

APA 2020 Virtual On-Demand Library Index

Sessions

The sessions listed here were pulled from the on-demand library database on August 3, 2020. Sessions that were uploaded after that time are in the library, but not included in this index. You can find the on-demand library from the APA 2020 Virtual homepage. Once in the library, you can search the on-demand content and browse by subject index, division number, and author.

#001

Symposium: Psychology's Role in Addressing Climate Change and Climate Justice

The Divisions for Social Justice will share expertise on climate change and justice to give global context to these issues and arm audience members with information needed to catalyze a climate research and advocacy movement within psychology.

Chair: Arlene 'Lu' Steinberg, PsyD, Independent Practice

Division: 1

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 29, 17, 18, 24, 26, 32, 35, 34, 37, 43, 44, 45, 48, 51, 52, 56, APA Committee on Early Career Psychologists

Subject Index: 27 Environmental

#002

Symposium: Toward an Ethically Sustainable World—General, Theoretical, Environmental, and Societal Perspectives

Four speakers representing four divisions (1, 9, 24, 34) offer innovative developmental, therapeutic, environmental, and social-justice theory, research, and practice on ways to achieve an ethically sustainable physical and social world.

Chair: Barbara Held, PhD, Bowdoin College

Division: 1

Co-sponsor Division(s): 8, 9, 24, 27, 29, 32, 34, 35, 39, 52, APA Committee on Early Career Psychologists

Subject Index: 56.1 ethics

#003

Symposium: Back to the Future—Retracing Our Steps via Indigenous Psychologies

Indigenous psychologies can help to open up a new trajectory of science by questioning some of its ontological assumptions and resetting some of its epistemological priorities.

Chair: Louise Sundararajan, PhD, Independent researcher

Discussant: Louise Sundararajan, PhD, Independent researcher

Division: 1

Co-sponsor Division(s): 24, 27, 32, 34, 39, 45, 48, 52

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#004

Symposium: Traveling Between the Arts/Humanities and the Sciences—with Imagination

With implications for psychology, three scholars explain how the arts/humanities advance the cognitive neuroscience of “aha” moments, the philosophy of chemistry, and the “meta-modernist” movement.

Chair: Barbara Held, PhD, Bowdoin College

Division: 1

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#005

Invited Symposium: Putting the Scientific Imagination to Work in Psychology

President Lisa Osbeck on The Scientific Imagination plus addresses by two philosophers of psychological science on the inherent role of philosophy in all science and how philosophy can help us understand racism and its close cousin, dehumanization

Chair: Barbara Held, PhD, Bowdoin College

Division: 1

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#006

Invited Address: William James Book Award Address with Michael Tomasello, PhD

Becoming Human: A Theory of Ontogeny offers decades of comparative experimental evidence and developmental theory that provide insight into the evolutionary and cultural pathways that establish the grounds for uniquely human forms of life

Chair: Barbara Held, PhD, Bowdoin College

Division: 1

Subject Index: 30 Evolutionary

#007

Invited Address: Ernest R. Hilgard Award for Career Contributions to General Psychology with Paul Rozin, PhD

Meat is a favored food of humans and is also the most tabooed food. It is the principal trigger of disgust. For psychology, meat is a fine example of ambivalence, and rejection of meat could be a central interest of moral psychology. Meat matters.

Chair: Barbara Held, PhD, Bowdoin College

Division: 1

Subject Index: 31 Experimental (General)

#008

Invited Address: George A. Miller Award for an Outstanding Recent Journal Article in Psychology with Janet S. Hyde, PhD and Daphna Joel, PhD

This article challenges views on human sexual and psychological dimorphism and beliefs in the gender binary, by reviewing evidence from neuroscience, behavioral neuroendocrinology, the psychology of sex/gender and of transgender/nonbinary persons.

Chair: Barbara Held, PhD, Bowdoin College

Division: 1

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

#009

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Amy C. Fineburg, PhD

Division President Amy Fineburg moderates a panel discussing diversity in teaching and teaching about diversity. Five Division leaders share experiences in the academy and in the division, exploring into how instructors can teach diversity and work to dismantle racism and sexism.

Chair: Richard Miller, PhD, Texas A&M University-Kingsville

Division: 2

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#010

Invited Address: Invited Address with Amy S. Hunter, PhD

Students form opinions about their professor and course from the syllabus alone. Using the Project Syllabus rubric, this GSTA workshop will share easy changes faculty can make to enhance their syllabi. Bring one of your own syllabi to work on!

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 1, 33

Subject Index: 25.3 teaching

#011

Symposium: Disseminating Inclusive Teaching Practices—Findings From the Passion-Driven Statistics Project

This presentation will focus on support for instructors who teach statistics or research methods courses in designing or redesigning them to engage students in the rich, complicated, decision-making process of real statistical inquiry.

Co-chairs: Lisa Dierker, PhD, Wesleyan University; Kristin Flaming, MA, Wesleyan University

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5, 9, 14, 27, 33

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#012

Symposium: Liberating Diversity in Teaching—Using identity to change the invisible landscape

In this symposium, psychologists with expertise in infusing diversity in teaching will discuss tools and strategies for cultivating allies to increase cultural competence and liberate classrooms from hegemony.

Chair: Thomson Ling, PhD, Caldwell University

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 8, 9, 27, 32, 33, 48, 52

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#014

Symposium: Integration of the Five Pillars Using Big Problems Activities in Introductory Psychology Courses

Each presenter will discuss their unique implementation of the 2014 APA suggestion for presenting psychology topics in an integrated, as opposed to modular manner, through the use of “Big Problems” (i.e. pollution, poverty, or racism) activities.

Chair: Laura Freberg, PhD, California Polytechnic State University-San Luis Obispo

Division: 2

Subject Index: 25.3 teaching

#015

Symposium: Infusing Ethics in Teaching Undergraduate Psychology—Coursework and Field Experience

The purpose of this symposium is to share ideas and resources for teaching and learning about ethics with undergraduate psychology students in courses, research, and practica.

Chair: Renee Goodstein, PhD, St. Francis College

Discussant: Florence Denmark, PhD, Pace University

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 27, 52, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 28 Ethics

#016

Symposium: Prove it! Designing Course Assignments for Skill Demonstration and Workforce Marketing

Psychology students develop the skills valued by employers, but do course assignments provide workforce-relevant evidence of their skills? Attendees will generate/revise assignments to provide students with evidence to market their skills.

Chair: Stacie Spencer, PhD, MCPHS University

Discussant: Jaye Van Kirk, MA, San Diego Mesa College

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 52

Subject Index: 74 Work/Employment/Careers

#017

Symposium: From Freshman to First Job—Three Checkpoints for Bachelor's Graduates

Three checkpoints in the career development process are examined: completion of a career development course, explicit instruction in career-based skills, and attention in the job search to job satisfaction needs and underemployment challenges.

Co-chairs: Paul Hettich, PhD, DePaul University; Jaye Van Kirk, MA, San Diego Mesa College

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): Psi Chi

Subject Index: 74 Work/Employment/Careers

#019

Symposium: Academic Cheating—Determining the Influence of Internal and External Predictors

Internal (personality) and external (peer pressure) influences will be discussed as they relate to engaging in academic cheating. The difficulty of researching academic dishonesty will also be addressed.

Co-chairs: Cathy Grist, PhD, Western Carolina University; Alvin Malesky, PhD, Western Carolina University

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 25.3 teaching

#021

Symposium: Student Trust in the Teacher—Its Measurement and Impact on Academic Success

This symposium describes a dual approach to studying the impact of student trust in the teacher on academic success: development of the Teacher Trust Inventory to measure trust and a set of experiments on the impact of trust on student learning.

Chair: Stephen Chew, PhD, Samford University

Discussant: Amy Fineburg, PhD, College Board

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5, 33, 52

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#022

Skill-Building Session: Utilizing Technology to Promote Inclusion in the Teaching of Psychology

This presentation will explore the use of technology in the teaching of psychology with diverse learners. Topics include online education, applications, accessibility, gamification, social media, mentorship, instructional design and ethics.

Chair: Felice Mayes, PhD, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 40, 52

Subject Index: 69 Technology

#023

Symposium: Mansfield University Psychology—A Five-Year Assessment

Program assessment has generated considerable attention. The purpose of the session is to report results from a multi-measure, multi-year process in a psychology department. Outcomes and issues for future research are also presented.

Chair: Brian Loher, PhD, Mansfield University

Division: 2

Subject Index: 25.3 teaching

#024

Skill-Building Session: A Model for Assessing and Managing Students' Disclosures in Online Psychology Courses—A Pilot Study

A review of a pilot study on a self-disclosure model. The session will focus on: faculty's experiences with students' self-disclosures; understanding their decision making; and identification of barriers and trends in their responses.

Co-chairs: Jessica Cerniak, PsyD, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology; Joyce Nugent-Hirschbeck, PsyD, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#025

Skill-Building Session: Enhancing and Tracking Cultural Competencies Among Undergraduate Students

This skill building session will inform participants of best practices to increase cultural competence in higher education, with discussion of experiential activities that foster cultural competence among undergraduate students.

Chair: Deborah Wiese, PhD, Miami University

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 27, 52, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 48 Multicultural

#026

Skill-Building Session: Using Contemplative Practice in Psychology Courses to Promote Mindfulness, Mastery, and Resilience

This interactive session will explore the use of mindfulness activities for multiple purposes in psychology classes. The presenters will examine mindfulness from the perspectives of mindfulness theory, mastery goal orientation, and resilience.

Chair: Sally Zengaro, PhD, Delta State University

Division: 2

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#027

Symposium: Experiential Teaching and Learning in Psychology

The art and science of experiential teaching and learning will be presented. Exemplars of experiential teaching in psychometrics and multicultural psychology curriculum will be provided.

Chair: Shannon Chavez-Korell, PhD, Michigan School of Psychology

Discussant: Markeda Newell, PhD, Loyola University - Chicago

Division: 2

Co-sponsor Division(s): 27, 29, 33

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#029

Invited Address: Invited Address by David A. Washburn, PhD

Transfer Index (TI) has been used to test animal intelligence. The address describes development of a version of the TI paradigm for human participants and its relation to measures of executive function, reasoning, and working memory capacity.

Division: 3

Subject Index: 12.5 memory/learning

#030

Symposium: AI and Deep Learning in Psychological Interventions—Options, Effectiveness, and User Reactions

This Symposium provides an overview of options for incorporating AI technology into behavioral health care regimens, the evidence base for engagement and effectiveness, and potential challenges to adoption by providers and patients.

Chair: Jennifer Gentile, PsyD, Boston Children's Hospital

Division: 3

Subject Index: 69 Technology

#031

Discussion: Conversation Hour: Aaron T. Beck, MD at 99 and Judith S. Beck, PhD in Conversation with Frank Farley, PhD

Chair: Frank Farley, PhD, Temple University

Division: 3

Subject Index: 31 Experimental (General)

#033

Discussion: Conversation Hour: Steven Pinker, PhD in Conversation With Frank Farley, PhD

Chair: Frank Farley, PhD, Temple University

Division: 3

Subject Index: 31 Experimental (General)

#036

Discussion: Conversation Hour—Stephen J. Ceci, PhD and Wendy M. Williams, PhD in Conversation With Frank Farley, PhD

Steve Ceci, Wendy Williams are an academic couple. They describe their working lives & changes as experimental psychologists, "corporatization" of the academy, treatment of academic couples, socio-political changes & their own research.

Chair: Frank Farley, PhD, Temple University

Division: 3

Subject Index: 31 Experimental (General)

#037

Discussion: Conversation Hour—Nobel Laureate Daniel Kahneman, PhD in Conversation With Frank Farley, PhD

Chair: Frank Farley, PhD, Temple University

Division: 3

Subject Index: 31 Experimental (General)

#039

Invited Address: State of the Art with Clark A. McKown, PhD

Dr. Clark McKown will describe current issues in social and emotional learning assessment, and will discuss interpretations of results, theoretical issues, and measures.

Chair: Janet Carlson, PhD, Buros Center for Testing

Division: 5

Subject Index: 11.2 assessment/diagnosis

#040

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Kurt Geisenger, PhD

Licensure testing is changing. Testing knowledge was once an acceptable approach. Now, one must demonstrate the knowledge and skills needed on the job. Licensure tests have been legally defined as employment tests and must meet the same requirements.

Division: 5

Subject Index: 70 Testing/Assessment

#041

Symposium: Division 05 Awards Ceremony

Dissertation awards are given to Julia Haff and Nisha Gupta. Urmitapa Dutta and Chun Wang received Early Career Awards. Distinguished Contribution Award recipients, Eva Simms, Leona Aiken, and Heidi Levitt, each give an awards address.

Chair: Heidi Levitt, PhD, University of Massachusetts Boston

Division: 5
Subject Index: 45.4 qualitative methods

#043

Symposium: Questioning Qualitative Methods—Rethinking Accepted Practices

Standardized procedural criteria for rigor in qualitative research may be detrimental if applied uncritically. Three established qualitative concepts — member-checking, consensus, and replication — are problematized and re-evaluated.

Chair: Sue Motulsky, EdD, Lesley University

Discussant: Ruthellen Josselson, PhD, Fielding Graduate University

Division: 5

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14, 27, 29

Subject Index: 45.4 qualitative methods

#044

Symposium: The Old Vine and New Wine—History, Innovation, and Dissemination of Psychological Assessment

This symposium reviews trends from the perspective of Mental Measurements Yearbook, showing how mediation can be tested at the individual patient level, and how Wikipedia and OSF.io are making it easier to find and use psychological tools.

Chair: Eric Youngstrom, PhD, University of North Carolina

Discussant: Amy Schmidt, PhD, ETS

Division: 5

Co-sponsor Division(s): 33, 52

Subject Index: 11.2 assessment/diagnosis

#045

Symposium: Protecting Data Integrity for Studies Using Mechanical Turk

Studies using the Mechanical Turk platform frequently do not include protections for data integrity (PDI). This symposium outlines such protections, reviews the power of various options, and reviews the effect of PDIs on outcome.

Chair: Constance Dalenberg, PhD, Alliant International University-San Diego

Division: 5

Co-sponsor Division(s): 8, 14, 28

Subject Index: 45.5 research design

#047

Symposium: Advanced Quantitative Methods for Addressing Complexities in Psychological Research

Psychology research is complex, requiring advanced quantitative methods. This symposium introduces new methods, describes advances to existing methods, and examines persisting methodological challenges and potential solutions.

Chair: Matthew Fritz, PhD, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Division: 5
Co-sponsor Division(s): 14

Subject Index: 45.2 statistics and mathematical/computer modeling

#048

Symposium: Animal Cognition Outside the Box—Examining the Application of Laboratory Methods to Study Cognitive Abilities in Naturalistic Settings

This session will focus on research in animal cognition outside of traditional laboratory settings, including the study of cognition in wild and socially housed laboratory animals.

Division: 6

Subject Index: 4 Animal Behavior

#049

Invited Address: Invited Address by Brenda A. Milner Award Winner Audrey Parrish

The Brenda A. Milner Award recognizes the author of an outstanding paper in the field. The Clifford T. Morgan Distinguished Service to Division 6 Award recognizes members who have made sustained and exceptional contributions to the division.

Division: 6

Subject Index: 8 Behavioral Neuroscience

#051

Invited Address: Invited Address with Mark A. Krause, PhD

Address by Division 6 President Mark Krause: Comparative Perspectives on the Evolution of Learning and Memory

Division: 6

Subject Index: 12.5 memory/learning

#052

Invited Address: Invited Address with Gordon Burghardt, PhD

The D. O. Hebb Distinguished Scientific Contribution Award honors a psychologist who has made distinguished theoretical and/or empirical contributions to basic research in behavioral neuroscience and/or comparative psychology.

