New Small Business Services: PRINT DESIGN

SFCDMA President Henry Karnilowicz with
The San Francisco Mayor, The Honorable Ed Lee

Greetings from the SFCDMA President, Henry Karnilowicz

As President of the Council of District Merchants Associations I welcome all of you to this celebration.

The attraction of small businesses is a big reason for visitors to come to our fair City, and they are also part of the diverse cultural fabric of our community.

We are dedicated to doing what we love, and through that we provide employment and contribute financially to many of the services that the City provides.

I am truly proud of all of our small businesses and just want to say thank you for all that you do, the sacrifices you make, and the enrichment you bring to our community.

SFCDMA is made up of merchants associations from throughout the city of San Francisco.

Our members represent a variety of local businesses including an eclectic mix of food and drink, salons, spas, healers, shopping, schools, business services, entertainment and more.

San Francisco Council of District Merchants Associations

Over the past sixty years, the Council has distinguished itself by drawing together the disparate merchants associations in the neighborhood commercial districts of San Francisco. Together, they have advocated for street lighting, traffic control, parking, and legislation to improve the business climate in the City.

Our members represent a variety of local businesses including and eclectic mix of food and drink, salons, spas, healers, shopping, schools, business services, entertainment and more.

Our Mission is to protect, preserve, and promote small businesses in San Francisco.

2014 Visitor's Map

Dogpatch is a neighborhood in transition. It maintains an offbeat, quaint appeal, dating back to its working-class roots, while welcoming artists, micro-manufacturing, & startup businesses to its dockside warehouses and factories. The historic district is home to some of the city's oldest structures and Victorian cottages as well as a new breed of shops, restaurants, cafes, and bars. We welcome you to our neighborhood and all the best that it has.
