A highly detailed black and white line drawing of a decorative border. The border is symmetrical and features a variety of floral and scrollwork motifs. At the top, there are small, repeating floral patterns. The middle section is dominated by large, stylized flowers with multiple layers of petals and intricate centers. The bottom section features larger, more complex floral designs, including what appears to be a large rose or similar flower with a spiral center. The entire border is composed of fine lines and small circular accents, creating a dense and ornate frame.
