chill-out and treasure hunt, Alt Books and Records is the place to go. Opened in February of 2020, the shop is located on Tlaquepaque's Calle Miller above Spirits and Spice. Visitors are raving about Alt, calling it the "coolest bookstore" and an "awesome place for conversation," as well as highlighting that it has "every eclectic genre you can imagine."

The shop's owner, Mark Schrader, an avid collector and art dealer loves what he does, and it shows in Alt's highly curated collection of used, rare and out of print books, vintage vinyl records, and select works of art—all things he finds interesting and hopes you will too.

With tunes playing on the record player (yes, an actual record player!) and comfy chairs to settle into, Mark welcomes all visitors—from the "just curious" to the experienced collector—to spend time in the shop and explore its shelves and record crates.

The store's used book categories include local subjects such as Sedona and The West, Western Artists, Native American Art, Culture and Spirituality to the more obscure and ethereal topics including Celtic, Fairies and Angels, Shamanism, UFOs, Astrology, Numerology, Tarot and Palmistry and Afterlife, Past Life, Ascension. The record collection covers most genres with many rare and collectible offerings. Alt is also an authorized dealer for the Art of Dr. Seuss, and features some of the limited edition prints and sculpture. For more information on their unique collection, visit the store or call them to inquire.

We had a chance to ask Mark some questions about being a collector and here's what he shared with us:

DT: You noted that you've always been a collector, did you have any unusual (or just amusing) collections as a kid or teen?

MS: I remember collecting empty liquor bottles that people threw into the ditch on the Indiana country road near our house at around age 10. Half pints of Dark Eyes vodka were seemingly popular. Not sure why my mother tolerated them sitting on the floor in my closet. I guess there weren't many other collecting opportunities. I would buy books at the annual library book fair every year. There are a few in the store now that I bought as a kid 50 years ago.

DT: What is it that you love the most about rare records and books?

MS: I enjoy combing through the volumes of material out in the wild and finding the books that still have buyer interest. They encompass the full range of human history, thought, achievement, and artistry. There is more to learn every day. Of course, I enjoy the treasure hunt aspect. The best part is discovering a special item and researching to determine precisely what you have and how the market values it.

DT: Can you share a story about finding or selling an amazing, rare record or book?

I recently sold a first edition of The Wonderful Wizard of Oz as a consignment for a local woman. She bought it at a thrift store in 1945 for a quarter, and it sold for nearly $10,000.

DT: You are an authorized dealer for the art of Dr. Seuss? How did that come about?

When I had my first gallery in West Sedona, I sold mostly art. I took over the regional dealership for The Art of Dr. Seuss from a neighbor gallery moving out of state. It is an excellent program, and the limited editions hold their value. Many see significant appreciation from the original selling price. And I can be confident I am providing good value to the clients. Ted Geisel has sold 650,000,000 books, and there are many, many dedicated fans.

DT: Do you have a favorite record or book? And what's an extraordinary record or book you hope to find and own one day?

I do have a selection of records at home that are not for sale. They are mostly the Classic Rock that my era grew up listening to and still enjoy. If I come across a copy of Pronounced 'Léh-'nérd' Skin-'nérd' it will go straight into my personal collection. I would be very happy if I found a 1st Edition of The Hobbit, but I can't be sure I wouldn't sell it. However, there is a joy in owning a rare object, even if only briefly.

DT: Lastly, how did you pick Sedona as your home? And what are your favorite things about living here?

I had lived in Flagstaff for nine months in the early 1980s and spent time in Sedona then. I love the scenery and the climate and thought that someday Sedona would be the place to live. I wanted my kids to grow up seeing the stars and swimming in the creek. I love the southern latitude high elevation four-season weather, the hiking and nature opportunities, and the art community foundation of Sedona.

the PERFECT HOLIDAY GATHERING

DISCOVER THE BEST LOCAL WINES FOR THIS SEASON'S CELEBRATIONS

With the holidays just around the corner, The Artist's Kitchen Shop, Sedona's top destination for clever gadgetry and elegant entertaining, shares its recommendations for holding a perfect holiday gathering. Whether your family and friends are physically with you or you are hosting a virtual get together, these tips are for you.

1. START BY PREPARING YOUR GUEST LIST

The holidays are for celebrating with the people you care about the most. Who do you want to be sharing this event with you? For those who will be with you in-person, be sure to take everyone's health and safety into account and put on your most festive face mask.

2. WORK OUT THE DETAILS OF YOUR GATHERING

Figure out the time and location (remember the time difference for family and friends joining you virtually from the other time zones), a theme if you're having one, and a menu. Even virtual gatherings can be coordinated!

3. CURATE THE DECOR AND AMBIANCE

Whether you are in the room together or gathering via video, make the space and your table festive, including setting it with your best tableware, linens, candles, and serveware. If you don't use them during the holidays, then when?

