Baltimore Sun 2018 Top Workplaces Award

For the 5th year in a row, Sol Levinson & Bros. is thrilled to have been nominated as one of Baltimore's Top Workplaces! Our employees love working for a family-owned company and look forward to coming to work every day, as evidenced by their continued support for us in this annual survey of local businesses.

Our employees have some amazing things to say about working here, such as "What I love most about my job is that I work with people who share my passion for service, and compassion for the families we serve." So we thought we'd share some more of their quotes with you here.

Who Typically Serves as a Pallbearer?

Serving as a pallbearer is a great honor. Jewish tradition dictates who typically would and would not serve as a pallbearer. This will also be influenced by a family's level of observance.

Check out our blog for information on who would serve as a pallbearer, the various roles for different types of pallbearers, and how pallbearers receive instruction. You can also always ask your funeral director or rabbi for guidance.

Meet our "Family": Jason Abosch, Funeral Director and Business Manager, 3 Years at Levinson's

Jason Abosch joined the staff of Sol Levinson & Bros. in 2015, becoming the Business Manager and a funeral director. As Business Manager, Jason is responsible for helping with employee benefits, ensuring Levinson's is complying with ever-changing employment regulations, and overseeing some of our staff. As a funeral director, Jason meets with families to arrange funerals, is responsible for seeing that all the details of those funerals go smoothly from beginning to end, and meets with families who take advantage of our Advance Planning program. Jason says about his work at Levinson's, "I love the opportunity to help people get through a difficult time, and it's nice to be a part of something bigger than yourself."

Jason is a 4th generation Baltimorean and graduated from Pikesville High. He then got his Bachelor's Degree in Accounting from Towson University and his MBA from the University of Baltimore. Before becoming a funeral director, he worked in the financial services industry for 18 years as a Certified Financial Planner, specializing in insurance and personal finance. Jason's background is an obvious asset to Levinson's, but his demeanor and devotion to families' needs is what makes him a great fit.

In his spare time, Jason enjoys spending time with his wife and their dog, traveling, playing drums, and cheering on the Orioles and Ravens. He is a member of Beth El Congregation and the Pikesville Chamber of Commerce, and a former board member of the Kennedy Krieger Institute and the Financial Planning Association of Maryland.