Division: 6

Subject Index: 8 Behavioral Neuroscience

#053

Symposium: Teaching Neuroscience and Comparative Psychology in Classrooms and Communities

This session will involve participants in active teaching demonstrations, highlighting best practices for teaching behavioral neuroscience and comparative psychology in classrooms and in our communities.

Chair: Melissa Birkett, PhD, Southern Oregon University

Discussant: Melissa Birkett, PhD, Southern Oregon University

Division: 6

Subject Index: 8 Behavioral Neuroscience

#054

Symposium: Replication in Comparative Cognition

This session will explore issues around replication in comparative psychology.

Division: 6

Subject Index: 12 Cognition

#055

Symposium: The Future of Behavioral Neuroscience and Comparative Cognition—Talks by Early Career Scientists

This session will feature talks by early career scientists in the fields of behavioral neuroscience and comparative cognition.

Division: 6

Subject Index: 8 Behavioral Neuroscience

#056

Symposium: Animal Models of Hippocampal-Dependent Functions

This session will explore research on animal models of hippocampal-dependent functions, including memory and relational learning.

Division: 6

Subject Index: 8 Behavioral Neuroscience

#057

Symposium: Raising Adolescent Voices—Solutions to Miscommunication Patterns Between Teens and Adults

Authors present impact of adolescent stress experiences on adult perceptions of teen stress, gender, masculinity-femininity and communication. Use of adolescent voices to develop the Everyday Adolescent Stress Experiences scale is presented.

Chair: Debra Garcia, PhD, California State University, Los Angeles

Division: 7

Co-sponsor Division(s): 16, 20, 53

Subject Index: 11.1 adolescent

#058

Symposium: Sensitive Parenting of Infants in Distress or Non-Distress within Diverse, Low-Income Families

Research on predictors of maternal sensitivity in diverse, low-income families using variable-centered and person-centered analytic approaches, and infant vagal regulation as a moderator of the link between sensitivity and positive infant outcomes

Chair: Susan Woodhouse, PhD, Lehigh University

Division: 7

Co-sponsor Division(s): 43

Subject Index: 21.4.4 infancy

#061

Invited Address: Invited Address with Jack Glaser, PhD

Police officers have considerable discretion in decisions they make. Social psychological science has showed that police hold race-crime stereotypes. Data demonstrates that when discretion is relatively high, racial disparities are more pronounced.

Division: 8

Subject Index: 63 Social

#062

Invited Address: Invited Address with Benjamin Karney, PhD

This talk reviews a program of research that directly compares higher- and lower-income couples, revealing that some conventional wisdom about intimacy may not generalize beyond middle-class, college educated, mostly white samples.

Division: 8

Subject Index: 63 Social

#063

Invited Address: Invited Address with Michael Kraus, PhD

This talk offers compelling evidence that Americans vastly underestimate racial economic inequality, especially the racial wealth gap. The motivational, cognitive, and structural factors that contribute to these misperceptions are discussed.

Division: 8

Subject Index: 63 Social

#064

Invited Address: Invited Address with Jason Okonofua, PhD

This talk discusses research and structured field work to incite and sustain high quality relationships (e.g., teacher-student and officer-civilian) as a means to create contexts for better real-world outcomes (e.g., suspension rates, recidivism).

Division: 8

Subject Index: 63 Social

#067

Discussion: An Examination of the Experiences of Black Girls and Women Navigating the Educational Pipeline

Black girls and women have a unique experience of discrimination and trauma based on both their race and gender throughout the educational pipeline. Attendees will discuss the clinical implications for working with Black girls and women.

Chair: Mawule Sevon, MA, Temple University

Division: 9

Subject Index: 73.1 women and girls of color

#069

Discussion: Exploring Relationships Between Immigration, Intersectionality, and Mental Health

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, this presentation now solely focuses on microaggressions experienced by racial minority immigrants.

Chair: D. R. Gina Sissoko, BA, The Graduate Center, City University of New York

Division: 9

Subject Index: 39.1 immigration

#070

Discussion: Tradition vs. Progression? A Candid Discussion About Healthy and Harmful Masculinities

Join us for a discussion about the impact of traditional masculinity ideology on various cultural groups, as well as the characteristics of progressive masculinities and their benefits.

Co-chairs: Courtland Douglas, MA, Howard University; Ashley Riley, BA, Howard University

Division: 9

Co-sponsor Division(s): 8, 51

Subject Index: 29.1 African Americans

#072

Symposium: Utilizing Psychology to Impact Government Policy From Within

How does psychology make a unique contribution to policymaking? This session will explore the role psychologists play in researching, developing, and implementing policy in multiple branches of government in the United States and the United Kingdom.

Chair: Brian Smedley, PhD, APA

Division: 9

Subject Index: 56.3 public policy

#075

Symposium: Hands Across the Waters—Divided Societies in Britain, Ireland, and the United States

Speakers from APA, British Psychological Society, and Psychological Society of Ireland will give talks about the role of psychological research and advocacy in addressing increasingly divided societies in Britain, Ireland, and the United States.

Chair: Amanda Clinton, PhD, APA

Discussant: Amanda Clinton, PhD, APA

Division: 9

Subject Index: 39 International

#076

Symposium: Disability vs. Wellness Culture—Supporting High Functioning Neurodivergent Learners in Higher Ed

This is a discussion of neurodivergent students in postsecondary courses: diagnosis, characterization, support planning, and systemic change required to promote individual success and social equity through the lens of disability culture and wellness.

Chair: Beth Krone, PhD, Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai

Division: 9

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#079

Symposium: Women Take Meaning, Psychotherapy, Neuroscience, and Culture Benefits from Music (Gospel, Opera, and Rock)

Dr. Linda Hayes Bennett describes Music as Medicine Singing treatments that normalize and resurrect an aphasic Alzheimer's patient "Jean", thus demystifying new approaches, techniques, reproducibility and generalizability of dementia interventions.

Division: 10

Subject Index: 5 Art/Music/Literature

#080

Invited Address: Award Addresses

Join us for a round table discussion with our 2020 Division 10 award winners: Matthew Pelowski, Nils Myszkowski, and Helmut Leder. Our award winners will discuss the current state of the psychology of aesthetics, creativity, and the arts.

Division: 10

Subject Index: 5 Art/Music/Literature

#082

Symposium: International Perspectives on New Creativity Measurements for Work and School

Session focuses on new creativity measurements for organizational and educational settings. One study supports a measurement to predict creativity in the workplace and two studies support the Beliefs About Creativity Scales with international data.

Chair: Hod Orkibi, PhD, The University of Haifa

Division: 10

Subject Index: 17 Creativity

#083

Symposium: Creativity and Emotions: From the Decision to Be Creative to Reactions to Creative Products

Chair: Zorana Ivcevic, PhD, Yale University

Division: 10

Subject Index: 17 Creativity

#084

Symposium: The Dynamic Creativity Framework

This symposium brings together experts who presuppose creativity to be a dynamic phenomenon and thereby introduce new conceptions, methods, and applications that are in alignment with that presupposition.

Co-chairs: Giovanni Corazza, PhD, University of Bologna; Roni Reiter-Palmon, PhD, University of Nebraska at Omaha

Division: 10

Co-sponsor Division(s): 13, 14

Subject Index: 17 Creativity

#085

Symposium: The Study of Aesthetic Experience: Who Likes What, and Why?

This symposium presents research on processes underlying aesthetic perception and evaluation of visual art, music, and stories—on how such processes are shaped by culture and age, and on live audiences' aesthetic experiences.

Chair: Ines Schindler, PhD, Max Planck Institute for Empirical Aesthetics

Discussant: Ellen Winner, PhD, Boston College

Division: 10

Subject Index: 5 Art/Music/Literature

#086

Symposium: Creative Polymathy: The Power of the Renaissance Person

Polymaths, people with broad expertise across disciplines, are uniquely positioned at the intersection of different fields. Polymaths can add great value to the world by forging new insights and innovations based on their varied aptitudes.

Chair: Zorana Pringle, PhD, Yale University

Division: 10

Subject Index: 11.14 vocational/career

#089

Symposium: Innovations in Treatment for Assaultiveness and Self-Injury in Residential Care

This symposium will focus on describing a novel treatment model developed to treat individuals in residential care who engage in recurrent aggressive behaviors including harm to themselves and others.

Chair: Marc Hillbrand, PhD, Department of Psychiatry, Yale University School of Medicine

Division: 12

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#090

Discussion: Update From The Advisory Steering Committee (ASC) On APA's Clinical Practice Guidelines

The goal of this town hall is to increase the communication between ASC and APA members in order to provide meaningful information about the past, present, and future of clinical practice guidelines.

Chair: Marni Axelrad, PhD, Texas Children's Hospital, Baylor College of Medicine

Division: 12

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 11.4 evidence-based practice

#092

Symposium: Introduction to the MMPI-3

This program introduces the MMPI-3, presenting the scales and features of this instrument, with a focus on implementation and actual interpretation skills in multiple domains, including general clinical, forensic, health, and medical settings.

Co-chairs: Paul Ingram, PhD, Texas Tech University; David McCord, PhD, Western Carolina University

Discussant: Paul Arbisi, PhD, VA Medical Center

Division: 12

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5, 40, 41

Subject Index: 11.2 assessment/diagnosis

#104

Presidential Address: Nothing Quite So Practical: The Role of Theory in General Applied Psychology

Learn about options for an integrated theoretical approach as GAP becomes an accepted third branch of psychology. Consider the theoretical underpinnings that could support GAP in education, research, and application. Explored on-demand and live.

Division: 13

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#105

Skill-Building Session: Coaching Black American Executives—How Do You Like Your Coffee?

The dynamics of differences impact the experience of Black American executives. In this session, learn how key coaching questions can be used to identify, understand, and impact the effectiveness of those leaders and coaching.

Chair: Gregory Pennington, PhD, Pennpoint Consulting Group

Division: 13

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 14, 42

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#106

Skill-Building Session: Infinity-Loop Coaching: On Beyond Questions

Infinity Loop Executive Coaching is an extension of traditional coaching where active, directive interventions combine with traditional approaches in an interconnected framework on a continuum from reflective to active, conscious to unconscious.

Chair: William Berman, PhD, Berman Leadership Development
Division: 13
Co-sponsor Division(s): 42
Subject Index: 37 Industrial/Organizational and Consulting Psychology

#107

Skill-Building Session: Increasing Collaboration, Communication, and Creativity in Teams: Applied Improvisation

“Yes, and” is introduced as a tool to improve team effectiveness. Pre-recorded interactive exercises will demonstrate how applied improvisation can improve team communication, increase collaboration and ignite creativity.

Chair: Steve Gravenkemper, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 13

Co-sponsor Division(s): 10, 27, 47

Subject Index: 37 Industrial/Organizational and Consulting Psychology

#108

Symposium: FinPsych: Psychologists Working at the Crossroads of Finance and Psychology

Four highly experienced psychologists who offer consulting/clinical services within the growing field of financial psychology explain what they do and how others can develop the knowledge, skills, and experience to meet their clients' FinPsych needs.

Chair: Rebecca Turner, PhD, Turner Consulting Group LLC

Discussant: Kathleen Gounaris, PsyD, Gounaris Group LLC

Division: 13

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14

Subject Index: 37 Industrial/Organizational and Consulting Psychology

#109

Skill-Building Session: The Times They are a-Changing—Helping Leaders Effectively Lead Organizational Change Efforts

Although leaders are the spokespeople for organizational change, too often their usual skills prove ineffective. Walk-away from this session with data, best practices, and ideas on coaching leaders to effectively lead during times of change.

Chair: Shannan Simms, PhD, Navigator Management Partners (now Avaap)

Division: 13

Subject Index: 37 Industrial/Organizational and Consulting Psychology

#110

Skill-Building Session: Responding to Emergent Mental Health Issues in the Context of Leadership Coaching: Competence vs. Confidence

Leaders are not immune to mental health issues. We will address how professional coaches can balance setting appropriate professional boundaries with leaders exhibiting mental health issues while supporting them in an evidence-based, ethical manner.

Chair: Julia Corcoran, PsyD, BetterUp

Division: 13

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 12, 14, 29, 47

Subject Index: 37.2 coaching/training/development

#111

Discussion: How Do You Successfully Consult to Technical Leaders?

Are different consulting methods necessary when working with technical leaders? What are best practices for success? All from novices to experts are invited as we explore different perspectives and approaches when consulting to technical leaders.

Chair: Joanie Connell, PhD, Flexible Work Solutions, Inc.

Division: 13

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#112

Symposium: Using Organizational Data to Enhance Leadership Development

Three consultants will deliver presentations showcasing best practices in workforce data utilized in a range of public, private and active duty settings in areas of employee engagement, executive coaching, and diversity/inclusion and equity.

Chair: Courtney Barrett Smith, PsyD, VHA National Center for Organization Development

Division: 13

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14, 18, 27

Subject Index: 37.5 organizational performance/change/development

#113

Symposium: Creating an Engaged and Diverse Culture Within Your Organization

In this session, learn about the elements that drive inclusiveness, as well as factors that create division and apathy. Learn valuable strategies to increase awareness and to help clients overcome diversity-oriented biases and fears.

Chair: Lisa White, PhD, MSW, Integrated Leadership Systems

Division: 13

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 10, 14, 18, 27

Subject Index: 37.5 organizational performance/change/development

#114

Symposium: Legal Updates for I/O Psychologists: Analyzing Recent Supreme Court Cases and Workplace Implications

The Supreme Court heard a number of landmark cases in 2019-2020 that impact workplaces, particularly diversity issues and where employers can look for guidance on such issues. Join us for an analysis of these cases and legal trends in the workplace.

Co-chairs: Eli Noblitt, JD, University of Georgia; Kathy Rogers, JD, University of Georgia

Division: 14

Co-sponsor Division(s): 41, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 37 Industrial/Organizational and Consulting Psychology

#115

Symposium: Careers in Undergraduate I/O Psychology

Undergraduate faculty describe teaching loads, scholarship, and service expectations. Program characteristics, students, consulting, and compensation will be discussed. Recommendations for an undergraduate I/O program are included.

Co-chairs: Brian Loher, PhD, Mansfield University; Kristian Veit, PhD, Olivet Nazarene University

Discussant: Abby Mello, PhD, Towson University

Division: 14

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9

Subject Index: 25.3 teaching

#116

Symposium: Engagement in the Workplace

This symposium presents research on: intra-individual analysis of engagement and burnout, the role of emotional intelligence for public sector employees' engagement, and engagement as predictor of creativity/innovation across occupations.

Co-chairs: Zorana Ivcevic, PhD, Yale University; Zehavit Levitats, PhD, University of Haifa

Division: 14

Co-sponsor Division(s): 13, 27, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 37 Industrial/Organizational and Consulting Psychology

#118

Discussion: What's Happening at APA and SIOP? Q&A With Division 14/SIOP Council Representatives

Join Society of Industrial-Organizational Psychology (SIOP) APA Council Representatives for a Q&A on APA and SIOP organizational matters, how governance works, volunteer opportunities, and how these organizations can best serve their missions.

Division: 14

Subject Index: 37 Industrial/Organizational and Consulting Psychology

#119

Symposium: Are Generational Categories Meaningful Distinctions for Workforce Management?

Are labels such as Baby Boomers, Generation X, and Millennials, and the associated traits, meaningful? An ad hoc committee formed by the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine discusses the current state of generational research.

Division: 14

Subject Index: 37.1 leadership/management/administration

#120

Symposium: Toxic Workplaces and Abusive Leaders

This symposium explores how toxic workplaces and abusive leaders influence a wide range of important employee outcomes, including motivation, engagement, performance, satisfaction, counterproductive work behaviors, and absenteeism.

Division: 14

Subject Index: 37.1 leadership/management/administration

#121

Invited Address: How Can Artificial Intelligence Be Used to Better Ask and Answer Research Questions?

