New student-in-residence

The student-in-residence program is an invitation for a college student to live among residents, learn from the community and contribute to the quality of life there. This is the second year for the program at Western Home Communities.

There are plenty of things about Ebony Watkins that indicate she sees life as an unfinished score awaiting her personal flair. She’s the first musician in her family, she earned a student-in-residence position after her freshman year at University of Northern Iowa, she’s learning to sew so she can make her own clothes, and she has the most carefree hairstyle of any woman you’ll meet. She is still trying to master playing the guitar and riding a skateboard, and she’s sharing her apartment with two rescue cats (Milos and Jack).

That’s for starters!

Ebony’s curiosity extends beyond her own lifestyle; she has a keen interest in her new neighbors at Willowwood. “They’re quiet and I appreciate that after a year of living in a residence hall on campus.” She’s exploring the communication skills that will be most helpful in bridging a generation gap between 20 and 80 years of age. She said, “There is communication etiquette that is understood here. I’m learning that and I know it will be useful to me in life.”

She’s attended a resident council meeting and recognizes that her new neighbors’ opinions are varied, they matter, and residents are not reluctant to share them.

She performs in Willowwood and Stanard Family assisted living twice a week. She will expand her leadership of activities after she learns more about residents’ interests and knowledge of music.

Ebony plans to use her music education degree to be an orchestra leader. She enjoys performing in small groups and provided leadership for several ensembles when she was a high school student. Her favorite music is popular music performed on orchestra instruments. “I’ve had to make some of my own arrangements for the newest music,” she admits.

Her motivation to share her music and to make music her career is singular and simple: “Music makes people happy!”
South Cottage renamed to honor donors

Without a formal name, the second nursing cottage opened by Western Home Communities in June 2015 has been known by its position on the map.

Thanks to the generosity of Neal and Jeanne Thuesen, it’s now know as Thuesen Cottage. A celebration marking the change was held June 2, with family, residents and guests.

The idea of “home” is a strong one for Neal and Jeanne. When Western Home Communities first launched the concept of the cottages, Neal realized the potential for creating a home for those who needed their care and wanted to help ensure their success.

Born on a Dike, Iowa, farm, Neal lived in the same home for 80 years, leaving only long enough for two years of Navy service in Japan during the Korean War. Neal and Jeanne ran a successful farm, raised their two children and were active in their church and community, supporting projects one or both felt strongly about, and often in a quiet, behind-the-scenes way. They moved to Windridge Independent Living in 2011.

“Over our 105 years of history as an organization, philanthropic donors have always helped us take the next step in providing innovative care to our residents,” said Jerry Harris, chief operating officer of Western Home Communities. “We’re really pleased and grateful Neal and Jeanne wanted to be part of that tradition in our second century of service.”

When they decided to support the transformation of nursing care at Western Home Communities, the Thuesens never dreamed one of them might eventually enjoy the environment and style of care they helped make possible, yet Neal now finds a home in his namesake cottage. Western Home Communities thanks Neal and Jeanne for helping make possible a home for those who need it most.

Neal and Jeanne Thuesen are surrounded by employees who serve the residents of Thuesen Cottage. Household coordinator Erica Rath, center, holds a plaque that will hang in the entryway of the cottage in honor of the Thuesens.
A gem of a room: Diamond Event Center

As Jorgensen Plaza for Well-Being work makes great strides, an important space within it is also taking shape. The large multipurpose room for worship services, programs, performances, special events and even weddings now has a name. In honor of generous gifts to Western Home Foundation from Saul and Joan Diamond, the space will be called Diamond Event Center.

The Diamonds were well known members of the Western Home and Cedar Falls communities and pioneer residents on Iris Drive, in one of the first villas built.

Joan came to Cedar Falls from Illinois as an assistant professor and elementary librarian at Price Laboratory School in 1957 and stayed there until she retired in 1990. Saul was born in Cedar Falls, working in the family businesses, Diamond Brothers Groceries and Diamond Brothers Warehouse, as well as serving as associate professor of marketing at UNI, retiring in 1991.

