Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

November 19, 2017

Blessed are you who fear the LORD.

— Psalm 128:1a

Good stewards are like the industrious and reliable servants in today's Gospel, prudently using and multiplying the gifts entrusted to them by God.

TODAY'S READINGS

Psalm — Blessed are those who fear the Lord (Psalm 128).

Second Reading — Brothers and sisters, you are children of the light (1 Thessalonians 5:1-6).

Gospel — To all those who have, more will be given, and they will have an abundance (Matthew 25:14-30 [14-15, 19-21]).

PHILOSOPHY OF STEWARDSHIP

Stewardship is about relationship. First our relationship with God, from whom all blessings flow. In right relationship, we put God at the very center, every other relationship settles into its right place, including:

Our relationship with our time, talents and treasures. We don't own our time, it's given to us to use wisely as we walk on the earth. Most people find it easy to think of time in this way, but it's harder to think of talents and treasures as things we don't own, aren't entitled to and have no right to hoard.

Our relationship to the earth. The earth is God's, and produces an abundance of the essentials for our lives: Food, water, air, resources for keeping warm and building shelter. The earth belongs to God but is entrusted to us to use. Stewardship involves thoughtful consumption of resources so all will have enough and the processes that sustain life will not be harmed.

Our relationship to others. Jesus commanded us to love God first, and then our neighbor as ourselves. In a world where greed, anger, hatred and selfishness abound, Stewardship calls us to embrace God's love more fully, that we may embrace others.

Stewardship is a journey. Like all faith disciplines, Stewardship takes awareness, prayer and practice. -Quoted-

"Stewardship is the grateful response of a Christian disciple who recognizes and receives God gift's and shares these gifts in love of God and neighbor."
