To whom it may concern:

Mr. Chips was preparing and planning to build another manufacturing facility in Macon, Georgia. After interviewing several contractors in the attempt to find a qualified General Contractor to work with; Mr. Chips selected Ard Construction Inc. Mr. Chips has a great working relationship with Ard Construction and have worked with Ard for the past 6 years in Macon, Georgia. Mr. Chips has relied on Ard Construction to provide exceptional workmanship in construction management, design build, new construction, renovations, civil engineering and site work.

Ard Construction renovated an existing 120,000 sq. ft building for Mr. Chips, converting it to a food processing plant and warehouse. In addition to the remodel Ard also built a 15,000 sq ft addition and worked with Mr. Chips on various projects for our 36-acer fermentation site. The main projects Ard managed at the fermentation site was paving 17 acers and building a 5,000 sq ft maintenance building.

The most recent job Ard Construction performed was repairing our plant from a fire that shut down production. We called Brandon Ard and he immediately came out to access the damage and started working on repairs the same week. Ard Construction staffed up and worked diligently 7 days a week 24 hours a day for 5 weeks to help get our production facility back online. This was essential to meet our customers demand.

Business is about performance and professional relations; nether can falter to maintain a successful business. I would highly recommend Ard Construction for dependability, professionalism and performance.

Sincerely,

Jay Janicke
