ABOUT MATRIX

Matrix Archaeological Services brings together experienced specialists in Australian cultural heritage management. Our team of skilled archaeologists provide an 'up front' approach to the cultural heritage requirements of a project, giving our clients comprehensive advice to meet local, state and federal statutory obligations. Matrix provides high-quality and cost-effective heritage management services to clients undertaking industrial and residential developments, infrastructure and civil works.

Our senior cultural heritage consultants are all members of the Australian Association of Consulting Archaeologists Inc. (AACAI), hold current WorkSafe OHS Construction Induction accreditation, and are recognised by Aboriginal Victoria as being appropriately qualified and experienced to act as heritage advisors under the Aboriginal Heritage Act 2006.