The grand promises of artificial intelligence (AI) are everywhere, from self-driving cars to better medical diagnoses, but what is the value for psychological research? How much is flash and how much is substance? Should we all become computer scientists before we lose our jobs? In this talk, I start with a brief overview of what AI is and what it can do. Next, I walk through several specific research applications that you could use to improve your research both right now and in the future. Finally, I provide some ideas and practical guidance on how to get started.

Division: 14

Subject Index: 46.2 Research

#125

Symposium: Calling All Assessment Supervisors: Balancing Multiple Roles, Responsibilities, and More!

Supervising assessment involves more than focusing on scoring and report writing. We highlight best practices in assessment supervision and share our preliminary model that focuses on the supervisor's navigation of multiple relationships.

Chair: Kelly Lee, PhD, University of Maryland

Division: 16

Subject Index: 60 School

#126

Symposium: Examining School Psychologists' Role in Advancing Trauma-Informed Care

This symposium examines the experiences, education and training, confidence and competence, current and desired roles, and perceived barriers and supports of school psychologists to engage in trauma-informed care practices within the schools.

Co-chairs:

Joel Bocanegra, PhD, Idaho State University;

Aaron Gubi, PhD, Kean University;

Discussants:

Julia Strait, PhD, University of Houston

Division: 16

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#127

Symposium: Mechanisms For Funding Mentored Research Training to Support Undergraduate and Graduate Students

This symposium brings scholars from different divisions to discuss available funding to support undergraduate and graduate student research opportunities; exemplar programs; and perspectives of students, PIs, staff, and agency representatives.

Chair: Michelle Perfect, PhD, University of Arizona

Division: 16

Subject Index: 44 Mentoring

#128

Symposium: Redefining Discipline—How a Whole-Child Approach Addresses School Inequities Systemically

This symposium will identify a framework for developing a whole-child

Co-chairs: Laura Vogel, PhD, Momentous Institute; Christina Wise, PhD, Momentous Institute

Division: 16

Subject Index: 60 School

#130

Symposium: School Psychology Specialization in Toddlers With Autism Spectrum Disorders: Process and Outcomes

The presentation will include: a) the outline of the Specialization in Toddlers with Autism track curriculum, b) the integration process of didactic and clinical instruction in an autism clinic, and c) student outcome data and lessons learned.

Co-chairs: Gina Kunz, PhD, University of South Carolina; Therese Mathews, PhD, RN, University of Nebraska Medical Center

Division: 16

Subject Index: 6 Autism

#131

Symposium: Transcending Trauma by Integrating Neurobiology and Culture to Drive Schoolwide Transformation

This symposium aims to increase practitioners' awareness of trauma and its neurobiological impacts, knowledge of multi-tiered interventions, especially those at Tier 0 for direct-service providers, and integration of cultural competence.

Chair: Aileen Fullchange, PhD, Momentous Institute

Division: 16

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#132

Symposium: School Psychology's 75th Anniversary Commitment to Action: A Pathway to Equity, Inclusion and Social Justice

2020 marks School Psychology's 75th anniversary (Div-16). We consider the past to change the future by proposing a diverse, inclusive pathway today. Relevant topics are presented to prepare school psychologists for a 21st demographic and beyond.

Chair: Enedina Vazquez, PhD, New Mexico State University

Division: 16

Subject Index: 60 School

#139

Symposium: Career Development Among Individuals Living With Serious Mental Health Conditions

This symposium describes three projects undertaken to explore and address the diverse career-related needs of individuals living with serious mental health conditions.

Chair: Uma Millner, PhD, Lesley University

Discussant: David Blustein, PhD, Boston College

Division: 17

Subject Index: 11.14 vocational/career

#140

Symposium: Strengths-Based Interventions for Sexual and Gender Minorities

This symposium presents current research on strengths-based interventions with sexual and gender minorities, including a systematic review and two ongoing strengths-based interventions with LGBTQ and trans individuals.

Co-chairs: Zakary Clements, MS, University of Kentucky; Stacey Williams, PhD, East Tennessee State University

Discussant: Michelle Vaughan, PhD, Wright State University

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 44

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

#142

Symposium: Undocumented Latinx Immigrant Populations: Current Research, Counseling, and Advocacy Implications

This symposium is a presentation of findings from qualitative and community-based work on undocumented Latinx youth and families who are experiencing mental health, physical health, and political concerns while living in the United States.

Chair: Regine Talleyrand, PhD, George Mason University

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 12, 39, 52

Subject Index: 39.1 immigration

#145

Symposium: Empowering Diverse Students in College—Creating Policies and Preventative Interventions That Matter

Policies and interventions are needed to strengthen students' well-being and success. Presenters discuss findings from studies that inform the development of interventions and policies to empower diverse students and to maximize their well-being.

Co-chairs: Sean DeMartino, PsyD, Community Services Institute; Sally Hage, PhD, Springfield College

Discussant: Mary Mendoza-Newman, PhD, Stanford University

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9

Subject Index: 33.2 health promotion/prevention

#146

Symposium: Gender and Career—Unique Challenges in Career Decisions and Trajectories Among Trans Populations

This symposium addresses the unique challenges that transgender and nonbinary individuals encounter when deciding which graduate programs to attend, making career decisions, and in the job application process.

Chair: Em Matsuno, PhD, Palo Alto University

Discussant: Kimberly Howard, PhD, Boston University

Division: 17

Subject Index: 62.4 transgender and gender nonconforming

#148

Symposium: Internationalization and Liberation in Psychology—Contributions From International Psychologists

This symposium offers an open forum to discuss intersectionality of internationalization and liberation in Counseling Psychology with a focus on theoretical contribution and critical considerations.

Chair: Jiyoung Lee, PhD, City University of New York at York College

Discussant: Kathryn Norsworthy, PhD, Rollins College

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 52

Subject Index: 19 Cross-Cultural

#149

Symposium: Integrating Social Justice into Teaching and Learning in Counseling Psychology

This symposium presents innovative research on social justice within counseling psychology training programs and provides recommendations for training. The audience will leave with practical ideas to engage in more intentional social justice efforts.

Chair: Jennifer Taylor, PhD, University of Utah

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 2, 9

Subject Index: 48.2 education and training

#153

Symposium: Cross-Cultural Journey—Three Distinguished U.S. Counseling Psychologists' Perspectives

The aim of this symposium is to highlight the cross-cultural journeys of three leading U.S. counseling psychologists at different professional stages as a means to navigate and encourage American psychologists to engage in international research.

Co-chairs: Bongjoo Hwang, PhD, California State University, Long Beach; Hang-Shim Lee, PhD, Konkuk University

Discussant: Karen O'Brien, PhD, University of Maryland

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 52

Subject Index: 39 International

#154

Symposium: Counseling Psychology Roundtables I

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 52

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#155

Symposium: Owning Your Social Class Privilege—Best Practices for Managing SES Bias in Training and Supervision

This session will focus on addressing social class bias in graduate training, through application of the Training and Education section of the APA Guidelines for Psychological Practice for People with Low-Income and Economic Marginalization.

Co-chairs: Amy Peterman, PhD, University of North Carolina at Charlotte; Kipp Pietrantonio, PhD, University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center

Division: 17

Subject Index: 63.6 social class/socioeconomic status

#156

Symposium: Operationalizing Liberation Psychology in Research With Immigrant Workers and Marginalized Students

This symposium includes three presentations illustrating the operationalization of liberation psychology principles in multimodal and transtheoretical research with immigrant students, marginalized graduate students, and workers in the community.

Chair: Germán Cadenas, PhD, Lehigh University

Discussant: Christopher Liang, PhD, Lehigh University

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 52

Subject Index: 11.14 vocational/career

#157

Symposium: Critical Consciousness in Career Education Interventions—Current Status and Future Directions

This symposium will explore the integration of critical consciousness (CC) in career education interventions in order to generate discussion and new ideas on how CC may be used to bolster the career development of diverse populations.

Co-chairs: Erin Hardin, PhD, University of Tennessee; Kody Sexton, MEd, University of Tennessee

Discussant: David Blustein, PhD, Boston College

Division: 17

Subject Index: 11.14 vocational/career

#163

Symposium: Multicultural Training Beyond the Classroom—Considerations for Graduate Programs

This program presents strategies to bring more multicultural training opportunities into clinical training programs, with attention to non-classroom experiences. Goals include increasing cultural competence of both graduate students and faculty.

Chair: Deborah Wiese, PhD, Miami University

Discussant: Anthony James, PhD, Miami University

Division: 17

Co-sponsor Division(s): 2, 12, 52

Subject Index: 48.2 education and training

#168

Symposium: Sex Positivity in Counseling Psychology: Practical Implications and Strategies

This symposium will provide practical implications and demonstrations of how to infuse sex-positivity into counseling psychologists' work.

Chair: Theodore Burnes, PhD, Antioch University

Division: 17

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#169

Symposium: Social Justice Leadership—Rationale, Strategies, and Obstacles

This session is part of the Society of Counseling Psychology's Presidential Special Task Group on Social Justice Leadership. Rationale, strategies, and overcoming obstacles to implementing this leadership approach are discussed.

Chair: Femina Varghese, PhD, University of Central Arkansas

Discussant: Tiffany O'Shaughnessy, PhD, San Francisco State University

Division: 17

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#170

Symposium: Promoting Posttraumatic Growth Among Women Working in Majority-Male Emergency Response Professions

Presenters explore the effective, culturally competent treatment of post-traumatic stress in female first responders, including methods to promote posttraumatic growth among women working in disaster response, law enforcement, and fire service.

Co-chairs: Kristen Burda, BA, The Wright Institute; Mark Kamena, PhD, The Wright Institute

Division: 18

Co-sponsor Division(s): 35, 56

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#178

Symposium: Social Justice Inequities Related to Disproportion of Incarcerated Indigenous Women

Indigenous women in America are disproportionately incarcerated, at a rate six times higher than other populations, and experience the lack of behavioral health services during phases of their incarceration. Other challenges exist for these women.

Co-chairs: Iva GreyWolf, PhD, Self-Employed Consultant; Royleen Ross, PhD, Norton Sound Health Corporation

Division: 18

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 41

Subject Index: 29.2 American Indian/Alaska Natives

#181

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Jack Tsai, PhD

Technology is changing how mental health providers conduct research and practice. Public service psychologists can be at the forefront of this evolving landscape. Future directions for psychologists will be discussed.

Division: 18

Subject Index: 69 Technology

#182

Symposium: Assessing and Disarming Identity-Based Harassment in Public Health Care Settings

Pilot data and local best practices for assessing identity-based harassment and providing empowered purposeful responses, aimed at trainees, research personnel, and supervisors, will be presented.

Chair: Katharine Lacefield, PhD, VA San Diego Healthcare System

Discussant: Lynette Adams, PhD, VA Connecticut Healthcare System

Division: 18
Subject Index: 56.5 training education and program evaluation

#183

Symposium: Building Resilient Teams: Implementing Cohesion-Based Training for Military Units

This symposium presents findings from evaluations of three trainings that aim to provide U.S. Army soldiers with the knowledge and skills needed to bolster unit cohesion, intervene with at-risk peers, and model ethical leadership.

Chair: Ian Gutierrez, PhD, Walter Reed Army Institute of Research

Division: 19

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14, 47

Subject Index: 37.2 coaching/training/development

#184

Symposium: Risk Reduction for the U.S. Military: Perspectives of Alcohol, Substances, and Suicide Attempts

This symposium will present three distinct sources of information for alcohol, substances, and suicide attempts among service members and describe implications for ongoing health and readiness.

Chair: Philip Magaletta, PhD, Psychological Health Center of Excellence

Discussant: Fuad Issa, MD, Psychological Health Center of Excellence, Defense Health Agency

Division: 19

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#185

Symposium: Applications of Mindfulness in the Military

This presentation will describe the application of mindfulness practices for elite forces, military trainers, and leaders in military settings.

Chair: Stephen Bowles, PhD, NDU-INSS

Leader: Scott Johnston, PhD, Naval Warfare Warfare Command

Division: 19

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14, 47

Subject Index: 46 Military and Veterans

#186

Symposium: Synopsis of Sexual Assault Among United States Military Populations

This symposium includes a summary of health outcomes associated with sexual assault, data regarding health care utilization following sexual trauma exposure, and integrative treatment approaches to sexual assault.

Chair: Holly O'Reilly, PhD, Psychological Health Center of Excellence

Division: 19

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 56

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#188

Symposium: Ready Psychologist One: Simulation Experiences as Learning in High-Stakes Education

Simulation education is a common practice in many healthcare professions, such as medicine, but is seen less often in psychology. This symposium will review interprofessional examples of simulation education in graduate training.

Co-chairs: Jeffrey Goodie, PhD, Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences; Ryan Landoll, PhD, Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences

Division: 19

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#189

Symposium: The Future of Frontline Psychology: Innovation for the Battlefield

Innovation is crucial as the military prepares to mitigate the effects of combat and operational stress in future operations. This joint panel of military experts presents techniques developed for psychological care on the future battlefield.

Chair: Tim Hoyt, PhD, Psychological Health Center of Excellence

Division: 19

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14, 18

Subject Index: 46 Military and Veterans

#190

Symposium: Psychological Health Care in the Military Health System: A Multi-Level Perspective

This symposium provides an overview of barriers, facilitators, and approaches to psychological healthcare in the Military Health System (MHS). Quantitative and qualitative data will be presented.

Chair: Nancy Skopp, PhD, Psychological Health Center of Excellence

Discussant: Kimberly Pratt, PhD, Psychological Health Center of Excellence

Division: 19

Subject Index: 11.4 evidence-based practice

#191

Symposium: Mischaracterizations and Stereotypes: Military Culture and the Hoffman Report

The assumptions underlining the Hoffman Report are based upon a misunderstanding and mischaracterization of military culture. This panel will seek to set the record straight regarding critical elements of this unique culture.

Chair: Sally Harvey, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 19

Subject Index: 19 Cross-Cultural

#192

Symposium: Preventing Service Member and Veteran Suicide—Ethical Decision-Making and Multilevel Approaches

Ethical decision-making and multilevel interventions for suicide prevention of Service Members and Veterans are discussed. Specific topics: public health approach; employment and education; unifying suicide prevention for Army, Navy, and Air Force. Chair: Ann Landes, PhD, Syracuse VAMC

Division: 19

Subject Index: 46 Military and Veterans

#193

Symposium: Go/No-Go: A Series of Systematic Reviews to Inform Practice Decisions in the Military Health System

Clinical providers and decision makers rely on scientific evidence to inform best practices. This symposium presents the results from a series of systematic reviews conducted to inform pertinent healthcare decisions in the Military Health System. Co-chairs: Bradley Belsher, PhD, Defense Health Agency; Nancy Skopp, PhD, Psychological Health Center of Excellence. Discussant: Bradley Belsher, PhD, Defense Health Agency

Division: 19

Subject Index: 46 Military and Veterans

#194

Symposium: Redefining Readiness—Bridging Human Performance and Psychological Health Approaches for Warfighters

This presentation explores a full-spectrum approach to supporting psychological health and performance optimization in the service of warfighter readiness. Chair: Gloria Park, PhD, Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences/HJF. Discussant: Ryan Landoll, PhD, Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences

Division: 19

Subject Index: 46 Military and Veterans

#195

Symposium: Technology to Support Successful Aging

This session examines the importance of designing technology for use by older adults and addressing barriers to successful adoption. Specific examples of the use of technology to support social interactions, leisure, and cognition are included. Chair: Julie Blaskewicz Boron, PhD, University of Nebraska, Omaha

Division: 20

Co-sponsor Division(s): 21, 40, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 2 Aging

#196

Symposium: Aging, Cognition, and Educational Disparities: An Integrated Approach

This symposium will present research and ideas for dialogue on themes of cognition, aging, and educational disparities within underrepresented groups. It will be a venue for collaborative discussion among panelists and inclusive of the audience. Chair: L. Stephen Miller, PhD, University of Georgia

Division: 20

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 40

Subject Index: 2 Aging

#197

Symposium: Personality Development Across the Lifespan

This symposium explores personality development across the lifespan, including relations between personality, health, and well-being, age-related changes in traits, and recommendations for future research on personality across adulthood. Chair: Lauren Mitchell, PhD, Minneapolis VA & University of Minnesota-Twin Cities. Discussant: Susan Whitbourne, PhD, University of Massachusetts Boston

Division: 20

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 52, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 52 Personality

#199

Symposium: Broad Effects of Early-Life Risk and Resilience on Later Adult Development

Using data from three longitudinal U.S. studies, this symposium investigates the effects of early-life education and adversity on adulthood social and health outcomes, as well as potential mechanisms underlying associations. Co-chairs: A. Zarina Kraal, MS, University of Michigan; Laura Zahodne, PhD, University of Michigan. Discussant: Daniel Keating, PhD, University of Michigan

Division: 20

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7

Subject Index: 21.4 lifespan development

#201

Symposium: Life Course Mechanisms and Moderators of Associations Between Social Relations and Cognitive Aging

With studies of both inter-group differences and intra-individual processes, this symposium examines various aspects of social relations that may facilitate cognitive health across adult development.

