

Hello Families and Fellow Customers,

The Impact of the COVID-19 is being felt worldwide. We Haul Nashville appreciates your willingness to use our services even in these hard times. Everyday there is new information regarding Health, Safety and Businesses. We are continuing to operate during the “Safer at Home Order” by using safe precautions. We Haul Nashville take extensive measures to protect employees and customers from exposure to coronavirus. This includes enhanced cleaning and following WHO (World Health Organization) and CDC guidelines. Our movers will continue washing their hands as frequently as possible. Especially when transitioning from one home to the next.

We Haul Nashville would like to ask you, our supporting community, to keep our movers in mind. We are being exposed to your personal space and would ask that your homes are disinfected to the best of your ability. We understand that the moving process can be anxiety provoking. Help us help you by using safe healthy practices, so our guys can effectively take the load off you.
