TARGETING PROSPECTS WORKING IN THE ADMINISTRATION INDUSTRY

TARGETING PROSPECTS AT COUNTY LEVEL

REACHING PROSPECTS WHO ARE ACTIVELY SEARCHING FOR JOB OPPORTUNITIES IN YOUR BUSINESS SECTOR ONLINE

REACHING PROSPECTS AS THEY VIEW CONTENT RELEVANT TO YOUR SERVICES

Making sure your ads are seen by prospects who are potentially interested in your services

Prospects reveal what they are interested in by the sites that they visit, the product pages that they visit and the responses given to specially formulated quizzes. We use this information to build a picture of your potential customer base.

Making sure your ads are seen by prospects that live in your chosen area.

Using our collected data, we identify potential customers at county and city/town level, ensuring that you target prospects inhabiting your chosen geography.

Placing your ads in front of prospects who want your services and are in-market now

As prospects perform searches and consume content across the web, we collect data associated with those searches. Based on the keywords, we showcase your ads to those who have performed relevant searches. We will build and optimise the keyword list in collaboration with you to ensure audience optimisation on a bespoke level.

Putting your message in front of prospects at the right time

As prospects browse the web, consuming content; we collect data associated with that content. Based on the keywords and/or the categories of the content searched for, we will showcase your ads to those who are already engaging with relevant topics, based on their online footprint.

GoRetarget

putting your message in front of prospects who want you

GoRetarget helps you convert newly acquired prospects. Prospects may visit your store, drive past or visit your website – and not take action. GoRetarget helps you reach these prospects with messaging to help convert them.

SITE RETARGETING

Reconnecting with those prospects who have already visited your site

We will retarget those prospects that have visited your website and left without taking any further action. Unfortunately, 97% of site visitors will leave without taking action. Therefore, we show them your ads on the majority of sites that they visit (including Facebook) as they browse the rest of the internet, thus reminding them of your brand and encouraging them to come back when they are ready to buy.

GEOFENCING

Reconnect with prospects after they have visited you

We will draw a specific geographical boundary (or multiple boundaries) around your service area called a geofence. We will target prospects within this area using specific ads within 15 seconds of them entering the fence and continue to do so for up to 30 days after they have left the geofence.

SITE RETARGETING

Reconnecting with those prospects who have already visited your site

We will retarget those prospects that have visited your website and left without taking any further action. Unfortunately, 97% of site visitors will leave without taking action. Therefore, we show them your ads on the majority of sites that they visit (including Facebook) as they browse the rest of the internet, thus reminding them of your brand and encouraging them to come back when they are ready to buy.

GEOFENCING

Reconnect with prospects after they have visited you

We will draw a specific geographical boundary (or multiple boundaries) around your service area called a geofence. We will target prospects within this area using specific ads within 15 seconds of them entering the fence and continue to do so for up to 30 days after they have left the geofence.

Reconnecting with those prospects who have already visited your site

We will retarget those prospects that have visited your website and left without taking any further action. Unfortunately, 97% of site visitors will leave without taking action. Therefore, we show them your ads on the majority of sites that they visit (including Facebook) as they browse the rest of the internet, thus reminding them of your brand and encouraging them to come back when they are ready to buy.

GEOFENCING

Reconnect with prospects after they have visited you

We will draw a specific geographical boundary (or multiple boundaries) around your service area called a geofence. We will target prospects within this area using specific ads within 15 seconds of them entering the fence and continue to do so for up to 30 days after they have left the geofence.