Chair: Ketlyne Sol, PhD, University of Michigan

Discussant: Toni Antonucci, PhD, University of Michigan

Division: 20

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 40, 52
Subject Index: 12 Cognition

#202

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Jennifer Margrett, PhD

Division: 20
Subject Index: 2 Aging

#204

Invited Address: Baltes Distinguished Research Achievement Award [Levy]

Div. 20's most prestigious award. This award was established to honor researchers with distinguished careers that have featured exceptional theoretical and empirical contributions to the psychological science of aging.

Division: 20
Subject Index: 2 Aging

#206

Invited Address: Invited Address with Jeremiah Still, PhD

Visual saliency models provide a means to capture stimulus-driven properties that are not apparent. This talk explores recent discoveries that help us understand the influence saliency has on search efficiency across a variety of interfaces.

Division: 21
Subject Index: 31 Experimental (General)

#212

Data-Blitz: Barriers to Rehabilitation Treatment Among Ethnic/Racial Minorities With Acquired Brain Injury

An overview of descriptive data from a study investigating psychosocial, environmental, and institutional barriers to rehabilitation treatment among ethnic/racial and linguistic minorities with acquired brain injury.

Chair: Joseph Rath, PhD, NYU Langone Health
Division: 22
Subject Index: 48 Multicultural

#216

Symposium: Training Under a Big Tent: Experiences With Master's Level Graduate Training in Psychology

The program will orient student attendees, as well as educators and others involved in clinical training and supervision, to the unique opportunities and challenges of master's level training grounded in psychology and the master's licensure process.

Chair: Lynett Henderson Metzger, PsyD, JD, University of Denver
Division: 22
Subject Index: 25.2 professional training

#218

Fellows Address: Fellows Address and Presidential Address

1. The Evolution of Disability Language in Psychology: From Objectification to Individuation to Identification
 2. Interface of Neuropsychology and Rehabilitation Psychology in Pediatrics
 3. Presidential Address: Reflections on Our Responsibilities
- Chair: Kathleen Brown, PhD, Consultant

Division: 22
Subject Index: 57 Rehabilitation

#219

Discussion: Implementing a Trans-Disciplinary Model of Care to Support Patient Advocacy and Inclusion: A Case Example of a Pediatric Patient With Spinal Cord Injury

A single case-study to characterize outcomes and the collaborative roles of members of the inpatient rehabilitation team. Team members will describe their experience working within the trans-disciplinary model, and their approach to patient care.

Chair: Alison Colbert, PhD, Affiliation Missing

Division: 22
Subject Index: 57 Rehabilitation

#220

Skill-Building Session: Novel Therapeutic Approaches to Comprehensive Care in Neurological Rehabilitation

1. Integrative Cognitive Rehabilitation Psychotherapy for Brain Injury: An Overview
2. Chronic Stroke Care in a Veteran Population: The Importance of an Interdisciplinary Approach

Division: 22
Subject Index: 57 Rehabilitation

#221

Symposium: Critical Perspectives on APA Professional Practice Guidelines for Evidence-Based Practice

Critical commentaries and recommendations on the ontological, epistemological, methodological, and/or ethical assumptions reflected by APA's recently drafted "Professional Practice Guidelines" for evidence-based practice.

Chair: Dennis Wendt, PhD, McGill University
Discussants: Joseph Gone, PhD, Harvard University; Michael Westerman, PhD, New York University

Division: 24
Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, 40, 52
Subject Index: 11.4 evidence-based practice

#222

Symposium: The Polarized Mind—A Psychosocial Theory of Human Destructiveness

In this symposium, three presenters representing distinct cultural lineages, the United States, Iran, and Russia respectively, will consider the nature and implications of the polarized mind for human destructiveness, both individual and collective.

Chair: Kirk Schneider, PhD, Independent Practice

Discussant: Louis Hoffman, PhD, Rocky Mountain Humanistic Counseling and Psychological Association

Division: 24

Co-sponsor Division(s): 52

Subject Index: 19 Cross-Cultural

#223

Symposium: Addressing Threats to Human Rights: Contributions From Theoretical and Philosophical Psychology

In this symposium we show how theoretical and philosophical psychology can continue to offer new horizons of understanding emotional distress that are congruent with a human rights framework.

Co-chairs: Chia-Po Cheng, MS, University of Massachusetts Boston; Lisa Cosgrove, PhD, University of Massachusetts Boston

Discussant: Mary Morrissey, PhD, Fordham University Gabelli School of Business

Division: 24

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#224

Symposium: Psychological Technologies and Subjectification of Identity

This panel critically examines psychological technologies of subjectification across contexts and identities. Each paper analyzes methods and constructs with implications for psychological theory, method, and application.

Co-chairs: Susan Opatow, PhD, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, City University of New York; Patrick Sweeney, MA, The Graduate Center, CUNY

Division: 24

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#225

Symposium: Can Human Nature Accounts Accommodate a Rich Understanding of Human Life?

Human-nature-based theories tend to flatten accounts of human life. Three common instances of this are addressed: belonging, evolutionary explanations of mental processes, and the inherent meaning in human activity. An alternative view is presented.

Chair: Blaine Fowers, PhD, University of Miami

Division: 24

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#226

Symposium: Interrogating the Anthropocene: Psychological Theory and Practice in a World on Fire

The contributors to this symposium draw on a range of perspectives to articulate a unique vision of how or whether modern psychology fits within the project of building a more sustainable future.

Co-chairs: Michael Arfken, PhD, University of Prince Edward Island; Erin Thrift, PhD, Simon Fraser University

Division: 24

Subject Index: 27 Environmental

#228

Invited Address: Heidegger on Teaching as Learning

Division: 24

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#229

Symposium: Inhabiting the Liminal—Straddling Human Being and Human Science

These papers instantiate approaches with one foot in the philosophies and methods of psychology, as a science of persons, and the other in the lived, subjective, phenomenal experiences of persons in personal, ethical, and clinical contexts.

Chair: Snjezana Huerta, MA, Simon Fraser University

Division: 24

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#230

Symposium: Studying the Psychosocial Constitution of Subjugation: Theories and Measures of Structural Other-ing

These papers—which focus on inequality, marginalization, and oppression—examine how structural features help forge the characteristics ascribed to persons, contributing both theory and measures to the extant literature.

Chair: Snjezana Huerta, MA, Simon Fraser University

Division: 24

Subject Index: 54 Philosophical/Theoretical

#231

Invited Address: SEAB Dissertation Awards - Basic and Applied Researchers

These two addresses will be (1) Dr. Beth Foley's talk, "The Good Behavior Game: Maintenance and Side Effects in Preschoolers" and (2) Dr. Catherine Steele's talk, "A Translational Approach: Diet, Physiology, and Impulsive Choice in Rats and Humans."

Division: 25

Subject Index: 7 Behavior Analysis

#232

Invited Address: Fred S. Keller Behavioral Education Award

This session will review the current state of programmed instruction in educational settings. The presentation will describe some of the tools and the programming process (e.g., content analysis, objectives, criterion tests, entry repertoire).

Division: 25

Subject Index: 7 Behavior Analysis

#234

Invited Address: Nathan H. Azrin Distinguished Contributions to Applied Behavior Analysis Award

Dr. Tiffany Kodak will present a step-by-step guide to designing and using assessment-based instruction to inform selection of skill-acquisition methods for clients with Autism Spectrum Disorder.

Division: 25

Subject Index: 7 Behavior Analysis

#235

Discussion: Spreading the News: History, Successes, Challenges, and Ethics of Effective Dissemination

The purposes of this presentation are to outline the dissemination efforts of professional associations in the field of behavior analysis and to highlight the parallel efforts to disseminate and establish behavior analysis as a profession.

Division: 25

Subject Index: 7 Behavior Analysis

#236

Invited Address: B.F. Skinner Foundation—Basic New Researcher Award

Dr. Mary Sweeney (2019 recipient) will discuss current research on substance abuse and its treatment from a behavior analytic perspective. Dr. Andrew Craig (2020 recipient) will discuss animal models of resurgence and practical implications.

Division: 25

Subject Index: 6 Autism

#237

Invited Address: Med Associates Distinguished Contributions to Basic Behavior Analysis Award

Dr. Allen Neuringer will discuss the many benefits of reinforcing variability, from facilitating difficult-to-learn tasks to enhancing skilled performance and improving treatment for individuals with stereotypy.

Division: 25

Subject Index: 7 Behavior Analysis

#238

Invited Address: Society for the Experimental Analysis of Behavior Don Hake Translational Research Award

Dr. Iser DeLeon will discuss his translational research exploring the effects of multiple variables, often guided by recent basic process research on learning, choice, and adaptive responding in persons with neurodevelopmental disorders.

Division: 25

Subject Index: 31 Experimental (General)

#240

Discussion: Historical Roots of Interrogation—The Malleus Malificarum as a Model

This discussion will examine the Malleus Maleficarum in the context of psychological interrogation.

Chair: William Woody, PhD, University of Northern Colorado

Division: 26

Subject Index: 34 History

#242

Symposium: International Psychology in New York City: The United Nations and Beyond

This symposium is a review of the history of international psychology in New York City over the past 140 years by several of the participants in and observers of its development.

Chair: Harold Takooshian, PhD, Fordham University—Lincoln Center

Discussant: Grant Rich, PhD, Consulting Psychologist

Division: 26

Subject Index: 34 History

#243

Invited Address: Mary Whiton Calkins Lecture

Invited address Division 26

Division: 26

Subject Index: 34 History

#244

Invited Address: Wallace A. Russell Memorial Lecture

Invited address Division 26 Society for the History of Psychology

Division: 26

Subject Index: 34 History

#245

Discussion: William James, Pluralism, and the Body (and Mind) Politic

Follow-up to Russell Lecture

Division: 26

Subject Index: 34 History

#247

Discussion: Historical Roots of Statistical Thinking in Psychology

This discussion will cover aspects of the historical relation of statistics and psychology, focusing on the shift from individual to group aggregate measures between the eras of Wundt and William Stern and the consequences thereof.

Division: 26

Subject Index: 34 History

#249

Symposium: Intersectional Stigma Matters: A New Cross-Cutting Research Approach

Stigma plays a fundamental role in the perpetuation of health inequities in a range of diseases and conditions. A new cross-cutting research approach to address intersectional stigma and health outcomes will be discussed.

Co-chairs: Gregory Greenwood, PhD, MPH, National Institute of Mental Health; Richard Jenkins, PhD, National Institute on Drug Abuse

Division: 27

Subject Index: 46.2 Research

#252

Symposium: Community-Based Programs That Support Degree Attainment for Economically Marginalized Students

This symposium will share the results of several research projects that explore the structure and impact of community-based college success programs that support the degree attainment of first-generation college students.

Chair: Amanda Case, PhD, Purdue University

Discussant: Genesis Del Real, Purdue University

Division: 27

Subject Index: 25 Education

#254

Skill-Building Session: Empowering Community Members With Lived Experience To Be Full Partners in Mental Health Research

Participants will learn the theory and application of community-academic research partnerships, with emphasis on empowering community members with lived experience to be leaders in all phases of research to address community-identified priorities.

Chair: Diana Arntz, PhD, Massachusetts General Hospital/Harvard Medical School

Division: 27

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, 32

Subject Index: 13 Community

#255

Skill-Building Session: School Turnaround and Prevention—Using Community Psychology Principles to Guide Second-Order Change

School turnaround has been a challenge. Case studies of three urban districts over a 20-year period where change efforts were guided by community psychology principles will illustrate specific skills needed to conceptualize and guide change.

Chair: Maurice Elias, PhD, Rutgers the State University of New Jersey/Piscataway

Division: 27

Subject Index: 55 Prevention

#256

Invited Address: Invited Address with Susan Torres-Harding, PhD

Division 27 Presidential Address

Division: 27

Subject Index: 13 Community

#257

Symposium: Behavioral Economics of Drug Regulation

This symposium will present a number of studies that used novel behavioral economic assessments, using hypothetical decision-making scenarios, to address a variety of issues of high public health and drug regulation significance.

Co-chairs: Sean Dolan, PhD, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine; Matthew Johnson, PhD, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine

Division: 28

Co-sponsor Division(s): 25, 50

Subject Index: 66 Substance Abuse

#258

Invited Address: Outstanding Dissertation Award and Young Psychopharmacologist Award Winner Presentations

Award presentations From the Outstanding Dissertation Award and Young Psychopharmacologist Award Winners

Chair: Justin Strickland, PhD, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine

Division: 28

Subject Index: 53 Psychopharmacology

#259

Invited Address: MED Associates Brady/Schuster Award Winner Presentation

Award presentation from the Division 28 MED Associates Brady/Schuster Award Winner

Chair: Justin Strickland, PhD, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine

Division: 28

Subject Index: 53 Psychopharmacology

#261

Symposium: Mobile Assessment and Intervention in Addiction: Recent Advances

Mobile devices are increasingly used for assessment and intervention in addiction. We will describe recent advances in this, to include use of machine learning methods, use of wearable devices, and use of mobile devices for intervention.

Co-chairs: Vijay Ramchandani, PhD, National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA); Andrew Waters, PhD, Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences

Discussant: Vijay Ramchandani, PhD, National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA)

Division: 28

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#266

Symposium: Modeling the Cultural Processes of Psychotherapy Across Training Contexts

This panel will discuss the ways in which the cultural processes associated with psychotherapy (e.g., multicultural orientation) can be modeled and have value for trainees across contexts that prepare them for psychotherapeutic intervention.

Chair: Joanna Drinane, PhD, University of Utah

Discussant: Zachary Imel, PhD, University of Utah

Division: 29

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5, 12, 17, 45

Subject Index: 48.2 education and training

#267

Symposium: Addressing Classism and Other Barriers to Psychotherapy for People Living in Poverty

This symposium focuses on addressing classism and other barriers to psychotherapy for people living in poverty, describing research on effective therapist characteristics with low-SES populations, and inviting attendees to participate in discussion.

Chair: Susan Woodhouse, PhD, Lehigh University

Division: 29

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 12, 17, 27, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 11.10 psychotherapy/treatment-methods

#269

Symposium: A Five-Country RCT Comparing Group Plus Individual Schema Therapy to Specialized TAU for Borderline PD

Results of a large RCT to evaluate combinations of group and individual schema therapy for BPD vs. TAU, cost-effectiveness, study of patient and therapist perceptions, training and supervision method with published treatment manuals and a DVD.

Chair: George Lockwood, PhD, IUPUI

Discussant: Joan Farrell, PhD, Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis

Division: 29

Co-sponsor Division(s): 52, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 74.3 research

#271

Symposium: Liberation Psychotherapy: Urban Liberation, LGBTQ+ populations, and Therapeutic Relationship

Liberation psychotherapy addresses oppression in a decolonial, affirmative, and empowerment manner. Using critical consciousness and promoting social justice action, therapists accompany clients in their healing and liberatory journey.

