ATAF TRAINING PROGRAMMES

1. ATAF Strategic Position and Background
ATAF is a platform for building capacity within; and facilitating mutual co-operation among African Tax Administrations (and other relevant stakeholders), with the aim of improving the efficacy of their tax administration to optimise collections.

ATAF, in its 10 years of existence has built its profile with regard to this support to countries and its scope of activities has widened. ATAF’s core mission remains to improve the capacity of African tax administrations for better domestic resource mobilisation (DRM), mainly through capacity building activities and technical support. However, with a fast-changing environment and dynamic global tax agenda, ATAF consequently has to adapt its offering accordingly.

Improved DRM not only requires efficient and effective tax administrations; it also implies improved tax policy and legislation. In addition to its capacity development activities, ATAF is well placed to engage its members on tax policy and legislation discussions, instil knowledge in order to establish common understanding, and be a voice in the regional and global tax arena.

Based on the increased changes in the tax space, as well as the maturing of the organisation over the past 10 years, expectedly there is an increase in the expectations from its membership specifically, as their partner of choice whenever capacity needs arise.

ATAF adopted a new strategic plan which set out four strategic objectives and priority areas for the period 2016-2020, namely: (a) developing a sustainable member-oriented African organisation on tax matters; (b) Fostering efficient and effective African tax administrations; (c) driving the knowledge hub on African tax matters; and (d) informing and influencing the regional and global dialogue as the African voice in the field of taxation. ATAF’s mandate is to i) improve the capacity of African tax administrations to achieve their revenue objectives; ii) advance the role of taxation in African governance and state building; iii) produce and disseminate knowledge on tax matters to inform policy and legislation formulation, foster transparency and accountability and improve revenue collection; iv) provide a voice for African countries on regional and global platforms and influence the international tax debate; and v) develop and support partnerships between African countries and development partners.

As noted above attainment of the ATAF strategic objective and mandate still resonates around building the capacity of member tax administrations for improved revenue collection. Training by ATAF is demand driven in areas viewed by the membership as pertinent to improved revenue collection. Its scope and delivery varies and while the short-term training runs over five (5) days and 10 weeks are allocated for the virtual programmes. The training courses are tailor-made to address tax administration needs and mostly conducted in different countries. ATAF engages seasoned experts globally to deliver its courses, with a specific preference for continental experts for continuity, and to ensure that both the model and its delivery are fit for purpose.

While the model is working fairly well for both the membership and the Secretariat for now, in order to consolidate and increase the value of the ATAF product, it is crucial that recognised accreditation is attained. This also provides quality assurance, and sustainability. Further arising from engagements ATAF have had in the past two years under the sponsorship of African Development Bank (ADB) with taxpayers education units, media, parliamentarians, Civil Society Organizations and corporate taxpaters, there is recommendation that ATAF should explore on the possibilities of accrediting its training activities. The recommendation resonates well with the guidance from the ATAF Council, hence the call for consultancy for technical guidance on both accreditation and regionalization of training activities.
