HOW ENKEL TRANSFORMED MINERVA BC'S BACK OFFICE

As a non-profit charitable organization, Minerva BC supports women and girls in British Columbia, helping them gain the confidence and skills they need to reach their leadership potential. Minerva BC is on a mission to ensure equality for women in every facet of society—business, community, and government.

THE NEED

Minerva BC approached Enkel in the spring of 2017, wanting to leverage technology to boost the efficiency of their back office processes.

HOW ENKEL HELPED

As a result of being a not-for-profit organization, Minerva BC is required to comply with specific financial reporting regulations. Enkel built a system for accounts payables, bookkeeping, cash flow analysis and monthly reporting that not only provides clear and accurate visibility into the organization's financials, but also simplifies team responsibilities, empowering employees and volunteers to focus on their important work.

“Enkel helped us streamline and modernize our finance function. We love the digital tools they introduced – we are spending less time managing receipts and expense reports and more time delivering on our mission. Most importantly, Enkel improved our monthly and quarterly financial reporting processes. Better reporting enables team members to make better programming decisions, and provides the Board with greater clarity about the organization's current status.

KEY CHALLENGES

Inefficient Accounting Processes

The use of a desktop accounting software and paper receipt management resulted in a poor record of source documentation, slowing down audits and the monthly bookkeeping process.

Revenue Recognition

Some of Minerva BC's programs straddled around the year end, which meant that some of their revenue needed to be partially recognized and partially deferred.

Board Reporting

Without the proper records tracking, Minerva BC could not show a clear financial overview of their operations to the board, resulting in the board being unable to make informed decisions.

HOW ENKEL HELPED MINERVA BC

Risk Management

Enkel now manages Minerva BC's bookkeeping, allowing them to operate without an in-house accounting team, keeping Minerva BC's processes moving, protecting them from the risks of staff fluctuations, allowing them to focus on internal priorities.

Modernized Tools & Processes

Enkel modernized Minerva BC's accounting systems with digital solutions to simplify mundane tasks. Apps like Receipt Bank provides Minerva BC with the ability to easily upload corporate expenses while apps like Expensify allows Minerva BC to set approvals for employee expenses.

Reporting Accountability

Enkel developed a monthly financial reporting in collaboration with Minerva BC's CEO and provides Minerva BC's board members with visibility into current revenue and expenses, enabling them to make informed decisions.

THE RESULT

Minerva BC is now operating without an in-house accounting team, and can comfortably rely on our partnership for simple, modernized bookkeeping processes. We're proud to provide the Minerva BC team with both accounting support and peace of mind. With the knowledge that their revenues are correctly recognized and statements are accurately reported, Minerva BC can continue to develop impactful programs for British Columbia's future leaders.