4. PLAN SOME ACTIVITIES

Do a gift exchange. Play some games. Ice breaker activity can liven up a get-together and keep everyone engaged, whether played together or virtually. Create your signature drink, and if you are celebrating virtually, send everyone the recipe so you can toast together. Have it presented in fabulous glassware or copper mugs.

5. THE ROLE OF THE HOSTS

The host or hostess is the driving force of any event. It is their job to make each guest, whether physically there or via video, feel welcome and tended to. For in-person gatherings, place cards at the table to thoughtfully arrange your guests. For virtual events, be sure to introduce those on the call who don't know each other and let everyone know how grateful you are to be "together."

6. GIVE THANKS

For gatherings spent together or virtually, give a small favor to each person attending to commemorate the occasion. If you're the guest, it is appropriate to give your host or hostess a small token of appreciation for being included and to say thank you. Be sure to remember that mail can be slow around the holidays, so ship them to your virtual guests early!

At The Artist's Kitchen Shop, you will find everything you need to set a dazzling holiday table and give a thoughtful gift. Visit AK's shop or website to see our many beautiful brands and unique handcrafted treasures.

ARIZONA'S WINES

ROSE

2018 Rose - Laramita Cellars

Hailing from Wilcox, Arizona, Greg Gonnerman's Laramita Cellars is a VINO ZONA favorite! The volcanic soil, elevation, and care Greg takes with every bottle make Laramita Cellars one of Arizona's best! Our feature Rose is a beautiful winter style Rose, elegant and full-bodied with cranberry, mint, and earth notes. Serve with pineapple ringed turkey, mint mashed potatoes, and fresh cranberries at Thanksgiving. This Rose is also a nice mid-day Christmas glass with the family.

$25 per bottle. Bottles are autographed by winemaker, Greg Gonnerman, and exclusive to VINO ZONA.

RED

2017 Petite Syrah – Birds and Barrels

Another beautiful Wilcox wine, Birds and Barrels is new to the Arizona wine landscape but has come out swinging with this luxurious and full-bodied Petite Syrah. Barrel-aged for four years, this big red has notes of deep cherry, dark chocolate, and that classic Petite Syrah tang on the finish. With only two barrels made, this is one of the best hand-crafted wines in Arizona. Pair with your holiday brisket and a loaded baked potato or have a glass by a roaring fireplace.

$38 per bottle.

FESTIVE

Habanero Red – Flying Leap Vineyards

Arizona in a bottle! This exquisite red brings the wonderful flavor of Grenache and habanero peppers together. With just a hint of sweet and a lot of flavor, this red is perfect with your savory holiday meals. Think grilled steak with a molasses brown sugar rub and a heaping side of sage mashed potatoes. A beautiful after-dinner glass.

$34 per bottle.

WHITE

2018 Malvasia Bianca – Southwest Wine Center

The Southwest Wine Center in Cottonwood is making a name for itself with its state of the art and cutting-edge viticulture and enology program (growing grapes and making wine). It makes some of the best small-batch wines in the United States. This Malvasia Bianca, made by the students of 2018 and their professor Michael Pierce, was awarded a DOUBLE GOLD from the San Francisco Chronicle Wine Competition, quite an accomplishment for Arizona. With its tropical nose of lemon, pineapple, and mango, this full-bodied white is a perfect before dinner holiday glass.

$30 per bottle. Exclusive to VINO ZONA and only five cases available.

FESTIVE

Arriba Sangria – Wilhelm Family Vineyards

Fresh lime, prickly pear (cactus flower), passion fruit, and jalapeño in a white wine blend make up this Arizona favorite. Naturally sweetened, this aromatic sangria is the life of any party. Add champagne and thinly sliced fresh jalapeño frozen in lime aid ice cubes for a festive Mimosa.

$32 per bottle. Bottles are autographed by winemaker Karyl Wilhelm.

Wine in Arizona? That is usually the first question they get at VINO ZONA from visitors to their state. Most people don't know that the Arizona terroir resembles some of the most famous grape-growing regions of the world, like Italy and Argentina. Home to the perfect climate, elevation, and soil composition for grape growing, Arizona is poised to be the next great American wine region. Considered hip and up and coming in the wine world, The Verde Valley, in Northern Arizona, was recently voted fourth best wine region in the country by the latest USA Today reader's poll. With pioneer spirit, tight community and cutting edge growing practices, the Arizona wine industry is making its mark.

At VINO ZONA, they specialize in the best Arizona wines, focusing on small-batch, clean, and farm to table. They know the winemakers personally and source the best quality wines at a fair price. Here are their delicious recommendations for the holiday season.

FESTIVE

Dark Chocolate – Arizona Angel

A VINO ZONA fan favorite! This signature wine from Arizona Angel is a decadent blend of red wine, cherry, and dark chocolate. Warm in the crockpot or on the stove and add whipped cream or marshmallows on top for a festive welcome or after-dinner drink. Also, your house will smell amazing.

$28 per bottle.

