Academic Writer and Your Learning Management System
This handout provides an overview of the available LTI integration for institutional site license customers.

Learning Tools Interoperability® (LTI) is a standard created by the IMS Global Learning Consortium that links content and resources to learning management systems (LMSs), portals, and learning object repositories.

With LTI integration, you can
- Provide access to Academic Writer directly from your LMS course and
- Embed learning objects—such as videos and samples—in course modules.

Getting Started
An LMS administrator must set up the initial LTI integration before you can add platform and content links to a course. Talk to your campus LMS administrator to find out if LTI integration is set up for your campus. If you have administrator rights for your LMS and would like to set up LTI integration for your campus, contact us at academicwriter@apa.org. Please specify which LMS and version you use.

Accessing Academic Writer
Academic Writer LTI integration is designed to provide access to the Academic Writer homepage. You can use the tools in your LMS to add a link to Academic Writer in any course module.

The example above (from Blackboard) shows the link to Academic Writer in the Course Tools folder of the Content area of the course. The process for adding Academic Writer to courses will vary by LMS. Refer to our LMS-specific documentation, your LMS administrator, or instructional technology department if you need more information about how to add it to your course.
Embedding Academic Writer Content
Set up your own Academic Writer Content Selection Page to preview content then easily embed it in course modules.

In addition to quick guides, the Content Selection Page provides links for embedding tutorials, self-quizzes, and sample papers, references, tables, and figures.

If you are not sure which learning object you would like to add to your course, use the Preview button to view the content. Then use the Show Link button to copy the LTI embed link. Navigate to the course module where you want to embed the content and use the copied link in the appropriate location.

The process for adding LTI links will vary by LMS. Refer to our LMS-specific documentation, your LMS administrator, or instructional technology department if you need more information about how to add the link to your course.
Academic Writer Accounts
An account is required to use Academic Writer through your LMS. Regardless of your role (LMS administrator, faculty, or student), you will be prompted to create an account (or log in using your existing account) the first time you select an Academic Writer link in the LMS. (This is for the first time only; you will not be asked to log in again when accessing Academic Writer in your LMS.)

Contact Us
APA Customer Engagement provides training and support for Academic Writer and other products from APA Publishing.

Academic Writer Customer Engagement
academicwriter@apa.org
800-374-2722 or 202-336-5725
TDD/TTY 202-336-6123