

Cornell understands the importance of reliable, safe, clean drinking water in today's environment. Consequently an increasing number of Local and State Governments have come to rely on Cornell to meet their pumping requirements. Cornell's worldwide reputation on reliability was achieved by pumps that provide dependable, efficient and economical operation over time. Split case pumps are available up to 3500 kW and 40".