SEDONA ARTISTS

Ancient redstone formations and desert grasslands are in stark contrast with the colorful canyons and lush evergreen forests in this enchanting town that has attracted artists from around the world since the late 1940s when surrealist artists Max Ernst and Dorothea Tanning made Sedona their home. Nestled between the Red Rocks and Oak Creek Canyon, Sedona remains a Mecca for painters, sculptors, glass blowers, weavers, writers, photographers, musicians, and other artists who are drawn to and draw inspiration from, its natural beauty and close-knit community.

Included in this article are some of the many talented individuals who call Sedona their home. Each has a different story and artistic approach. They all have heeded the call of this magical town in the Verde Valley between Yavapai and Coconino Counties and have made Tlaquepaque Arts and Shopping Village a home for their work.

JACQUELINE JACKSON

CERAMIC ARTIST

Jacqueline, who grew up in Sedona, is a fourth generation Arizonan. The home of her grandparents, Walter and Ruth Jordan, is now the Sedona Heritage Museum and open to visitors. Her hand-built ceramic pieces reflect the complex beauty around her; a mixing of textures, patterns, carving and hand-painted images that become functional works of art.

A ROMANTIC FALL WEDDING

Anna Jaramillo and Jeremy Miller (now Jeremy Jaramillo) visited Sedona often, loving its natural beauty, especially in the fall. They always spent time at Tlaquepaque, enchanted by its beautiful fountains, cute shops, and cobblestone pathways. Even before they were married there on November 8, 2019, they found it an incredibly romantic location. The guests who joined them for this memorable event thought so too. Their ceremony took place under the ivy-covered arches of Patio de las Campañas, followed by a fun-filled reception on Calle Independencia. Anna notes, “We enjoyed every minute of the day, from the beautiful ceremony with the wind and leaves flowing around us to the twinkling lights that lit up our reception.” Guests who came from around the world were not disappointed. “They thought it was one of the most romantic and enjoyable weddings they had ever been to,” Anna says, noting she too can’t wait to visit Tlaquepaque and Sedona again.

“A beautiful, incredibly quaint setting.”

SAVE THE DATES

TLAQUEPAQUE KNOWS HOW TO PUT ON A SPECTACULAR CELEBRATION! ALTHOUGH WE ARE FORGOING MANY OF OUR ANNUAL CELEBRATIONS THIS YEAR TO ENSURE THE HEALTH AND SAFETY OF OUR VISITORS AND LOCAL COMMUNITY, SAVE THE DATES IN 2021. WE'LL SEE YOU THEN.

DAY OF THE DEAD

Known as “Old Souls Day,” Dia de los Muertos, is a millennial-old, Mexican holiday celebrating lost loved ones. It is now observed worldwide, including here at Tlaquepaque Arts & Shopping Village. This event has been lauded as the best in the southwest.

Traditional Day of the Dead decor and altars (ofrendas) transform Tlaquepaque’s patios, streets, and fountains in magical spaces. Come walk the grounds, dance, and celebrate with others as you enjoy music and entertainment, jugglers, acrobats, aerial artists, and fire dancers.

The wearing of Day of the Dead costumes is strongly recommended for those of all ages. Each year, visitors get more and more elaborate with the outfits they make and wear, from the eerie to the elegant. Special activities for kids include sugar skull making and Day-of-the-Dead motif face painting. Artisan booths are set up vending Day-of-the-Dead merchandise and food.

LUMINARIAS: FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS

A 48-year-old tradition this is one of Tlaquepaque's signature holiday events. Know also as farolitos, luminarias are traditional Mexican Christmas lanterns.

We bring this event to you to delight in the holiday spirit and wish you and your loved ones peace and joy. Stop by the village for an afternoon of holiday music, entertainment, and the lighting at dusk of over 6000 luminarias lining our walls, streets, and cobblestone pathways.

Luminarias is a free event, open to all ages. Adults, teens, and supervised children are welcome to assist in the lighting of the lanterns.

CINCO DE MAYO

Join us for our annual festival celebrating Mexico's rich culture and heritage. Enjoy the rhythm of Flamenco and Latin beats, the mariachi sounds, and the colorful swirls of dancers performing throughout our village.

Cinco de Mayo—which translates to the Fifth of May—marks Mexico's surprise 1862 victory over the French at the Battle of Puebla during the Franco-Mexican war. It has become a highly celebrated holiday in the United States and one of our most spirited events.

Activities for children include face painting and the breaking of the piñata. Traditional dishes and treats are available for purchase from local vendors.

FLOYD'S

CORNER

TLAQUEPAQUE IS A PET-FRIENDLY ENVIRONMENT

Our mascot, the golden retriever Floyd, can often be seen tail wagging as he makes the rounds of our courtyards and patios, greeting visitors and ensuring that all is well.

He and the staff of Tlaquepaque want to remind you that pets are welcome on our grounds and should not be left in your cars, especially during the warmer months. However, they must be kept on a leash at all times for their safety and that of our other guests.

Thank you and we hope to see you soon!
