Parkwood Memsletter Sanuary 2020

Thank you to all PARKWOOD residents, and best wishes for 2020. We appreciate so many of you who are so gracious to our family and the onsite team. I certainly look forward to seeing many of you at the "Welcome the New Year" luncheon on the 7^{th} . Hosting that luncheon is just one of the ways we like to say thank you.

We know the notice we were required by new laws to send you about the possibility of selling the community was disconcerting. We apologize for that; we were simply complying with the law. Although we are approached several times each month by regional and national institutions desiring to purchase the community, we tell them all, "NO!" We prefer to keep PARKWOOD as a friendly community with affordable rents. Thank you also that your rent allows us to give back to help children in several ways. You can see details at the "giving back" section at www.parkwoodcommunity.com

We pledge in 2020 to continue to work hard to earn your business by keeping all the facilities in great condition, and providing you excellent service. We thank you also for continuing to value PARKWOOD living, by proper care of your homes and safeguarding the friendly ambiance. We especially appreciate your concern for and helpfulness toward your neighbors; it's a big part of what makes PARKWOOD unique and special.

New Years Celebration Reminder January 7, 2020 at 1pm

Join us at John Wayne Marina to celebrate the new year and enjoy a delicious catered lunch together.

As we welcome in 2020 we can look back in time at 1920...100 years ago in Sequim.

In 1920 most roads of Sequim were dirt made by early Native and pioneer trails — and often hub-deep mud — so it was a major improvement for local transportation when the first paved route opened in 1920, now the Old Olympic Highway. This eased the work of transporting milk from the local dairy farms for the daily shipment to Seattle. The population was 402. The downtown core of Sequim grew west on Washington Street. Among the stores were a mercantile, cafe, billiards parlor, drugstore, Ford garage, shoe repair shop, meat market, tire store and gasoline station. The Sequim Prairie Hospital opened on Washington Street and Joe Keeler sold the Keeler Water System to the town in 1922 for $17,000. A dinner at the Sinclair Hotel cost 35 Cents.

Bird Watching in Parkwood

As avid birdwatchers, we were not happy to learn that feeding birds here attracts rodents. But without a feeder, we've seen 33 species in our immediate neighborhood. We've also realized that feeders can harm birds. A young house finch with a badly deformed bill last summer broke our hearts because it couldn't eat, due to a virus spread where birds congregate. Because Parkwood is so well-landscaped, birds have what they need to thrive here without feeders. What do they need? Birds need food (supplied by native plants), shelter (shrubs and trees) and water.

We'll talk next month about how to attract birds by meeting those needs, but first a quick list of the birds here in winter. Parkwood is probably the Anna's hummingbird capital of the PNW! But we also host, in winter, golden-crowned sparrow, Cooper's hawk, junco, robin, pine siskin, towhee, song sparrow, doves, Townsend's warbler, CA quail, goldfinch, fox sparrow, varied thrush, house and purple finch, Steller's jay, raven, nuthatch, bushtit, and chestnut-backed and black-capped chickadee. We saw even more here on a single day, 12/16/19, when Parkwood was part of the local Christmas Bird Count. We'll put the CBC list on the Facebook page, and all of us can post future sightings there. So with the money you'll save by not buying seed and suet, invest in a good, lightweight pair of binoculars. (Nikon Aculon 8-24 allows a close look at birds thanks to its zoom.) And from the Audubon Center at Railroad Bridge Park, find the little red BIRDS OF THE PUGET SOUND REGION, COAST TO CASCADES guide. Then watch out the window, walk the neighborhood, or hike the brushy Parkwood trails. Listen and learn calls. We suspect you'll find more of our feathered neighbors than you ever imagined were here.

Meet Your New Neighbor Wes Goldberg!

Hi, my name is Wes Goldberg and I am proud to be a part of the Parkwood Family. I was born & raised in San Diego County, California. I have 4 brothers and one sister. After High School I was drafted into the Army during the Viet Nam War where I was an infantry combat medic. Following my serving in the military I returned to San Diego where I was a fireman for 13 years and then moved to Bakersfield, CA where I was a Fire Captain and Training officer for 5 years. After leaving the fire department I was an elementary teacher for 12 years, an assistant principal for 3 years and a principal for 1 year. I have 2 daughters, one that works for Cal Trans and the other who works through the UN supervising the resettlement of refugees mostly from Africa.

I was an avid backpacker up to my mid 50's...I've backpacked extensively through Africa, Central America, Mexico, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, Vancouver

Island, and the continental United States. I also am a current avid bicyclist. While I was in the fire department I rode from Vancouver, Canada to the San Diego Mexican border twice and while I was a teacher I bicycled from Bangor, Maine to Atlanta, Georgia. During my mid-twenties through my late forties I also ran marathons and half marathons.

I discovered Sequim on my first bicycle trek from Canada to San Diego and fell in love with the area. I have a brother and his wife that live in Sequim and with all of my family gone from SoCal and the heat bothering me more I decided to move up to Sequim to be near family.

YOUR PARKWOOD EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAM

PARKWOOD EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAM (P.E.R.T.) is here for our Community to be prepared for a disaster. C.E.R.T. 19-T-1285

REMEMBER: Preparation through Education is Less Costly than Learning through tragedy.

We, your P.E.R. T. wish all of our residents a bright and promising New Year with Peace and Joy and Good Health. Meet your neighbor and wish them a Happy New Year.

In January of 2020 our first Business Meeting of the New Year will be on the Second Friday, the 10th. We encourage all Residents to attend. Bring your neighbor. Learn how to be prepared in a disaster. Remember: the second Friday of every month is our P.E.R.T. Business Meeting at our Parkwood Clubhouse.

RESIDENT COMMENTS

Thank you to all the creative, hard-working Parkwood residents who have decorated their homes and yards for the holidays. Extra thanks to all who have the decorations lighted in the early morning for us to enjoy on our daily walk.—Barbra, Sharron, Sasha

Thank you for the recent letter on the mail boxes! We appreciate the clarification from the State notices handed out. -Bob

Looking to recycle your live Christmas tree?

- Take it to the Olympic Game Farm, the bears, lions, tigers and cougars love to play with the old trees. Please don't bring any artificial or flocked trees.
 - Lazy J tree farm will take them for their compost and mulch pile.