Chair:

Edil Torres Rivera, PhD, Wichita State University;

Discussants:

Thema Bryant-Davis, PhD, Pepperdine University;

Edil Torres Rivera, PhD, Wichita State University

Division: 29

Co-sponsor Division(s): 17, 27, 44

Subject Index: 11.10 psychotherapy/treatment-methods

#272

Symposium: A Contextual Approach to Trauma Treatment: Correspondence With Emerging Research on Complex PTSD

A treatment model for Complex PTSD consistent with investigations that led to the inclusion of the diagnosis in the ICD-11 will be presented.

Chair: Steven Gold, PhD, Nova Southeastern University

Discussant: Bryan Reuther, PsyD, Indian River State College

Division: 29

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 19, 35, 56

Subject Index: 11.10 psychotherapy/treatment-methods

#275

Presidential Address: Presidential Report: Updates, Awards, and New Leadership

Chair: Eric Willmarth, PhD, Saybrook University

Division: 30

Subject Index: 36 Hypnosis

#278

Invited Address: 2020 Award for Distinguished Contributions to Scientific Hypnosis

Chair: Donald Moss, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 30

Subject Index: 36 Hypnosis

#279

Skill-Building Session: Applications of Physiological Monitoring in Hypnosis Practice

Chair: John Mohl, PhD, Bucks County Community College

Division: 30

Subject Index: 36 Hypnosis

#283

Symposium: Psychologists' Impact on Public Policy and Law—Legislative Collaboration With Results

Psychologists often undervalue the impact their psychological science and clinical expertise add the development of healthcare policy and legislation. Legislators collaborating with psychologists are most effectively introduce laws.

Chair: Jorge Wong, PhD, Richmond Area Multi-Services (RAMS), Inc.

Discussant: Maureen O'Connor, PhD, JD, Palo Alto University

Division: 31

Co-sponsor Division(s): 41, 48

Subject Index: 56 Psychology Policy and Training Issues

#284

Symposium: Lessons Learned From Small State Psychological Associations—Growing Membership and Setting Priorities

SPTAs struggle with membership declines and small states are in crisis. The CT Psychological Association (CPA) presents data and steps taken to counter this trend, followed by a small state panel discussion of strategies relevant to all SPTAs.

Chair: Jessica Guite, PhD, CT Psychological Association (CPA) / University of Connecticut

Discussants: Elisabeth Gibbings, PsyD, Independent Practice; Anne Klee, PhD, Independent Practice; Peter Oppenheimer, PhD, Feil & Oppenheimer Psychological Services

Division: 31

Subject Index: 56.2 professional issues

#288

Symposium: Training a Workforce In Pain Management Through SPTAs

This symposium outlines the development of and advocacy for a psychology workforce development program n pain management through use of SPTAs.

Chair: Elena Eisman, EdD, retired

Discussant: Daniel Bruns, PsyD, Health Psychology Associates

Division: 31

Subject Index: 33 Health Psychology/Behavioral Medicine

#290

Symposium: CPT Use and Advocacy—What You Need to Know

There have been recent updates to the current procedural terminology (CPT) codes. Although there have been some advantages there has also been some difficulties. This session will discuss how to use the codes and advocacy opportunities.

Chair: Antonio Puente, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 31

Subject Index: 56.2 professional issues

#292

Symposium: New Directions in Constructivist Psychotherapy

Constructivist perspectives on the community reinforcement approach (CRA) to substance abuse treatment, motivational interviewing, sex therapy, and diversity.

Co-chairs: Donald Domenici, PhD, Dickinson College; Amberly

Panepinto, PhD, University at Buffalo_–State University of New York

Discussants: Donald Domenici, PhD, Dickinson College; Amberly

Panepinto, PhD, University at Buffalo_–State University of New York

Division: 32

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 11.10 psychotherapy/treatment-methods

#293

Symposium: Eros and Psyche—Existential-Humanistic Approaches to Sexuality

The presenters will outline existential-humanistic approaches to working with various sexual issues in clinical settings.

Chair: Brent Robbins, PhD, Point Park University

Discussant: Brent Robbins, PhD, Point Park University

Division: 32

Subject Index: 61 Sexual Behavior/Functioning

#295

Symposium: Indigenous Resistance Here and Aboard—Environmental activism and the Human costs

Indigenous Activists are leading the climate change movement around the world. Here they are subject to harsher treatment by police/courts. Abroad they are often assassinated. We will share stories of eco-martyrs aboard and environmental racism here.

Chair: Richard Bargdill, PhD, VCU

Discussant: Vanessa Bolin, Medic

Division: 32

Subject Index: 51.1 human rights

#296

Symposium: Humanistic and Existential Approaches to Multiculturalism and Diversity—Advancing the Dialogue

This symposium explores humanistic and existential approaches to multiculturalism and diversity, including the parallel history of Black psychology and humanistic psychology, cultural empathy, microaggressions, and social justice issues.

Co-chairs: Louis Hoffman, PhD, Rocky Mountain Humanistic

Counseling and Psychological Association; Heatherlyn Hoffman,

PhD, University of Colorado Colorado Springs

Discussant: Helen Neville, PhD, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Division: 32

Subject Index: 48 Multicultural

#297

Symposium: Presence, Becoming, and Self-Creation in Existential Psychotherapy

Original thinking by psychotherapists about psychotherapy process in an age of existential threat. Phenomenological descriptions and therapy vignettes illustrate a new, inclusive, global perspective on existential psychotherapy practice.

Chair: Will Wadlington, PhD, Independent Practice

Discussant: Kirk Schneider, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 32

Subject Index: 11.10 psychotherapy/treatment-methods

#299

Symposium: Self-Knowledge and Self-Creation in Existential Psychotherapy

The art and science of experiential teaching and learning will be presented. Exemplars of experiential teaching in psychometrics and multicultural psychology curriculum will be provided.

Chair: Shannon Chavez-Korell, PhD, Michigan School of Psychology

Discussant: Markeda Newell, PhD, Loyola University - Chicago

Division: 32

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#300

Symposium: Parent Training as an Evidenced-Based Model in Autism Spectrum Disorder

This symposium will present on evidenced-based parent training programs in diverse settings to target disruptive behaviors, bedtime and sleep disturbances, and improve dental care.

Chair: Eric Butter, PhD, Nationwide Children's Hospital

Division: 33

Co-sponsor Division(s): 15, 16, 25, 29, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 6 Autism

#301

Symposium: Destigmatizing Academic Experiences of Tenure Track Faculty in IDD/ASD

Intersectionality of IDD/ASD introduces new challenges for ECPs who may feel unequipped to tackle on new faculty or clinical positions. This session provides tips for successful transitions.

Chair: Geovanna Rodriguez, PhD, University of Oregon

Division: 33

Co-sponsor Division(s): 25

Subject Index: 24 Early Career

#302

Symposium: Parenting Individuals With ASD—Developmental, Measurement, and Clinical Investigations

This symposium highlights research and theory on the potentially powerful role of parenting in promoting the development of individuals with ASD from childhood to young adulthood.

Chair: Jason Baker, PhD, California State University-Fullerton

Discussant: Bruce Baker, PhD, University of California-Los Angeles

Division: 33

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5, 7, 25, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 6 Autism

#303

Symposium: Which Hat am I Wearing? Addressing the Dual Roles of the Neurodevelopmental Clinician and Researcher

This symposium will aim to engage psychologists in a discussion around questions and challenges commonly faced by clinicians in a research setting.

Chair: Anne Wheeler, PhD, RTI International

Division: 33

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 29

Subject Index: 74 Work/Employment/Careers

#304

Skill-Building Session: Blurred Boundaries—Autism Spectrum and Co-morbid Disorders

Diagnosis of co-morbid learning, emotional and/or neurodevelopmental disorders is critical for developing appropriate treatment for individuals with ASDs.

Chair: Melanie Johnson, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 33

Co-sponsor Division(s): 25

Subject Index: 6 Autism

#305

Symposium: Climate Change/Challenges—Supporting Everyday Eco-Heroes and a Youth Environmental Movement

Past APA Presidents Albert Bandura & Philip Zimbardo will address climate change using Social Cognitive Theory. Presenting challenges, youth as role models, and innovative practices, we encourage everyday eco-behaviors and our collective efficacy.

Chair: Shari Young Kuchenbecker, PhD, Western Positive Psychology Association (WPPA)

Division: 34

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 9, 27, 48

Subject Index: 27 Environmental

#306

Symposium: Sex for Good—Using Psychology to Break Taboos, Advance Human Rights, and Aid Conservation

Human population growth and consumption are tied to our environmental challenges. Family planning is a solution. Learn how creative media, social marketing and entertainment education bring this taboo subject to light using rights-based programming.

Chair: Stacia Dreyer, PhD, Arizona State University

Discussant: Bob Walker, JD, Population Institute

Division: 34

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 35, 37, 43, 46

Subject Index: 42 Media/Public Information

#307

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Ezra Markowitz, PhD

Current president of Division 34 Ezra Markowitz and incoming president Daniel Benkendorf will reflect on past and future directions for the division and field of environmental, population and conservation psychology.

Division: 34

Subject Index: 27 Environmental

#308

Symposium: Climate Change, Communities, and Health—Identifying the Multi-Level Benefits of Nature Exposure

Presenters will describe four studies that utilized diverse methodologies to examine the positive effects of nature exposure as well as the risks that climate change poses to the availability of nature experiences for diverse communities.

Chair: Patricia Winter, PhD, Pacific Southwest Research Station, U.S. Forest Service

Division: 34

Subject Index: 27 Environmental

#309

Symposium: Increasing Pro-Environmental Behavior—The Role of Conversation, Deep-Level Diversity, and Emotions

Three speakers will share research exploring several factors thought to influence pro-environmental behavior including the influence of environmentally-focused conversations, anticipated and experienced emotions, and deep-level diversity.

Chair: Nicole Sintov, PhD, The Ohio State University

Division: 34

Subject Index: 27 Environmental

#310

Data-Blitz: Environmental and Conservation Psychology—A Survey of New Developments

Researchers with interests spanning the fields of environmental and conservation psychology will share findings on predictors of weather preparedness, the role of masculinity, impacts of environmental disaster, and biodiversity conservation efforts

Division: 34

Subject Index: 27 Environmental

#315

Skill-Building Session: Addressing Sizeism in Mental Health Care—Ethical Concerns and Experiential Practice

Supporting clients' weight-loss efforts raises serious ethical concerns for psychologists. A paradigm shift is needed, away from a focus on weight loss and toward a weight-neutral, size-inclusive approach to treatment.

Chair: Catharine Devlin, PsyD, Independent Practice

Division: 35

Subject Index: 33.5 health equity/disparities

#316

Discussion: Roundtable Discussions: Feminist Perspectives on Research and Training

This discussion will focus on feminist perspectives on research and training.

Division: 35

Subject Index: 73 Women's Studies/Psychology of Women

#318

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Monique Clinton-Sherrod, PhD

Presidential address for Division 35, the Society for the Psychology of Women, given by Dr. Monique Clinton-Sherrod.

Division: 35

Subject Index: 73 Women's Studies/Psychology of Women

#320

Symposium: Speaking Out in Solidarity: Explorations of Anti-Sexual Assault Activism and the #MeToo Movement

In this symposium, we describe (1) the role that social activism plays in the lives of sexual assault survivors, (2) factors that contribute to decisions to share #MeToo stories, and (3) reactions to #MeToo as a mainstream anti-violence movement.

Chair: Dawn Szymanski, PhD, University of Tennessee

Discussant: Rachel Carretta, MA, University of Tennessee

Division: 35

Co-sponsor Division(s): 27, 44, 46, 51, PC

Subject Index: 73 Women's Studies/Psychology of Women

#321

Symposium: Exploring the Use of Consciousness-Raising Groups for Sexual Assault Prevention

The following symposium explores the use of a consciousness-raising group centered on bystander behavior, rape culture, and the role of social influence and sexual expectations towards the prevention of sexual assault on college campuses.

Chair: Michael Cadaret, PhD, Chatham University
Discussant: Nicole Johnson, PhD, Lehigh University
Division: 35
Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, 51
Subject Index: 55 Prevention

#322

Symposium: Emerging Areas of Science, Practice, and Education With LGBTQ People

The Section for Lesbian, Bisexual, and Trans People's Concerns (Section 4) of the Division of the Psychology of Women presents our annual symposium on emerging areas of science, practice, and education with LGBTQ people.

Co-chairs: Megan Carpenter, PhD, St Lawrence University; Corey Flanders, PhD, Mount Holyoke College
Discussant: Elliot Tebbe, PhD, University of Minnesota

Division: 35

Co-sponsor Division(s): 27, 29, 44, 52, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

#325

Symposium: Centering Race and Identity in Feminist Mentoring—Narratives of Asian American Mentor-Mentee Dyads

By exploring narratives of three Asian American mentor-mentee dyads, this session builds on the multicultural feminist mentoring theories. We discuss centering race and identities in a relational space, and consider issues of power and activism.

Chair: Grace Kim, PhD, Boston University

Division: 35

Co-sponsor Division(s): 8, 27, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 44 Mentoring

#328

Symposium: Integrating Feminist Intersectional Perspectives into the Psychology Curriculum

The psychology curriculum needs greater infusion of scholarship on women, gender and multicultural psychology from a feminist intersectional perspective. Experienced instructors review scholarship and offer strategies and tips for classroom success.

Chair: Kathryn Quina, PhD, University of Rhode Island
Discussant: Jasmine Mena, PhD, Bucknell University

Division: 35

Co-sponsor Division(s): 2, 27

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#329

Discussion: Roundtable Discussions: Rethinking Feminist Perspectives and Practice

This discussion will include roundtable discussions focused on rethinking feminist perspectives and practice.

Division: 35

Subject Index: 73 Women's Studies/Psychology of Women

#330

Discussion: Roundtable Discussions: Considering the Lived Experiences of Womxn of Color

This discussion will include roundtable discussions focused on considering the lived experiences of womxn of color.

Division: 35

Subject Index: 73.1 women and girls of color

#331

Discussion: Roundtable Discussions—Considering Feminist Perspectives in Mental Health and Treatment

This discussion will include roundtable discussions addressing feminist perspectives in mental health and treatment.

Division: 35

Subject Index: 73 Women's Studies/Psychology of Women

#332

Symposium: Burnout Among Professionals—A Medical, Psychological, and Spiritual Approach

Stressed? Come and learn about burnout among mental health professionals and learn the powerful model of Sufi Psychology, the science of the soul, and research behind reducing the effects of stress and avoiding burnout using Sufi Meditation.

Chair: Farnoosh Nouri, PhD, Southern Methodist University and Texas Woman's University

Division: 36

Co-sponsor Division(s): 13, 14, 29, 40

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#333

Symposium: Religious Meaning-Making in Cancer—Quantitative and Qualitative Approaches

Religious meaning-making is an important coping strategy in cancer patients. Here we present new research investigating religion-specific resources for meaning-making and the influence of religious meaning-making on cancer-related outcomes.

Chair: Liz Hall, PhD, Biola

Discussant: Jamie Aten, PhD, Wheaton College

Division: 36

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#334

Symposium: Fostering Spiritual Competencies in Mental Health Training and Care

This symposium presents the findings from three interrelated projects designed to inform and catalyze systematic and effective training of mental health professionals in spiritual and religious competencies.

Chair: Kenneth Pargament, PhD, Bowling Green State University

Division: 36

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 48.2 education and training

#335

Symposium: Investigating Sacred Moments in Ordinary Musical Experience

This symposium reports on pioneering research on sacred moments that people experience in music. Sacred moments are commonplace across a variety of genres of music, predictable, and tied to multiple indicators of well-being.

