Summer 2014

You may have heard by now that Sol Levinson & Bros. has a new office in Howard County. This issue is (mostly) about the new Levinson's resources available to families in that area. We also have taken the opportunity to include a little information on Rebecca Madden, who keeps our office running and is one of the members of our staff you are likely to speak with when you call here.

If you have any feedback or requests for future article topics, please let us know by sending an email to enewsletter@sollevinson.com or by calling 410-653-8900.

Plan Ahead

In Jewish tradition, the funeral or burial does not represent a completion, but a beginning. It is the beginning of the important and complicated process of grieving. Whether you are interested in learning more about some of the helpful Jewish bereavement practices, or need support and a chance to talk, Levinson's has one of the most comprehensive aftercare programs of any funeral home in the country.

Our new location in Howard County reaffirms our commitment to these valuable resources. Please take a look at our specific Howard County offerings to learn more.

Meet Our "Family": Rebecca Madden, Office Manager, Four years at Levinson's

Rebecca Madden is the glue that holds our office together, and if you have called here at any point in the past 4 1/2 years, you have probably spoken with her. With a background in banking, Rebecca was very surprised that Sol Levinson & Bros. is where she was led in life. But now she will gladly tell you: "What I love most about my job is that I work with people who share my passion for service, and compassion for the families we serve."

Rebecca is also very proud of her two adult children and grand-dog.