Both Diamonds were active and philanthropic leaders in nearly every organization in Cedar Falls – Western Home Development Council, Sartori Hospital, Cedar Falls Historical Society, Hearst Center for the Arts, Cedar Falls Community Theatre, Cedar Falls Tourism & Visitors Bureau, WCF Symphony, Cedar Falls Community Foundation, and the Art and Culture Board, among others.

Saul died in June 2014 and Joan on January 10 of this year. “Joan was initially reluctant to have such public recognition, but eventually agreed that after her death we could do so,” says COO Jerry Harris. “Their efforts made a significant difference in the Cedar Valley and we’re pleased to honor the difference they’ll continue to make at Western Home Communities by naming this important space in their honor.”
Western Home Foundation and Western Home Communities appreciate being honored through estate gifts, memorials and other donations. We list donor names each month as one way of thanking donors for their generosity. This list reflects gifts received through June 15.

If you would like to make a gift or investigate estate planning and other gift opportunities, please contact Mary Taylor, director of development, at 859-9338.

Chaplain’s Corner:
Vacation is our time for renewal and reflection
by Garry Moore

As you are reading this journal, my wife and I are in northern Minnesota on vacation! We started going to Island View Resort 27 years ago. When I think about those years, my mind reflects on two realities of our heavenly Father: His greatness and His goodness.

It has always amazed me how many stars you can see when you are away from all the lights of the city. There are times when I look up at night, while in northern Minnesota, and think of Isaiah 40:25, 26; “To whom then will you liken Me, or to whom shall I be equal?” says the Holy One. Lift up your eyes on high, and see Who has created these things, who brings out their host by number; He calls them all by name, by the greatness of His might and the strength of His power; not one is missing.” Aren’t these amazing thoughts? God can name and number the stars!

Psalm 147:4, 5 tells us the same thing: “He counts the number of the stars; He calls them all by name. Great is our Lord, and mighty in power.” The Psalmist and Isaiah agree that God can name and number the stars. Then in verse three we read, “He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds.” The God who is in control of the heavenly host is also the God who is concerned for the heavy heart – isn’t that comforting?

My mind will often think of a prayer children used to say, “God is great, God is good…” Let’s think about that goodness. I try to pray Psalm 27:13 almost every day, “I would have lost heart, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.” We can see so much of God’s goodness if we will just focus on it as David did in Psalm 23:6, “Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life.”

Why should we take the time to think about God’s goodness? In Romans 2:4, Paul tells us, “…do you despise the riches of His goodness… not knowing that the goodness of God leads you to repentance?” The greatest demonstration of God’s goodness toward us is when He sent His Son to die for our sins. “But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us.” Romans 5:8.

I hope you will want to hear of some of the great and good things that God did for us while we were on vacation – just ask us – we would love to talk about it!

Please join us for Sunday worship

Chamber music festival cellist to perform two concerts at Western Home Communities

David Bjella, professor of cello at Stetson University in Florida, will perform two free concerts at Western Home Communities as part of the Cedar Valley Chamber Music celebration and community outreach.

Tuesday, July 18, 10 a.m., at Stanard Family Assisted Living Chapel

Friday, July 21, 10 a.m., at Windhaven

A native of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, cellist David Bjella has a multi-faceted career as a teacher, chamber musician, orchestral player and soloist.

David Bjella has “the heart and finesse to bring out the feeling in each burst of melody – to make the extroverted ones surge and swell, and to make the quiet ones seem to just float from the cello.”

– Orlando Sentinel

The theme of the 2017 chamber music concert series is Shall we Dance and explores the tie between music and movement.

Prairie Wind move-ins underway

After a flurry of inspections and finish work, the first residents of Prairie Wind began moving into their new homes June 28. About a dozen are anticipated to make their move by mid-July.

The official opening date is not until August 1, but several residents who had already sold homes and had closing dates were able to be accommodated since all life safety features were installed and approved: elevators, sprinklers and concrete driveways.

