10.5 Parental Involvement

Safeguarding and Welfare Requirement: Information and Records

Abbots Langley Pre-School must maintain records and obtain and share information to ensure the safe and efficient management of the Pre-School, and to help ensure the needs of all children are met.

Policy Statement

We believe that children benefit most from early years education and care when parents and Pre-Schools work together in partnership.

Our aim is to support parents as their children's first, and most important educators, by involving them in their children's education and in the full life of the Pre-School. We also aim to support parents in their own continuing education and personal development.

Some parents are less well represented in early years Pre-Schools; these include fathers, parents who live apart from their children but who still play a part in their lives as well as working parents. In carrying out the following procedures, we will ensure all parents are included.

When we refer to 'parents' we mean both mothers and fathers; these include both natural or birth parents as well as step-parents and parents who do not live with their children, but have contact with them and play a part in their lives. 'Parents' also includes same sex parents as well as foster parents.

The Children's Act (1989) defines parental responsibility as 'all the rights, duties, powers and responsibilities and authority which by law a parent of a child has in relation to the child and his property. (For a full explanation of who has parental responsibility, refer to the Pre-School Learning Alliance's Safeguarding Children publication.)

Procedures

- Parents are made to feel welcome in our Pre-School; they are greeted appropriately, there is adult seating and provision for refreshment.
- We have a means to ensure all parents are included - that may mean that we have different strategies for involving fathers, or parents who work or live apart from their children.
- We make every effort to accommodate parents who have a disability or impairment.
- We consult with all parents to find out what works best for them.
- We ensure on-going dialogue with parents to improve our knowledge of the needs of their children and to support their families.
- We inform all parents about how the setting is run and its policies, through access to written information, including our Safeguarding Children and Child Protection policy and our responsibilities under the Prevent Duty, and through regular informal communication. We check to ensure parents understand the information that is given to them.
- Information about a child and his or her family is kept confidential within Abbots Langley Pre-School. We provide you with a privacy notice that details how and why we process your personal information. The exception to this is where there is cause to believe that a child may be suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm, or where there are concerns regarding child's development that need to be shared with another agency. We will seek parental permission unless there are reasons not to in order to protect the safety of the child. Reference is made to our Information Sharing Policy on seeking consent for disclosure.
- We seek specific parental consent to administer medication, take a child for emergency treatment, take a child on an outing and take photographs for the purposes of record keeping.
- The expectations that we make on parents are made clear at the point of registration.
- We make clear our expectation that parents will participate in settling their child at the commencement of a place according to an agreed plan if required.
- We seek parents' views regarding changes in the delivery of our service.

There are opportunities for parents to take active roles in supporting their child's learning in the Pre-School: informally through helping out or taking part in activities with their child, or through structured projects engaging parents and staff in learning about children's learning.
