Huddle Introduction & Definition:

“Huddle” is a term that FCA has used since 1966 to describe a certified small group Bible study for coaches and athletes. FCA Endurance Huddles are simply FCA Huddles (chapters) with an endurance sports focus. Most FCA Endurance Huddles are made up of adult endurance athletes, although some also include student-athletes as well. FCA Endurance Huddles are Biblical relational environments in which discipleship takes place through fellowship, Bible Study, and service/outreach.

Part of ONE Global Ministry:

FCA Endurance Huddles operate in a specific geographic location and have significant flexibility in programming, style, and administration. However, it is important to note that they are not a separate ministry in and of themselves. Rather, they are a small, yet significant, part of ONE global ministry team, made up of individuals and Huddles from around the world, united in purpose, strategy, and name.

Huddle Leaders: Intro & Job Description

FCA Endurance Huddle Leaders are first and foremost disciples of Jesus. They are men and women committed to following Jesus, to being changed by Jesus, and to accomplishing the mission of Jesus. By definition, they are disciple-makers.

Within FCA Endurance, Huddle Leaders are ministry volunteers called and committed to making disciples of Jesus within their endurance community. Following the Biblical example of leadership, a Huddle Leader is a servant. Through their service, they intentionally create relational environments within their endurance communities where discipleship can take place.

Huddle Formation: The Process

The steps for Huddle formation are listed below. Details for each step follow the list.

1. Pray
2. Research - Explore Huddles
 - Review the Huddle Guide & Website
 - Ensure Adequate Margin for Committed Service
3. Contact Your Local Staff Member
 - Set-up a phone call or meeting to explore launching a new Endurance Huddle
 - Find your staff member: <http://www.fca.org/quick-links/find-local-staff>
4. Certify the Leaders
 - Potential leaders complete FCA’s Ministry Leadership Application (MLA)
 - Review your MLA and discuss Huddle formation with your local staff member
 - Local staff review and approve/deny MLA’s

5. Prepare
 - Submit Draft Huddle Launch Plan to your local staff member
 - Recruit at least 2 other core Huddle members who will participate in Huddle ministry
 - Explore FCA Endurance huddle resources - <https://fcaendurance.org/>
 - Submit Final Huddle Launch Plan to your local staff member
6. Certify the Huddle
7. Launch
8. Consider additional Discipleship Training in the first year of Huddle Certification (see discipleship training resources on the website.)

Huddle Formation: Step 1. Pray

Seek the Lord's will for you and your endurance community. Ask Him to affirm your calling, equip you for this role, and work through you as you serve.

Huddle Formation: Step 2. Research - Explore Huddles

Review the Huddle Guide & Website: Review the information necessary to make an informed decision about the organization you are exploring being a part of and what is expected of you as a ministry volunteer. Go through the content on our website (www.fcaendurance.org/) and read through the entire Huddle Guide.

Ensure Adequate Time Margin: Serving as a Huddle Leader takes time and intentionality. While not overly exhaustive, successful impact often depends on demonstrated commitment over time. If you have 5 minutes a week, your Huddle will struggle to be fruitful. Do you have an hour each week to commit to building relationships, marketing the Huddle, communication, and planning? Prayerfully assess your availability and how much of a priority you can make serving. To experience joy and fruitfulness, you'll need to commit adequate time to serving those you desire to impact.

Huddle Formation: Step 3. Contact Your Local Staff Member

Set-up a Call or Meeting: The Fellowship of Christian Athletes has staff members positioned around the country to develop and oversee FCA's ministries within their areas. Your local staff member will help you explore launching a new Huddle and be your primary contact as you serve. Schedule a time to connect with this individual to share your heart and desire, and to receive council regarding the best way to proceed in ministry together.

Find Your Local Staff Member: www.fca.org/quick-links/find-local-staff

Huddle Formation: Step 4. Certify the Leaders

Complete a Ministry Leadership Application: Any volunteer interested in representing FCA in an official capacity, including leadership roles such as an Endurance Huddle Leader, must have an approved Ministry Leadership Application (MLA) on file. The MLA allows FCA to get to know the applicant and ensures that our leaders are minimally qualified to lead and represent FCA in an official capacity. MLA's are submitted online here: <https://mla.fca.org/apply>

MLA Review and Approval Decision: Once your MLA has been submitted, your local staff member should contact you in order to review your MLA and further discuss your role within FCA. If you have not heard back from them within one week after submitting your MLA, it may be wise to follow-up with them to ensure they got it.

