Danielle Wales is well known for her appearance on The Block 2012 and The Block All-Stars in 2013.

Dani and her partner Daniel Reilly are known to everybody as Dan and Dani, and have shown over the course of two exciting renovations to be fantastic designers and renovators. Dani in particular has demonstrated a natural flair for designing contemporary livable spaces, and her houses in South Melbourne and Bondi have been universally recognised as stylish and beautifully resolved.

Dani, who has a background in banking, is from Townsville, but now lives in inner city Melbourne. After 2 years of working on The Block, Dani is now fully committed to a career in design, property and development.

The Home Journal is her first venture after The Block, and as Dani states, the ambition for The Home Journal is to create "a unique online magazine that will showcase all things about the modern lifestyle and the homes that we live in."

In 2015 Dani became the co-host of a home and lifestyle show Healthy Homes Australia on the TEN Network.

Dani's focus for the magazine will be on inspirational design and decoration that is accessible, local and reflective of the places that inspire her and her readers. It is important to her that "we showcase the best interior design and architecture, new trends in colour, furniture and outdoor living."

An important feature of The Home Journal is the ability to "provide you with resources to help you create that beautiful home. Adding to this, The Home Journal follows house renovations from design, construction all the way to the decoration, giving you the insights on the process, the pitfalls and the tips on how to do it right."