Fewer than 20 apartments remained available by late June. Anyone interested in living at Prairie Wind should call Maria Murphy at 859-9311 for a personal tour.
Mark your calendars to save these dates

July Friends Program

Cedar Falls Authors Festival
Wednesday, July 19
10:30 a.m.
Windcove Dining Room

Cedar Falls has been a rich seedbed for authors—from pioneer times to the present. The authors festival celebrates our five nationally-known best-selling authors—Bess Streeter Aldrich, Ruth Suckow, James Hearst, Nancy Price, and Robert Waller—and many other Cedar Falls authors past and present.

Learn how the festival evolved over coffee discussions to a program of 25+ events over the course of a full year. Western Home residents and members of the steering committee Cherie Dargan and Rosemary Beach will provide information about the five authors, their works and upcoming festival events.

July Festival Events
The festival celebrates Nancy Price, (1925- ), in July, who has given us 13 novels—five set in Cedar Falls, including “Sleeping with the Enemy” and “An Accomplished Woman.” The first was a 1987 Literary Guild selection and became the famous 1991 film (starring Julia Roberts). She has also given us a collection of poems and six short stories and she illustrates her books.

Exhibit – Nancy Price: Original Book Illustrations
Fri., July 7 – Wed., Sept. 20
Reception Sun., July 16, 1 p.m., in conjunction with panel discussion
Hearst Center for the Arts
The exhibit will feature Price’s illustrations from several of her works.

Cinema in Seerley Park – “Sleeping with the Enemy” (rated R)
Fri., July 14, music and beer garden, movie at dark.
This 1991 psychological thriller starring Julia Roberts is based on Price’s 1986 novel and is set in Cedar Falls.

College Hill Tour of Homes
Sat., July 15, 1 p.m.
College Hill Neighborhood, begin at Seerley Park for tickets, Cedar Falls
The tour includes Price’s past home and three others featured in “Sleeping with the Enemy” as well as the UNI president’s house, where she lived while her father was president of the university.

Panel Discussion: Sleeping with the Enemy: Novel vs. Film
Sun., July 16, 2 p.m.
Come at 1 p.m. for reception for concurrent Price illustration exhibit.
Hearst Center for the Arts
Join Grant Tracey, Greg Holt, and Barbara Lounsberry for an entertaining discussion of the differences in the movie from the original book.

More information on all of the authors, festival events, bibliographies and more can be found at www.cfauthorsfestival.org.
Words of Wellness: Coping with stress and anxiety is an important life skill

by Wellness Coordinator Amanda Lynch

Stress is an unavoidable part of life – coping with it is an important life strategy for well-being. We can train ourselves to respond in a positive way. Here are a few tips to keep you from getting caught up in your stress and anxiety:

• Track your stressors. Understanding what makes you stressed can go a long ways in helping you avoid those situations in the future.

• Develop healthy responses. Deep breathing techniques or meditation are great places to start to make you feel relaxed after stress and anxiety have set in.

• Read something that inspires you. Reading can be another great response to feeling stressed but can also be used as a way to prevent it. Reading has been seen to reduce your heart rate and relieve tension from the muscles, making it a healthy, stress reducing activity.

• Spend time outdoors. Getting fresh air has been shown to lift your mood and refresh your spirit. Taking time to be outside is an easy way to get some vitamin D from the sunlight and feel an instant relief from the stress you may be feeling.

• Socialize with others. Spending time around other people simply makes you happier. Making sure you are surrounded by friends and family can limit the strain that stress and anxiety places on your life.

Following these simple tips in your everyday life can make a big difference and lead you to a healthier and more fulfilled life.

WELLNESS RECIPE OF THE MONTH
Grilled Salmon with Tomatoes and Basil

Ingredients
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tsp kosher salt, divided
- 1 Tbsp. extra virgin olive oil
- 1 whole wild salmon fillet
- 1/3 cup plus 1/4 cup thinly sliced fresh basil, divided
- 2 medium tomatoes, thinly sliced
- 1/4 tsp freshly ground pepper

Directions
1. Preheat grill to medium.

