

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Let me just start by saying, these products are everything I want in my beauty products and nothing I don't want. They are vegan and cruelty free, they do not contain parabens, synthetic fragrances, artificial colors or dyes, sodium lauryl sulfate, DEA (Cocamide Diethanolamine) or petrolatum. They use therapeutic grade essential oils and their containers are biodegradable. These products come in three varieties, rosemary mint, lavender and unscented. I was lucky enough to sample all three. The rosemary mint is personally my favorite but they are all wonderful. When I used the 3-in-1 (shampoo, conditioner and body wash) I couldn't believe how soft and clean my hair felt. It produces quite a lather for being sulfate free. I need the lather to feel like my hair is clean. I have used several 3-in-1 type products and none of them have ever left my hair feeling as soft as Seebinger Hemp 3-in-1, not to mention the rosemary mint scent is very refreshing for your morning shower. The premium lotion is perfect to layer on after using the body wash. Living in Colorado, I have to use lotion everyday to avoid developing crocodile skin. This lotion is great. It comes in an easy to use pump bottle. My skin feels soft for hours after application. I love these products! If you are like me, you might want to know what type of company you are purchasing from. Seebinger Hemp is a member of The Hemp Industries Association and PETA. All Seebinger products are manufactured in the USA. www.premium-hempbodycare.com
