As a female athlete, what are some pressures that you face?

What affects your courage, confidence, and clarity?

What are you going to shift or pivot from as you allow your “Identity to be in the Trinity?”

How can you trust God in the process of not allowing your worth to be based on your performance?

How can you hold yourself accountable as you seek personal growth?