Courses and Textbooks

1. NT653: The Sermon on the Mount and Beyond taught by Dr. Glenn Giles.

   This course involves an in-depth study of the Sermon on the Mount from the Book of Matthew, Christian ethics found in it, and this passage’s application to today. This 12 week course will begin on June 2, 2019. This course can be used for an elective in the Master of Arts in Biblical Studies Program and also is one of the required courses in the Master of Arts in Christian Counseling Program and with permission can be approved as an elective in the Master of Arts in Christian Ministries Program. This course is transferrable into the Master of Arts in Bible and Theology Program of Lincoln Christian University.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS

2. AP651/GB605/CM651: Biblical Archaeology and the Christian Faith taught by Dr. Bill Moulden.

With the help of practicing archaeologists in the field, this course will bring to light the importance of this field to our Christian life and ministry. This introduction to archaeology will help students gain critical skills in how to think about the historical context of the biblical narrative as well as how to use archaeological data in teaching and preaching in the church. This course can be used as an elective in both the Master of Arts in Christian Ministry Program as well as an elective in the Master of Arts in Biblical Studies Program. This 12 week course begins June 2, 2019. This course is NOT transferable into Lincoln Christian University programs.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS

3. PC655: Grief, Suicidology, and Crisis Counseling taught by Dr. Timothy Sumerlin

This course attempts to open avenues of insight and service through understanding various features of grief, suicidology, and crisis counseling. The students explore Biblical, historical, and contemporary materials to apply the pastoral function with a healthy interface of theology and psychology. Numerous specific applications will be made in such areas of concern as crisis intervention, suicide intervention and prevention, and grief counseling across the lifespan with relevance in the church setting as the primary focus. The students' own lives and experiences are seen as a base for developing competence in a healing counseling ministry. This course is a required course for the Master of Arts in Christian Counseling and can be used as an elective in the Master of Arts in Biblical Studies Program and the Master of Arts in Christian Ministry Program. This 10 week course begins on June 2, 2019 and is NOT transferrable to Lincoln Christian University Programs.