Chair: Kenneth Pargament, PhD, Bowling Green State University

Division: 36

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#336

Symposium: Clergy Health in the Sexual Abuse Scandal Era—New Perspectives in Theory, Research, and Practice

Clergy sexual abuse of minors has inflicted trauma on victims. The goal of institutional religions is to prevent such abuse from occurring. Examining clergy health from diverse perspectives allows for multiple pathways of prevention and remediation.

Chair: Anthony Isacco, PhD, Chatham University

Discussant: Patricia Kelly, PhD, Kelly Counseling and Consulting

Division: 36

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#337

Symposium: Conceptual and Methodological Advances in Measurement in the Psychology of Religion and Spirituality

Innovative approaches to measurement of religion/spirituality are presented and discussed, including reviewing current standards of measurement and new measures of Christian sanctification of suffering and head versus heart beliefs.

Chair: Crystal Park, PhD, University of Connecticut

Discussant: Don Davis, PhD, Georgia State University

Division: 36

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#338

Symposium: Spiritual Bypass—Empirical Steps Toward Understanding Spiritual Avoidance

Four empirical studies will be presented in this symposium that examine spiritual bypass in different populations: clients receiving outpatient mental healthcare, yoga practitioners, the general public, college students, and trauma survivors.

Chair: Gina Magyar-Russell, PhD, Loyola University

Division: 36

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#339

Symposium: In Pursuit of a More Universal Psychology of Religion

How might empiricism have hindered the development of a truly universal psychology of religion? Presenters will suggest that an increased focus on particularity, pluralism, worldview, and ultimacy could provide an antidote.

Chair: Eric Johnson, PhD, Houston Baptist University

Division: 36

Co-sponsor Division(s): 26

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#340

Symposium: Psychotherapy and Religious Commitment—Client-Therapist Interactions

Preliminary analysis of symptoms and religiosity in a large, routine therapy sample: To date, symptoms, religiosity, and spirituality have been assessed during 8,800 sessions among 1,300 clients, and 55 therapists. Follow is complete for 500 clients.

Chair: Stevan Nielsen, PhD, Brigham Young University

Discussant: David Erekson, PhD, Brigham Young University

Division: 36

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#341

Symposium: Interfaith Dialogue—Views From Diverse Clergy Persons

A Catholic priest, a Jewish rabbi, two Protestant and Unitarian Universalist Reverends, and a Buddhist practitioner all discuss how to promote interfaith dialogue from the perspective of their religions.

Chair: Kevin Harris, PhD, Our Lady of the Lake University

Discussants: Steven Handwerker, PhD, The International Association for the Advancement of Human Welfare, Inc.; Kevin Harris, PhD, Our Lady of the Lake University

Division: 36

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#342

Symposium: Exploring How Religion Promotes Mental Health and Well-being in Minorities Across the Life Span

This symposium explores how mental health is associated with private religious practices and religious identity development in Latinx youth, and how religious congregations promote mental health care attitudes among African American adults.

Co-Chair: Laura McKee, PhD, Georgia State University

Division: 36

Co-sponsor Division(s): 20, 29

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#344

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Kari O'Grady, PhD

Current social challenges call the psychology of religion and spirituality to a new plane. We must reach beyond our stovepipes and well-worn ruts through expanded partnerships, inclusive membership, and research aligned with pressing social concerns.

Division: 36

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#347

Symposium: Do Early Childhood Preventive Interventions Prevent Later Suicide Ideation and Behaviors?

This symposium will examine the long-term and cross-over effects, unanticipated beneficial effects, of three prevention interventions delivered in early childhood on suicide ideation and behaviors in adolescence through young adulthood.

Co-chairs: Eve Reider, PhD, National Institute of Mental Health, NIH; Belinda Sims, PhD, National Institute on Drug Abuse

Discussant: Jane Pearson, PhD, National Institute of Mental Health

Division: 37

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 16, 17, 29, 45, 53, 54

Subject Index: 55 Prevention

#348

Symposium: Promoting Resilience in Families Experiencing Homelessness Through Evidence-Based Practice

Children and families experiencing homelessness are at risk for physical/mental health problems. Responsive parenting may promote resilience, yet interventions with homeless families are understudied. Three intervention studies will be discussed.

Chair: Karen Carmody, PhD, Duke University

Discussant: Sandra Azar, PhD, Penn State University Park

Division: 37

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 16, 17, 29, 43, 52, 54

Subject Index: 21.2 parenting and the family

#351

Symposium: Frontlines Partnerships Promote Empirically-Based Services for Immigrant Families

There is enormous need for research that informs immigration policy and advocates for services for children and families. Essential to such research are close and collaborative partnerships with the front lines agencies, clinics, and systems.

Chair: Sita Patel, PhD, Palo Alto University

Division: 37

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 16, 17, 43, 52, 53, 54

Subject Index: 39.1 immigration

#353

Invited Address: APA Division 37 Distinguished Awardees: Celebrating the Work of Advocates for Children and Families

Distinguished Contribution to Child Advocacy Award: The Way Out Most Lead In, Reflections on Advocacy Across Four Decades.
Nicholas Hobbs Award: Food and Family- Translating Research for Policy and Practice to Affect Children's Health and Wellbeing.
Chair: Amy Damashek, PhD, Western Michigan University

Division: 37

Subject Index: 21.2 parenting and the family

#354

Invited Address: Invited Address with Gail S. Goodman, PhD

We provide new scientific findings on children's and adults' reports of child maltreatment. Findings are discussed in light of factors such as age at encoding, disclosure of child sexual abuse, and predictors of accuracy and "lost memory".

Co-chairs: Stephanie Block, PhD, University of Massachusetts Lowell; Colleen Cullinan, PhD, Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children

Division: 37

Subject Index: 10 Child Abuse

#355

Symposium: Approaches to Palliative Care, Death, and Dying

This symposium will address how psychologists work within palliative care settings and discuss topics of grief, goals of care, and death.

Chair: Michelle Tan, PsyD, Independent Practice

Discussant: Michelle Tan, PsyD, Independent Practice

Division: 38

Co-sponsor Division(s): 20

Subject Index: 20 Death Dying and Bereavement

#356

Symposium: Pain and Somatization In 2020: Explaining and Treating "Medically Unexplained" Conditions

Recent research in biology is revolutionizing our understanding of the biopsychosocial model and the mind-body relationship. These findings help provide explanations and treatments for mysterious pain and somatic conditions.

Chair: Daniel Bruns, PsyD, Health Psychology Associates

Division: 38

Subject Index: 33 Health Psychology/Behavioral Medicine

#357

Symposium: How to Get Involved in Health Policy

Psychologists' research and clinical experiences matter and can inform health-related policies. This symposium will address national policy, state policy, gaps in psychologists' approach to policy, and offer discussion from APA Advocacy.

Chair: Kristen Riley, PhD, Rutgers the State University of New Jersey

Discussant: Katherine McGuire, PhD, APA

Division: 38

Subject Index: 40 Law

#358

Symposium: Fatigue in Chronic Illness: Exploration of Measurement and Mechanisms

Fatigue is experienced by virtually everyone. But it is difficult to characterize because it is a complex interaction between biological, psychosocial, and behavioral processes. This symposium will explore the measurement and mechanisms of fatigue.

Chair: Ali Weinstein, PhD, George Mason University

Discussant: Lynn Gerber, MD, Inova Fairfax Hospital

Division: 38

Subject Index: 33 Health Psychology/Behavioral Medicine

#359

Symposium: Adult Pre-Surgical Psychosocial Evaluations in Health Settings

Information will be provided on how to conduct adult pre-surgical evaluations within a variety of treatment teams, including solid organ transplant and oncological services.

Chair: Maria Olex, PsyD, Henry Ford Health System

Discussant: Maria Olex, PsyD, Henry Ford Health System

Division: 38

Subject Index: 33 Health Psychology/Behavioral Medicine

#360

Symposium: Leveraging Technology to Address Health Behaviors and Health Risks Among At-Risk Populations

This symposium highlights the great variability in how technological innovations can be leveraged among at-risk populations to help support positive health behavior change and minimize health risks.

Chair: Jasmine Manalel, PhD, National Institutes of Health

Division: 38

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14, 29, 33

Subject Index: 33 Health Psychology/Behavioral Medicine

#362

Discussion: Religious Psychoanalytic Therapists, Religious Patients—New Perspectives

Religiously identified psychoanalytic psychotherapists, from diverse faith backgrounds, will present on their work with religiously identified patients, identifying frameworks for working affirmatively and effectively with religious patients.

Chair: Richard Ruth, PhD, George Washington University

Division: 39

Subject Index: 11.10.2 dynamic/psychoanalytic

#363

Symposium: Our Pasts and Pain—Utilizing the Therapist's Own Experiences

This symposium will examine the pressure for the psychodynamic therapist/supervisor to be both healed and healer. By accessing the traumatized parts of ourselves, we may better understand enactments with patients/supervisees, and within our field.

Chair: Celeste Kelly, PsyD, George Washington University

Discussant: Paul Gedo, PhD, George Washington University

Division: 39

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#367

Symposium: How Research Fails Diversity and Intersectionality—Improved Statistics and Clinical Implications

Several studies demonstrate how diversity effects and intersectionality can be missed in research. Implications for research, meta-analyses, the replication crisis and clinical work are discussed, along with case study illustrations.

Chair: James Sexton, PhD, George Washington University

Discussant: Katherine Marshall Woods, PsyD, George Washington University

Division: 39

Subject Index: 48.4 intersectionality

#368

Skill-Building Session: Skill-Building Workshop to Prepare for Specialty-Track Pre-Doctoral Internships

Co-chairs: Zachary Resch, MS, Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine and Science; Scott Sperling, PsyD, MA, University of Virginia

Division: 40

Subject Index: 44 Mentoring

#369

Symposium: The A to Z of K to R

This interactive workshop will provide strategies and tips to trainees and early career psychologists on how to successfully apply and leverage modern-day funding mechanisms to establish and maintain a sustainable research program.

Co-chairs: Michael Alosco, PhD, Boston University School of Medicine; Donna Murdaugh, PhD, University of Alabama at Birmingham

Division: 40

Subject Index: 24 Early Career

#371

Invited Address: Invited Address with Gerard A. Gioia, PhD

Diagnosis and treatment of pediatric mild traumatic brain injury requires evidence-informed clinical assessment and targeted treatment methodology. This lecture presents the latest evidence-based guidelines for mTBI in children within a collaborative

Division: 40

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

#372

Invited Address: Invited Address with Kenneth Podell, PhD and Munro Cullum, PhD

This presentation provides an overview of how to develop a teleneuropsychology program discussing the research, application, technology, and regulatory changes along with tips and resources for developing a teleneuropsychology practice.

Division: 40

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

#373

Invited Address: Invited Address with Cynthia Kubu, PhD

This presentation will review empirical data relevant to ethical questions that arise in the context of functional neurosurgery, using deep brain stimulation in the treatment of motor symptoms of Parkinson's disease as a model.

Division: 40

Subject Index: 28 Ethics

#374

Invited Address: Invited Address with Alison, Cernich, PhD

This presentation will provide an overview of new technology applications and advances in neuroscience that will impact the field of neuropsychology and neurorehabilitation in the next decade.

Division: 40

Subject Index: 57 Rehabilitation

#377

Symposium: Cognitive Aging and LGBTQ Older Adults Across the Continuum of Care

Chair: Mira Krishnan, PhD, Independent Practice

Discussant: Walter Boot, PhD, Florida State University

Division: 40

Subject Index: 2 Aging

#378

Symposium: Neuromodulation of Cognition in Aging and Dementia

Chair: John Williamson, PhD, University of Florida

Division: 40

Subject Index: 2.1 Alzheimer's disease/dementia

#379

Symposium: The 2019 CPT Testing Codes—History, Description, Challenges, and Reimbursement

This symposium offers an opportunity to gain up-to-date information regarding the new CPT testing codes in a variety of clinical practice models.

Chair: Antonio Puente, PhD, University of North Carolina at Wilmington

Discussant: Stephen Gillaspay, PhD, APA

Division: 40

Subject Index: 70 Testing/Assessment

#380

Symposium: Beyond Recruitment—Supporting the Success of Diverse Individuals in Neuropsychology

Chair: Michelle Madore, PhD, VA Palo Alto HCS

Division: 40

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

#381

Symposium: Honoring the Original SCN Women in Neuropsychology (WIN) Board—Reflections on How Far We've Come

To mark the 20th anniversary of the SCN Women in Neuropsychology group, the original board members will discuss leadership and mentoring, gender parity in neuropsychology, change in women's representation since the inception of WIN, culturally-tailored mentoring, and intersectionality.

Chair: Paula Shear, PhD, UW-Milwaukee

Discussant: Krista Lisdahl, PhD, UW-Milwaukee

Division: 40

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

#382

Symposium: Modifiable Factors in Cognitive Aging

This session examines factors associated with normal and pathological cognitive aging as well as techniques that may maximize and prolong cognition.

Chair: Benjamin Hampstead, PhD, University of Michigan

Division: 40
Subject Index: 12.2 Cognitive Neuroscience

#383

Data-Blitz: Psychology and Law Data-Blitz

Division: 41
Subject Index: 40 Law

#384

Discussion: Want to Increase the Number of Forensic Psychologists of Color? Start by Listening

There are still many barriers for POC students interested in a career in forensic psychology. Experienced forensic psychologists of color will discuss their career paths, highlighting the challenges and solutions that can be implemented.

Co-chairs: Lara Guzmán-Hosta, PsyD, MA Department of Mental Health/Forensic Services Division; Antoinette Kavanaugh, PhD, Forensic Psychology and Evaluation Services

Division: 41
Co-sponsor Division(s): 45
Subject Index: 40.1 clinical/forensic

#385

Skill-Building Session: The Forensic Mental Health Assessment of Latinx—State of Affairs and Way Forward

This session will highlight the relevant forensic literature/practice guidelines associated with the assessment of Latinx. The aim is for participants to conduct comprehensive and culturally appropriate services for this underserved population.

Chair:
Lara Guzmán-Hosta, PsyD, Private Practice

Division: 41
Co-sponsor Division(s): 45, 52
Subject Index: 40.1 clinical/forensic

#387

Symposium: Sexual Offenders and Technology—Taking Another Look

Internet access is necessary for participation in today's society, making it no longer realistic to deny access to this human right to sex offenders. This access poses a variety of concerns, risks, complications, and legal issues.

Chair: Nena Kircher, PsyD, Independent Practice

Division: 41
Subject Index: 61 Sexual Behavior/Functioning

#391

Symposium: An Exploration of Jail-Based Competency Restoration Programs (JBCRPs) Across the United States

This research will provide a comprehensive overview of JBCRPs throughout the United States. Salient intervention factors for competency restoration will be identified.

Co-chairs: Douglas Lewis, PsyD, MEd, Emory University School of Medicine; Tomina Schwenke, PhD, Emory University School of Medicine

Discussant: Glenn Egan, PhD, Emory University School of Medicine

Division: 41
Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 18
Subject Index: 18 Crime/Delinquency

#393

Skill-Building Session: Evidence-Based Approaches for Addressing Parental Psychopathology in Child Treatment

Using case examples, this skill-building session will discuss evidence-based approaches for addressing parental psychopathology within child behavioral treatment.

Co-chairs: Christina Danko, PhD, University of Maryland, College Park; Kriston Schellinger, PhD, UC San Diego Health

Division: 42
Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, 54
Subject Index: 11.4 evidence-based practice

#394

Discussion: Using Podcasts to Grow Your Practice

Fifty-one percent of the U.S. population has listened to a podcast in the past year. If you are trying to reach your ideal client, there's a good chance they listen to podcasts, and you can reach them there.

Chair: Joy Harden Bradford, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 42
Co-sponsor Division(s): 29
Subject Index: 74.2 practice

#395

Skill-Building Session: Psychologists' Essential Role in the Collaborative Divorce Process—Minimizing Collateral Damage

Psychologists play a critical role in Collaborative Divorce by addressing the emotions that frequently sabotage legal negotiations, building developmentally appropriate parenting plans, and managing the process of the collaborative team.

