I'd Rather Be A Donut

Lyrics by Jeremy Fisher

I'd rather be a donut than a hole
I'd rather be a donut than a hole
I'd rather be sweet
than the part you don't eat
I'd rather be a donut than a hole

I'd rather be water than a drain
I'd rather be water than a drain
I'd rather be a drink than the bottom of a sink
I'd rather be water than a drain

Whoa-oh-oh-oh

I'd rather be the moon than space
I'd rather be the moon than space
I'd rather be something than a whole lotta nothing
I'd rather be the moon than space

Whoa-oh-oh-oh

I'd rather be a donut than a hole
I'd rather be a donut than a hole
I'd rather be sweet
than the part you don't eat
I'd rather be a donut than a hole

Peanut Butter Sandwiches

Lyrics by Paul Stock

If you believe in peanut butter sandwiches
And I believe in peanut butter sandwiches
And we believe in peanut butter sandwiches
We should all be friends 'coz

Friends share everything together
Good or bad, even stormy weather
Baseball cards and ballerina shoes
Friends help friends lose the blues

If you believe in making up nicknames
And I believe in making up nicknames
And we believe in making up nicknames
We should all be friends (how come?) 'coz

Chorus

If you believe in playing harmonica
And I believe in playing harmonica
And we believe in playing harmonica
We should all be friends (how come?) 'coz

Chorus

If you believe in peanut-free sandwiches
And I believe in peanut-free sandwiches
And we believe peanut-free sandwiches
We should all be friends (how come?) 'coz

Chorus

Mother

Lyrics by Jeremy Fisher

Mother you brought me here
You gave me everything
That I hold dear

Mother was I your dream?
Some kind of nightmare
Or something in between?

Life is so strange
Oh, but it's amazing

I'm half the man of my father
I could never fill his shoes
Oh but mother the other
Half of me is you

Mother I have your smile
Of all the things I stole

However old I grow
I will always be your child

Mother you must be tired
You are my daylight
And the moon in my sky

Life is so strange
Oh, but it's amazing

I'm half the man of my father
Oh but mother the other
Half of me is you

Say E when you brush the front
Say E brush along your gums
Say E get every tooth
Say E that's all you gotta do

Brush brush brush
Brush your teeth
You gotta brush brush brush
to get 'em clean
twice a day
seven days a week
Brush brush brush
Brush your teeth

Say AH when you brush the back
Say AH brush away the plaque
Say AH get the bottom and the top
Say AH - AH - AH - AH

Brush brush brush
Brush your teeth
twice a day
seven days a week
Brush brush brush
Brush your teeth

Let's brush!

Say I want the dental floss
Say I am the dental boss Say I am going in between Say I will get my big mouth clean

Bizzy Bee

Lyrics by Jeremy Fisher

You got a yellow jacket with black stripes
You got a little stinger but you don't bite
You live in the kingdom of the Queen Bee
One big honeycomb family

All day long, working so hard, buzz your song

Bizzy, bizzy, bizzy, bizzy. bizzy, bizzy bee
Visit all the flowers that you can see
Makin' all the honey, puttin' apples on the trees

One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight
Get your feet wet and pollinate
From the watermelon to the grape vine
You make the summer time come alive

All day long working so hard, buzz your little song buzz, buzz, buzz, buzz

BUZZ! BUZZ!

Before You Go

Lyrics by Jeremy Fisher

I want to thank you
I feel better

And I hope
You enjoyed our time together