2. Mash minced garlic and 3/4 teaspoon salt on a cutting board with the side of a chef’s knife or a spoon until a paste forms. Transfer to a small bowl and stir in oil.

3. Check the salmon for pin bones and remove if necessary. Measure out a piece of heavy-duty foil (or use a double layer of regular foil) large enough for the salmon fillet. Coat the foil with cooking spray. Place the salmon, skin-side down, on the foil and spread the garlic mixture all over it. Sprinkle with 1/3 cup basil. Overlap tomato slices on top and sprinkle with the remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt and pepper.

4. Transfer the salmon on the foil to the grill. Grill until the fish flakes easily, 10 to 12 minutes. Use two large spatulas to slide the salmon from the foil to a serving platter. Serve the salmon sprinkled with the remaining 1/4 cup basil.

Swim party at The Falls

Saturday, July 29
9 – 11 a.m.
Free to residents, employees and their guests!
All areas of the aquatic center are open with lifeguards on duty.

Resident-requested recipe from Lisa Haugen

At a June villa resident coffee, lead resident coordinator Lisa Haugen provided a breakfast casserole. So many residents requested the recipe that we decided to share it here for all to enjoy.

Everything Bagel Egg Bake

Ingredients

- 1 dozen eggs
- 1 1/2 c. (12 oz.) ½ and ½
- 4 “everything” bagels, cut in pieces
- 1 lb. sausage, cooked and drained
- 1/4 c. green onion
- 1/4 c. red pepper
- 1/4 c. spinach, chopped fine
- 2 c. shredded cheddar cheese

Directions

Spray the bottom of a 9x13 pan with non-stick spray.
Mix eggs with half and half.
Add in all other ingredients and pour into pan.
For best results, store in refrigerator overnight before baking at 350 for 30-40 minutes until set.

Quadricycle put to use in spring and summer

The four-wheel canopied bicycle, purchased by Friends of Western Home Communities three years ago, finds its way to the trails near both campuses in good weather.

On south campus, household coordinators at The Cottages, Beth Hines (right) and Erica Rath (left) take Ann Madsen (front) and Erma Colvin for a spin.

Natalie Jones drives three Standard Family Assisted Living residents - Micki Sullivan, Ruby Hockey and Delores Trimble on a fun-filled ride.

Notes of appreciation

Thank you for the red rose you sent for Mom’s memorial. It was beautiful. And the angels on Martin Health Center 1 who loved Mom. Thank you. Judy Degenstein and the family of Ruth Merryman

Thank you for all your prayers and support. The red rose is lovely. Glenn was only here for a week but he was happy. Thank you, also, for the wonderful care he had at the Martin Center. The family of Glenn Holmes

Thank you very much for the beautiful red rose. I’m so thankful that Tom and I came to Windgrace together and I didn’t have to come alone. Ila Doeden

Thank you for the beautiful rose in remembering Evelyn (Brandt). She loved being a part of your community, first at Windcove and then Stanard. You were truly a blessing! She really appreciated the Bible studies and the church service. She was so happy when you came to Windcove. Thank you to each of you who worked with her over the past 13 years!

And to the assisted living staff: Thank you for the wonderful care you gave Evelyn. I really appreciate you! Your hourly checks, supporting me when decisions were sometimes hard and the times you sat with her before or after your shift, when I couldn’t be there, and so much more. You have become part of my family. Thank you for allowing God to use you! I am overflowing with gratitude. Denise Hare

Sue works as a certified medication aide – resident assistant at Stanard Family Assisted Living. She has been part of Western Home Communities since February 1998. Her nominators said:

- Sue has a great personality and a truly caring spirit.
- She is willing to come in whenever needed and on short notice.
- You can tell that she has formed wonderful relationships with residents, their families and her co-workers.
- She does the right thing even when no one is watching.

Join us in congratulating Sue on being named employee of the month for June 2017.