Co-chairs: Abby Cole, PhD, Independent Practice; Elaine Ducharme, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 42
Co-sponsor Division(s): 29
Subject Index: 11.12 marital/family therapy

#397

Symposium: How to Choose an App for Clinical Care? Choosing Apps Based on Published Competencies

Clients rely on psychologists to know which apps to use for their care. Based on published competencies and other consensus data, this program will provide up-to-date guidance.

Co-chairs: Marlene Maheu, PhD, Telebehavioral Health Institute, LLC; Shawna Wright, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 42

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 29

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#398

Symposium: The Reality of Self-Care in the 21st Century

This discussion focuses on practical issues related to self-care, including strategies to maintain work-life balance in the real world and tips to protect your digital reputation, while engaging in common online modalities of self-care.

Chair: Nena Kircher, PsyD, Independent Practice

Division: 42

Subject Index: 56.2 professional issues

#399

Symposium: What Research Implies for Private Practitioners' Positive Online Presence

Study of fictional mental health practitioner profiles finds experiential comments were especially impactful on potential consumers' perceived bond. Solutions will be provided for clinicians on handling negative online evaluations from clients.

Chair: D'Arcy Reynolds, Jr., PhD, Southeast Missouri State University

Division: 42

Subject Index: 69.2 social media

#400

Symposium: Intersection of Specialty Recognition, Practice, and Regulation—Ethical Considerations

Specialty practitioner development will be discussed using the APA Taxonomy, examples from pain and school psychology. Licensing, certification, and division perspectives will frame the conversation.

Co-chairs: Rebecca Cameron, PhD, California State University, Sacramento; Breedha McGrath, PhD, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology

Division: 42

Co-sponsor Division(s): 16, 31, 43

Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#401

Symposium: Ethics and Risk Management in Forensic Evaluations and Settings

This symposium presents a forensic ethics model, critiques the adjustment of I.Q. scores in death-sentenced intellectually impaired defendants, reviews the assessment of trauma and response style, and offers techniques in interacting with attorneys.

Chair: Joe Scropo, PhD, JD, Forensic Psychology Consulting PLLC

Division: 42

Co-sponsor Division(s): 41, 53

Subject Index: 28 Ethics

#405

Symposium: Coping With Family Caregiving—Interpersonal Resources and Psychosocial Strategies

This symposium highlights the psychological and social resources that caregivers can leverage to buffer caregiver-related stress, providing insight into adaptive coping strategies across a variety of caregiving conditions.

Chair: Jasmine Manalel, PhD, National Institutes of Health

Division: 43

Subject Index: 32 Family

#406

Symposium: Exploring the Impact of Climate Change on Families and Their Communities

This symposium discusses some of the many ways that climate change affects various facets of social life, both in small communities and in larger groups of people, as well as taking a look at the history of climate change and social impact.

Chair: Caroline Clauss-Ehlers, PhD, Rutgers the State University of New Jersey New Brunswick Campus

Discussant: Caroline Clauss-Ehlers, PhD, Rutgers the State University of New Jersey New Brunswick Campus

Division: 43

Subject Index: 71.1 community impact

#412

Discussion: Reforming Social Institutions—Promoting Welcoming, Safe Environments for the LGBTQ Community

Drawing from research study results, this discussion will explore options for increasing protective factors that facilitate health and well-being of LGBTQ people in healthcare settings, schools, religious organizations, and other social contexts.

Co-chairs: Lore Dickey, PhD, North County Health Care; Ramona Mellott, PhD, Northern Arizona University

Division: 44

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 48, 51

Subject Index: 62.4 transgender and gender nonconforming

#413

Symposium: A New Agenda for the Psychology of LGBTQ Youth and Emerging Adults

The symposium reports the results from a one-day conference in 2019. Areas addressed include parenting, immigration, clinical training, addressing gender diversity, interdisciplinary collaboration, and IRB/research challenges.

Chair: Richard Sprott, PhD, California State University–East Bay

Discussant: Christy Olezeski, PhD, Yale School of Medicine

Division: 44

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7

Subject Index: 21.4.1 adolescence

#417

Symposium: Expectations to Actuality: Marriage and Parenthood Among Sexual Minority People

By integrating findings from a series of papers exploring the expectations of parenthood and marriage to lived experiences, this symposium will shed light on the impact of related decisions and stigma on sexual minority people and couples.

Chair: Samantha Tornello, PhD, Pennsylvania State University

Discussant: Rachel Farr, PhD, University of Kentucky

Division: 44

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14, 20, 43

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

#418

Symposium: Bi+ Relationships: Clinical Applications

This symposium is comprised of three studies on bisexual relationships in North America. Presenters will focus on clinical considerations to reduce the burden of minority stress on bi+ relationships and improve relational well-being and satisfaction.

Co-chairs: Amanda Pollitt, PhD, The University of Texas at Austin Population Research Center; Jasper Privat, MA, Wake Forest University

Division: 44

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, 32, 43

Subject Index: 62.1 bisexual

#421

Symposium: “I’m Not the Problem”—Relational and Environmental Dynamics in Trans and Non-Binary Populations

Breaking with medical models that locate concerns like gender dysphoria in transgender and non-binary bodies, we explore environmental and relational dynamics that impact health. Our findings are drawn from rich textual data and complex narratives.

Chair: Douglas Knutson, PhD, Southern Illinois University Carbondale

Discussant: Em Matsuno, PhD, Palo Alto University

Division: 44

Subject Index: 62.4 transgender and gender nonconforming

#422

Symposium: Intersectional Approaches to Sexual and Gender Diversity Research

Research on sexual and gender diverse (SGD) populations has grown in recent years. However, particular groups continue to face health disparities. This symposium will center SGD health as it intersects with race, gender identity, and immigration.

Chair: Alison Cerezo, PhD, University of California Santa Barbara

Discussant: Theodore Burnes, PhD, Antioch University

Division: 44

Co-sponsor Division(s): 51

Subject Index: 48.4 intersectionality

#425

Symposium: Intersectional and Subgroup Differences in Stigma and Health Among Sexual Minority Youth

This symposium focuses on intersectional and subgroup differences in stigma and health among sexual minority youth. Using diverse methods, presentations will focus on understudied subgroups and consider their experiences at multiple intersections.

Chair: Ethan Mereish, PhD, American University

Discussant: Jonathan Mohr, PhD, University of Maryland College Park

Division: 44

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 9

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

#426

Symposium: Anti-Trans Rhetoric and Legislative Efforts: Impacts on TGD Individuals and Communities

This symposium presents research from four studies related to contemporary anti-trans rhetoric and the impact of anti-trans legislative efforts on the psychological well-being of trans and gender diverse individuals and communities.

Chair: Elliot Tebbe, PhD, University of Minnesota

Discussant: Heidi Levitt, PhD, University of Massachusetts Boston

Division: 44

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9

Subject Index: 62.4 transgender and gender nonconforming

#449

Symposium: Fake News—In God We Trust!

Fake news dominates everyday news. The symposium will address its significance in altering the way we process the news and what we can do about it.

Chair: V. K. Kumar, PhD, West Chester University of Pennsylvania

Discussant: Frank Farley, PhD, Temple University

Division: 46

Co-sponsor Division(s): Psi Chi
Subject Index: 42 Media/Public Information

#452

Symposium: Professional Social Media in 2020—How to Create Vision for Your Brand

This session will help you get your platforms noticed so you can leave an impact on your target audience. Additionally, it will review specific ethical principles and guidelines to support your social media practice.

Chair: Kathryn Stamoulis, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 46

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, 52, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 69.2 social media

#453

Symposium: Screen Time and the Mental Health of Children and Teens—What is the Relationship?

Is screen time legitimately a cause of mental health issues in children and teens? This presentation explores the impact of screen-based media on identity formation and the symptoms of ADHD while providing a guide for structuring future research.

Chair: Ira Kulman, PhD, LearningWorks for Kids

Division: 46

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 52

Subject Index: 69 Technology

#454

Symposium: Strategizing AI in Psychology Practice—Luxury or Necessity?

AI has a role in optimizing systems when human cognition proves challenging. From searching for patterns across populations to making sense of data, this symposium will debate the psychology of AI and the story we create for AI-smart practice.

Chair: Jerri Hogg, PhD, Fielding Graduate University

Division: 46

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 69.1 artificial intelligence

#457

Skill-Building Session: Using Various Forms of Media to Decrease Mental Health Stigma in the Black Community

Presenters will share their experiences working with traditional media, podcasts, and social media to share mental health information and provide practical tips for others wanting to do the same.

Co-chairs: Cindy Graham, PhD, Independent Practice; Joy Harden Bradford, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: 46

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 42 Media/Public Information

#458

Symposium: Trust, Media Consumers, and Unlimited Information—Making Meaning From Digital Media

As media consumers demand access to unlimited information, they increasingly rely on fewer sources. This symposium examines trust in relationship, the dissemination of digital information, and the spread of conspiracy theories.

Chair: Jerri Hogg, PhD, Fielding Graduate University

Division: 46

Subject Index: 42 Media/Public Information

#460

Invited Address: Steven R. Heyman Memorial Lecture

Division: 47

Subject Index: 64 Sports Exercise and Performance

#463

Discussion: Psychologists as Primary Health Care Providers in Intercollegiate Athletics

NCAA legislation does not recognize psychologists as primary health care providers, limiting their ability to deliver services. This program will explore ways to achieve parity by drawing upon other areas of psychology that faces similar challenges.

Chair: Alex Auerbach, PhD, University of Arizona

Division: 47

Co-sponsor Division(s): 13, 14, 38

Subject Index: 56.2 professional issues

#464

Skill-Building Session: Beyond Multicultural Competence in Sport—Deconstructing Cultures of Masculinity and Whiteness

This skill-building session will explore approaches to addressing discriminatory and abusive behavior and language in sport by helping athletes deconstruct cultures of Whiteness and masculinity within their teams.

Co-chairs: Carlton Green, PhD, University of Maryland, College Park; Ryan Sappington, MA, University of Maryland, College Park

Division: 47

Co-sponsor Division(s): 17, 32, 45, 51, APA Committee on Ethnic Minority Affairs

Subject Index: 64 Sports Exercise and Performance

#465

Skill-Building Session: Evidence-Supported Strategies and Methods for Safeguarding Athletes' Mental Wellness

A skill-building session on evidence-based interventions for athletes. The 4 skills are: sports cultural competence; prevention of athlete abuse; motivational interviewing for athletes; and mental health screening instruments validated for athletes.

Chair: Shane Murphy, PhD, Western Connecticut State University
Division: 47
Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 45, 51, 56
Subject Index: 64 Sports Exercise and Performance

#466

Symposium: Mental Health Screening Procedures Across NCAA Division I Institutions

Panelists will address the real-world application of the NCAA best practices within collegiate athletics by discussing their mental health screening procedures, as well as the strengths and challenges within their current system.

Co-chairs: Tess Palmateer, MS, University of North Texas; Trent Petrie, PhD, MS, University of North Texas

Discussant: Alex Auerbach, PhD, University of Arizona

Division: 47

Co-sponsor Division(s): 13, 14

Subject Index: 64 Sports Exercise and Performance

#467

Symposium: Sport Psychologists' Role in Identifying, Preventing, and Intervening in Violence and Abuse in Sport

Maltreatment permeates sport culture, as it does all of society. The ubiquity of the problem and suggestions of what sport psychologists can do will be presented. A case example will demonstrate homeostatic processes that prevent change.

Chair: Mitch Abrams, PhD, Learned Excellence for Athletes - Independent Practice

Discussant: Shane Murphy, PhD, Western Connecticut State University

Division: 47

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 17, 32, 41, 48, 56

Subject Index: 72 Violence/Aggression

#469

Symposium: Defining The Role of Mental Performance Training Within Intercollegiate Athletics

NCAA legislation on the provision of applied work by psychologists is ambiguous and limits scope of practice. We will address historical context and offer a proposal to more accurately define mental performance training in intercollegiate athletics.

Chair: Tyler Bradstreet, PhD, Texas Tech University

Division: 47

Subject Index: 64 Sports Exercise and Performance

#470

Skill-Building Session: Developing Future Activists, Advocates and Practitioners for Human Rights in Psychology

Our aim in this program is to create space for a more holistic discussion of human rights in psychologists' development and integrate lessons from international social and political contexts.

Chair: Gabriel Velez, PhD, Marquette University

Discussant: Roseanne Flores, PhD, Hunter College

Division: 48

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 27, 34, 52

Subject Index: 51.1 human rights

#471

Skill-Building Session: Will the Real Peace Psychologist Please Stand Up? Activating Psychologists' Peaceful Self-Identity

We wish every psychologist was a peace psychologist. The facilitators describe a peaceful self-identity model, and lay out its merits for helping all psychologists view their professional identity within the scope of APA's peace psychology umbrella.

Co-chairs: John McConnell, PhD, Wheaton College; Gabriel Velez, PhD, Marquette University

Division: 48

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

#472

Skill-Building Session: Critical Consciousness to Close Gaps in Entrepreneurship and STEM Among Immigrants and Minorities

This skill-building session draws on findings from three studies to guide participants through how to infuse critical consciousness strategies in university programming and counseling aiming to close gaps in STEM and entrepreneurship.

Chair: Germán Cadenas, PhD, Lehigh University

Division: 48

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14

Subject Index: 11.14 vocational/career

#473

Symposium: Animal Welfare—A More Just and Peaceful World for Animals and Humans

Three approaches to understanding the needs of animals and humans, in order to bring about justice for both, will be presented: the experience of being caged, health benefits, and pro-social organizations.

Co-chairs: M.L. Sicoli, PhD, Cabrini University; Robin Lynn Treptow, PhD, Divine Mercy University

Discussant: Robin Lynn Treptow, PhD, Divine Mercy University

Division: 48

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9

Subject Index: 51 Peace

#474

Skill-Building Session: Essential Training to Build a Successful Group Psychotherapy Program

We will share empirically based lessons learned from a community mental health training clinic that shifted its primary treatment modality from individual psychotherapy to group psychotherapy.

Chair: Noelle Lefforge, PhD, University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Division: 49

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 11.11 group therapy

#475

Symposium: Diverse Women as Consumers and Providers of Group Therapy—Recommendations for Practitioners

This collaborative symposium will explore the role of women as providers and consumers of group psychotherapy.

Co-chairs: Ediza Garcia, PsyD, Texas A&M International University; Elizabeth Terrazas-Carrillo, PhD, Texas A&M International University

Division: 49

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 48 Multicultural

#476

Symposium: Rupture and Repairs in Group Psychotherapy: Theory, Research, and Practice

This presenters will focus on the importance of identifying and repairing ruptures in group psychotherapy. Specifically, they will address how ruptures can be identified, the impact of ruptures in the group, and how to facilitate repairs.

Chair: Cheri Marmarosh, PhD, The George Washington University

Division: 49

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 11.10 psychotherapy/treatment-methods

#478

Symposium: Group-Based Opioid Use Disorder Treatment Using Mindfulness-Based Experiences

Adventure therapy is an evidence-based, group treatment for developing recovery skills through mindful-based experiences as a primary treatment method for SUD/OD. Specific group-based MBEs and resulting outcomes will be described in this symposium

Co-chairs: Harold Gillis, PhD, Georgia College & State University; Keith Russell, PhD, Western Washington University

Division: 49

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 11.11 group therapy

#480

Skill-Building Session: Adapting Evidence-Based Group Intervention for High-Needs and Other Populations

This session will focus on adapting specific evidence-based group interventions to the multiethnic, high-risk population of the Bronx, NY. Discussion includes assessment, conceptualization, and management of treatment-interfering issues.

