Accessing APA Publication Manual Content
This handout shows how to view content from the APA Publication Manual (6th ed.) in the Learning and Writing Centers in Academic Writer.

The Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association® was first published in 1929 as a set of style guidelines for researchers submitting manuscripts for publication. Today, the APA Publication Manual has been widely adopted by students and professionals in the social and behavioral sciences.

Search the Learning Center
In the Learning Center, each of the quick guides is associated with one or more APA Style guidelines. You can search or browse the quick guides to access Publication Manual content. (Tutorials may also be rooted in Publication Manual content but go beyond APA Style guidelines to include broader research and writing topics.)

Use the search box to enter your search term; for example, running head.
Select Show Details for a video quick guide or tutorial to see its description and thumbnail image for video playback. When the Showing Details pane is open, links to any related Publication Manual sections appear in the Learn More section.

The selected link will open the Publication Manual section with related content in a new window or tab, depending on your browser settings.
Browse the Learning Center
From the Learning Center’s main page, use the Go to Quick Guides button to browse all quick guides.
