

“I’ve accomplished more than I ever thought possible”

When a local Employment Services provider referred her to upgrading at Georgian College’s Orillia campus, Lori’s prime focus was to refresh her computer skills and land an office job.

Instead, she chose to work on specific ACE credits in the hopes of becoming a paralegal, opting for completing the ACE Certificate and moving on to postsecondary.

Lori hit the ground running, with determination, when she zeroed in on her goal of graduating with a diploma from the Social Service Worker (SSWK) program.

She seized the opportunity to enrol in a free General Education course while still in the ACP program.

This allowed her to take a college-level class and get a taste of what would be in store for her down the road — while still allowing for support from upgrading.

Lori recently graduated from the SSWK program and hopes to move on to earn a certificate in Addictions: Treatment and Prevention.

“I’ve accomplished more than I ever thought possible... and I’m not stopping now!

Thank you for accelerating my new and exciting career.” □