Huddle Formation: Step 5. Prepare to Launch

The following best practices will help you be successful in launching your new Huddle:

Submit a Draft Huddle Launch Plan. The Huddle Launch Plan (p. 10) is a series of questions that will help you explore your local ministry opportunities and plan the action steps you'll take to impact your endurance community for Christ. Prayerfully complete this form and share it with your local staff member for feedback and support.

Recruit at Least 2 Other Core Huddle Members. By definition, a Huddle is a group. Before you move forward, we want to be sure you've got some committed partners to join you in your Huddle efforts and activities. These core members do NOT need to be co-leaders (no MLA needed) but simply endurance athletes in your community who are committed to participating in Huddle activities. It is also encouraged that they be Teammates of FCA Endurance (www.fcaendurance.org/join).

Invest in Huddle Start up Resources. As you begin inviting others to join you in our mission, we encourage investing in a few resources that will help you succeed in sharing the vision and recruiting additional members. We invite the Huddle to cover the $75 cost of these resources. As a non-profit ministry dependent upon ministry donations for our operation, we need committed Teammates to invest financially in our work. This includes covering ministry resource costs. However, if helping cover these costs creates any financial hardships for the Huddle and its members, please contact your local staff member to discuss other available options. The contents of this starter kit (see below) can also be edited as desired by the Huddle Leader. (<https://fcaendurance.org/resources>)

| Item | Qty | Cost Each | Total |
|-----------------|-----|-----------|---------|
| Brochures | 50 | $0.06 | $3.00 |
| Web Cards | 100 | $0.03 | $3.00 |
| Tri Check-lists | 15 | $0.15 | $2.25 |
| Tattoos | 25 | $0.05 | $1.25 |
| Running Tracts | 4 | $0.25 | $1.00 |
| Tri Tracts | 4 | $0.25 | $1.00 |
| Team Bible | 1 | $6.95 | $6.95 |
| Bracelets | 30 | $0.30 | $9.00 |
| 3x6 Banner | 1 | $45.00 | $45.00 |
| | | | |
| Shipping (est.) | | | $24.00 |
| FCA Cost | | | $96.45 |
| Cost to Huddle | | | $75.00 |

Submit Final Huddle Launch Plan: After additional thought, prayer, and feedback from your core members and local staff member; you should have a plan ready to execute. Submit this plan to your local staff member for additional feedback and support.

Huddle Formation: Step 6. Certify the Huddle

When you're ready to launch and the above have all been taken care of, please contact your local staff person (same person who approved your MLA), requesting that they certify the Huddle.

Certification lasts 1-year and expires on August 31. All certification costs are covered through FCA Staff budgets and generous FCA donors who support our mission financially.

The last topic of Huddle certification is naming the Huddle. While we hate to squash creativity, we have established a pattern that helps us easily track endurance Huddles within the FCA database. As such, your Huddle will be named: "FCA Endurance – [fill in geographical area here]". Regarding the geographic area, you are free to choose whatever you wish, but we will refer to your huddle in terms that others will easily understand. For example, the "FCA Endurance - Inland NW" Huddle means something to those who live there, but nothing to everyone else. For this reason, we refer to it as the Coeur d'Alene Huddle.

Once the Huddle has been certified, it can be added to our national Huddle map. Please have your local staff person contact Chris Anderson to have it added.

Huddle Formation: Step 7. Launch the Huddle

If you've gotten to this step, you now have a certified Huddle with at least one recognized servant leader, two core members, the ministry resources, and an approved plan. Your next step is to move the Huddle from recognized to reality through executing your plan. As you move through this plan, please know that help is available through FCA staff, Endurance volunteers, our website, other Huddle Leaders, and the Huddle Guide. Please see page 8 for resource help.

Lastly, as you begin to execute your local ministry plan, we simply remind you of the goal...

Your Huddle exists to create biblical relational environments that will result in people growing as disciples. Be aware – distractions are everywhere! May the Lord protect our vision and mission, and may we faithfully accomplish His plan through your new Huddle!

For additional information regarding Huddle Meeting and activities, please review our complete Huddle Guide, downloadable from our website: <https://fcaendurance.org/huddles>

Huddle Formation: Step 8. Complete Discipleship Training

One of your primary roles as a Huddle Leader is that of a disciple-maker. As such, we want to make sure that you have the training necessary to both grow as a disciple and effectively model disciple-making within your Huddle. We request that you complete some type of training in this within your first year of service if you haven't already. Discipleship training can be completed through your local church (as applicable) or local FCA staff office.
