AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION
2018 Annual Convention
Division 45 Program & Hospitality Suite Schedule

Theme:
Promoting Healing Through Social Justice

#APA2018 | San Francisco, California | August 9-12th
I am delighted to welcome you to the 2018 program for the American Psychological Association (APA), Society for the Psychological Study of Culture, Ethnicity, and Race (Division-45). I am particularly excited about the full range of programming around the theme Promoting Healing Through Social Justice. The symposia, invited talks, and poster sessions address important topics related to the ways in which Indigenous and Communities of Color engage in resistance and healing practices that promote wellbeing in the face of adversity. We are experiencing challenging times, with increased racial intolerance, draconian immigration policies and practices, and other forms of injustice. Yet, our communities continue to thrive. Building on the lessons of our ancestors, we create visions of and work toward a better tomorrow. It is this radical hope that feeds our dreams and guides our practices. The programming this year is designed to deepen our theoretical understanding and increase our knowledge of the empirical research in this critical area. I am grateful for the leadership provided by the 2018 Division 45 scientific program co-chairs – Drs. Hector Y. Adames and Nayeli Y. Chavez-Dueñas. They worked tirelessly to develop an educational and innovative program. I am also appreciative of Drs. Carlos E. Santos and Melissa Tehee for their work organizing our annual Links & Shoulders Mentoring Program. Thanks to Dr. Lamise Shawahin for coordinating the hospitality suite, Drs. Kira Banks, Robyn Gobin, and Ruddy Taylor for helping to plan the Division-45 & 35 dance, Ms. Jessica G. Perez-Chavez for being our Graduate Student Convention Assistant, Ms. Desa K. Daniel for her leadership and consultation, and to the entire executive committee for their work on behalf of our division. Welcome students, early career professionals, first time conference attendees, seasoned professionals, family, and community members. We hope you attend our educational offerings and our business meeting on Friday; you are welcome to break bread with us during the social hour and dance the night away with us on Saturday evening. Afya na haki kwa wote [health and justice for all].

MESSAGE FROM THE SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM CO-CHAIRS

We are excited to welcome you to the 2018 program for the Society for the Psychological Study of Culture, Ethnicity, and Race (Division-45) at the 126th Annual Convention of the American Psychological Association (APA). Division-45 President, Dr. Helen A. Neville’s theme for this year is Promoting Healing Through Social Justice. Together we have planned what we hope to be a strong and inspiring program that includes a diverse group of scholars, practitioners, educators, and students who will explore the wisdom and healing strategies that exist across our diverse communities. This year continues the tradition of hosting the James Jones Invited Address, with two brilliant and outstanding invited speakers including Dr. Janet E. Helms and Dr. Shawn Ginwright. We welcome you to also stop by and support our poster presenters who will be showcasing their latest theory, research, practice, and policy work on culture, ethnicity, and race. In addition to symposia, conversation hours, and poster presentations, this year we have several events planned to celebrate the life and the legacy of Dr. Joseph L. White, The Godfather of Black Psychology. Please be sure to look for the green African Adinkra Symbol for Wisdom (🌟) throughout the program book for these special events. We hope you find the content of this year’s program stimulating and inspiring, so that by the end of our time together, you feel reenergized to go back into your respective communities full of wisdom and ideas. Together we can continue to make a difference while supporting our collective Communities of Color during these turbulent times of fear, uncertainty, and injustice. Together we are more. Here’s to Radical Healing Today, Tomorrow, and Always!