Co-chairs: Anita Jose, PhD, Montefiore Medical Center; Charu Sood, PsyD, Montefiore Medical Center

Division: 49

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29

Subject Index: 48.3 evidence-based practice

#481

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Cheri L. Marmarosh, PhD

Presidential Address for Division 49

Division: 49

Subject Index: 63.2 group processes

#482

Symposium: Group is Now a Specialty: Training Implications

Group Psychotherapy was recently designated a Specialty by CRSPPP. This has implications for training and practice at all levels - pre-internship, internship and post doc. A panel will discuss implications for training programs

Chair: Nina Brown, EdD, Old Dominion University

Discussant: Rachel Lundgreen, BS, Brigham Young University

Division: 49

Subject Index: 56 Psychology Policy and Training Issues

#483

Symposium: Paradigm Shift—Research on the Introduction of Harm Reduction Into Diverse Settings and Populations

This symposium will feature new data from research and program evaluations documenting paradigm shifts in treatment provision from abstinence-only to harm-reduction approaches across diverse settings and populations.

Chair: Megan Kirouac, PhD, Raymond G. Murphy Department of VA Medical Center

Discussant: Mary Larimer, PhD, University of Washington

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 19, 27, 28, 29, 32, 45

Subject Index: 66 Substance Abuse

#484

Skill-Building Session: User-Driven Harm Reduction 101—Naloxone, Clean Works, and Safer Use Strategies

This skill-building session led by founder and executive director of the People's Harm Reduction Alliance will demonstrate user-led strategies for harm reduction that psychologists should know about if they are working with substance users.

Chair: Susan Collins, PhD, University of Washington

Discussant: Seema Clifasefi, PhD, University of Washington

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 17, 27, 28

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#485

Symposium: An Update on Alcohol Use Disorder—From Etiology to Treatment

This session provides scientific and clinically relevant updates on alcohol use disorder, from etiology to treatment. Presenters will cover the latest developments in AUD phenomenology, clinical outcomes, treatment, and personalized medicine.

Co-chairs: Erica Grodin, PhD, University of California-Los Angeles;

Lara Ray, PhD, University of California-Los Angeles

Discussant: James McKillop, PhD, McMaster University & St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 28, 29

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#486

Symposium: The Traditional Gender Role Hypothesis—Alcohol Use and Other Health Risk Behaviors Among Latinas

The respective relations between traditional feminine gender roles (often called "marianismo"), and alcohol use, substance use, and sexual risk-taking is examined among diverse Latina samples across three innovative studies with unique designs.

Chair: Jessica Perrotte, PhD, Texas State University

Discussant: Judith Arroyo, PhD, National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 28, 35, 45

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#487

Symposium: Ethical Considerations of Court-Ordered Treatment

This symposium will explore the ethical challenges associated with court-ordered treatment, evidence supporting it, current efficacy, and the larger implications of the involvement of the justice system into healthcare provision.

Chair:

Seema Clifasefi, PhD, MSW, University of Washington

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, 41

Subject Index: 56.1 ethics

#488

Symposium: Advances in Substance Use Disorder Research—Comorbidity and Its Underestimated Implications

Comorbidity is prevalent, widely acknowledged, and often underestimated as a critical factor. This symposium explores models of comorbidity and shows how a deeper understanding can account for psychiatric phenomena and improve interventions.

Co-chairs: Kenneth Sher, PhD, University of Missouri; Meyer Glantz, PhD, NIDA, NIH

Discussants: Meyer Glantz, PhD, NIDA, NIH; Kenneth Sher, PhD, University of Missouri

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 28

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#489

Symposium: Deconstructing Treatment—Importance of Harm Reduction in Criminal Justice Reform

Police diversion initiatives for people with substance use disorder are now popular, but are the systems to which individuals are "diverted," if such exist at all, well-matched to what we know is effective in supporting behavior change?

Chair: Seema Clifasefi, PhD, University of Washington

Discussant: Sheila Vakharia, PhD, Drug Policy Alliance

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 28, 41

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#490

Symposium: E-Cigarette Use Among Youth—An Examination of Behaviors, Motives, and Policies

This symposium will discuss e-cigarette use behaviors, motives for use, and policies that influenced use that can inform prevention and treatment of e-cigarette use among youth.

Co-chairs: Julie Cristello, MS, Florida International University;

Grace Kong, PhD, Yale University School of Medicine

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 28, 38, 53, 54

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#492

Skill-Building Session: Loving People Who Love Alcohol and Drugs—Harm Reduction Psychotherapy for Family, Friends, and Community

People who care about people who use substances have been told they need to use a "tough love" approach. Harm reduction is a more flexible way to help friends, families, and communities of people who use substances and aren't ready for abstinence.

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 27, 32, 42, 43

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#493

Symposium: Integrative Harm Reduction Psychotherapy (IHRP)—Bringing Relational, Psychodynamic, Cognitive, Behavioral, and Mindfulness Strategies Together in a Harm Reduction Frame

First, we present the theory of and rationale for Integrative Harm Reduction Psychotherapy. Second, we introduce experiential exercises applying mindfulness practice for “urge surfing” and “unwrapping the urge” to change addictive behavior.

Division: 50

Co-sponsor Division(s): 32, 42

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#494

Symposium: Religious, Spiritual, and Masculinity Factors to Problematic Pornography Use

Problematic pornography use (PPU) is considered to be a public health epidemic. This program addresses salient religious, spiritual, and masculinity factors associated with PPU as well as corresponding systemic and innovative clinical approaches.

Co-chairs: Nicholas Borgogna, MA, University of South Alabama; Anthony Isacco, PhD, Chatham University

Discussant: Andrew Smiler, PhD, Evaluation & Education Services, LLC

Division: 51

Co-sponsor Division(s): 36

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#495

Symposium: Tough Topics, Hard-to-Reach Men—Engaging Masculinities Conversations Without Priming Defensiveness

Improved communication strategies are needed to engage men in conversations about masculinities and mental health without priming defensiveness. Motivating men with positive, identity-affirming messaging can be inclusive while promoting well-being.

Chair: Kate Richmond, PhD, Muhlenberg College

Discussant: Daniel Ellenberg, PhD, Relationships That Work

Division: 51

Co-sponsor Division(s): 8, 9, 32

Subject Index: 43 Men’s Studies/Men and Masculinity

#497

Symposium: Isn't It About Time? Examining the Roles of Masculinities in Sexual and Gun Violence

This program presents recent scholarship in the Psychology of Men and Masculinities on the role that masculinities play in violence, including both sexual and gun violence, and considering perpetration, response to victimhood, and prevention.

Chair: Ronald Levant, EdD, University of Akron

Division: 51

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 48

Subject Index: 43 Men’s Studies/Men and Masculinity

#498

Symposium: Positive Psychology and Masculinities—Developing Broader Frameworks

This symposium will advance research on the intersections of positive psychology and masculinities and address the ongoing socio-political debate regarding the nature and meaning of masculinity.

Chair: Brian Cole, PhD, University of Kansas
Discussant: Andrew Smiler, PhD, Evaluation & Education Services, LLC

Division: 51

Subject Index: 43 Men’s Studies/Men and Masculinity

#506

Symposium: International Applications of Evidence-Based Practices

This symposium introduces and discusses evidence-based interventions in three international contexts from less stable and high-conflict regions.

Chair: Dinah Ayna, PhD, American University of Beirut Medical Center

Discussant: Dinah Ayna, PhD, American University of Beirut Medical Center

Division: 52

Co-sponsor Division(s): 29, 33, Psi Chi

Subject Index: 11.4 evidence-based practice

#507

Data-Blitz: Original Research in International Psychology—ECPs and Recent Studies

Seven recent, unique, international psychological studies will be delineated by their original authors, all of whom are early career psychologists in the field of International Psychology.

Co-chairs: Breeda McGrath, PhD, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology; Viviane Pecanha, PhD, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology

Division: 52

Subject Index: 19 Cross-Cultural

#508

Symposium: Psychology in Southeast Asia

This symposium focuses on Psychology in Southeast Asia, including psychology in Cambodia and Vietnam as well as immigrant/refugee experiences in the USA.

Co-chairs: Grant Rich, PhD, Consulting Psychologist; Skultip Sirikantraporn, PsyD, Fulbright University Vietnam

Discussant: Jorge Wong, PhD, Richmond Area Multi-Services (RAMS), Inc.

Division: 52

Subject Index: 39 International

#509

Symposium: The Cross-Cultural Role of Time Perspective in Stress Coping, Life Satisfaction, and Leadership Styles

This symposium outlines studies on the role of Time Perspective in: 1) the stress coping of Puerto Ricans living at the island of Puerto Rico and mainland USA; 2) life satisfaction in USA, Japan, Spain, and Poland; and 3) leadership styles in Germany

Chair: Lening Olivera-Figueroa, PsyD, BS, Yale University School of Medicine-Department of Psychiatry

Division: 52

Co-sponsor Division(s): 13, 14

Subject Index: 19 Cross-Cultural

#512

Symposium: Countries In Turmoil—Emerging And Innovative Contributions By Psychologists

How are psychologists across the globe confronting serious ecological, political and social crises, and new forms of social mobilization in response to inequality, authoritarian measures, neoliberalism, and the climate emergency?

Chair: Gonzalo Bacigalupe, EdD, MPH, University of Massachusetts Boston

Discussant: Brigitte Khoury, American University of Beirut Medical Center

Division: 52

Subject Index: 39 International

#515

Symposium: Ethnic Identity, Well-Being, and Adjustment of Migrants in the Current Political Climate

This symposium discusses factors that influence the intersection of migrants ethnic identity, well-being and adjustment process.

Barriers to adjustment, resources, and resiliency are explored to gain further understanding of this complex phenomenon

Chair: Falu Rami, PhD, Independent consultant

Discussant: Lynette Bikos, PhD, Seattle Pacific University

Division: 52

Co-sponsor Division(s): 8, 9, 27, 29, APAGS

Subject Index: 39 International

#516

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Brigitte Khoury, PhD

In international work, psychologists face many challenges: licensure, language, acculturation, and the sociopolitical situation. This presidential address provides examples showing that cultural humility and local social immersion are musts.

Division: 52

Subject Index: 39 International

#517

Symposium: The Role of International Psychology in Establishing Global Peace

This symposium focuses upon international psychology's role in establishing global peace. Presenters hail from several global regions, including Iran/Middle East, Haiti/the Caribbean, Uganda/Africa, and Alaska, USA/North America.

Co-chairs: Sayyed Mohsen Fatemi, PhD, Ferdowsi University of Mashhad; Grant Rich, PhD, Consulting Psychologist

Division: 52

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 34

Subject Index: 39 International

#518

Symposium: Operationalizing International Psychology—Embedding Fundamentals to Address Significant Challenges

This symposium will explore the fundamental applications of International Psychology (IP) highlighting case examples of IP being utilized in international and domestic spaces showing how IP is applicable to every area of life.

Co-chairs: Karen Brown, PhD, Linc International; Joyce Green, PhD, Linc International

Division: 52

Co-sponsor Division(s): 14, 29

Subject Index: 39 International

#522

Symposium: Comprehensive Meta-Analysis of ADHD Treatment

Presents a comprehensive meta-analysis of ADHD psychosocial treatment. Over 500 primary studies were retrieved, and the present symposium will report on the methods, topography of empirical evidence, magnitude of effect, and a network meta-analysis.

Co-chairs: Jacquelyn Buckley, PhD, Institute of Education Sciences, Department of Education; Gregory Fabiano, PhD, Florida International University

Discussant: William Pelham Jr., PhD, Florida International University

Division: 53

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 16, 38, 40, 43, 54

Subject Index: 11.4 evidence-based practice

#524

Symposium: Making It Easier to Do Good Work: Free Online Resources for Assessment, Teaching, and Primary Care

These talks show how to find and use free online resources for psychological assessment, first aid, awareness, primary care, and teaching, built via a series of APA & SCCAP grants. Come learn about tips, tactics, and tools... and suggest additions!

Chair: Eric Youngstrom, PhD, University of North Carolina

Discussant: Stephen Hinshaw, PhD, University of California, Berkeley

Division: 53

Co-sponsor Division(s): 2, 5, 12, 16, 37, 54

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#525

Symposium: Disruptive Behaviors and Disrupted Relationships—Externalizing Problems in Family and Peer Contexts

This symposium will present recent findings on disruptive behaviors in the family and peer contexts.

Co-chairs: Emily Hirsch, MA, Fordham University; Amy Roy, PhD, Fordham University

Discussant: Jeffrey Burke, PhD, University of Connecticut

Division: 53

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 16, 37

Subject Index: 11.3 child clinical/pediatric

#526

Symposium: Role of Psychologists in Ameliorating the Adverse Effects of the Opioid Epidemic on Young Children

This symposium highlights the role of psychologists who are working nationally to educate interdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary professionals, foster families, and parents on the impact of the opiate epidemic on young children.

Chair: Michelle Roley-Roberts, PhD, Creighton University

Discussant: Andrea Witwer, PhD, The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center

Division: 53

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 9, 12, 16, 28, 37, 50, 54

Subject Index: 66.3 opioids

#527

Symposium: Development and Implementation of Play-Based Psychosocial Interventions in Children's Hospital

The program focuses on using nurturing care framework and play therapy for pediatric patients in a hospital in Pakistan. It highlights changes observed in mood, responsive parenting and length of stay. Students have been identified as a resource.

Chair: Vardah Bharuchi, MS, Aga Khan University

Division: 54

Subject Index: 11.3 child clinical/pediatric

#528

Symposium: Siblings of Children With Chronic Conditions—A Need for Inclusion in Family-Centered Care?

Although family-centered care is standard in pediatric health care delivery, siblings are frequently overlooked. This session aims to raise awareness of sibling experiences and demonstrate the importance of sibling inclusion in family-centered care.

Co-chairs: Melissa Alderfer, PhD, Nemours A.I. duPont Hospital for Children; Christina Amaro, PhD, Nemours/A.I. duPont Hospital for Children

Discussant: Melissa Alderfer, PhD, Nemours A.I. duPont Hospital for Children

Division: 54

Subject Index: 11.3 child clinical/pediatric

#529

Skill-Building Session: Managing Behavioral Dysregulation on the Inpatient Medical Unit—Challenges and Lessons Learned

This skill-building session will provide behavioral, environmental, and multidisciplinary team strategies aimed toward optimizing effective implementation of interventions to manage behavioral dysregulation within inpatient medical settings.

Chair: Carolyn Bates, PhD, Children's Mercy Hospital

Division: 54

Subject Index: 7 Behavior Analysis

#530

Symposium: Managing Multiple Relationships in Pediatric Psychology Practice

Presenters will discuss multiple relationships that frequently occur when working in a pediatric medical setting. Case examples will be discussed, as well as strategies for anticipating and managing multiplerelationships.

Chair: Anna Agoston, PhD, Children's Healthcare of Atlanta

Discussant: Mariella Self, PhD, Baylor College of Medicine/Texas Children's Hospital

Division: 54

Subject Index: 11.3 child clinical/pediatric

#531

Symposium: Mightier at Home and in the Clinic, a Biofeedback-based Program to Enhance Emotional Regulation

A discussion of the evidence supporting multi-setting, transdiagnostic utility of Mightier, a biofeedback-based game used to teach and facilitate practice of emotional regulation skills.

Chair: Jason Kahn, PhD, Neuromotion Labs

Division: 54

Subject Index: 11.3 child clinical/pediatric

#540

Symposium: Collaboration Between Hospitals and Schools For Children With Chronic Illness

Highlights school support needs of children with chronic illness and presents models that link hospital and school providers to address cognitive, behavioral, emotional, and academic needs, and support school reintegration after hospital discharge.

Chair: Jeffrey Shahidullah, PhD, The University of Texas at Austin, Dell Medical School

Discussant: Cheryl Brosig, PhD, Children's Hospital Wisconsin

Division: 54

Subject Index: 33 Health Psychology/Behavioral Medicine

#542

Symposium: Deprescribing Psychotropics in Clinical Settings: Dos, Don'ts and Everything in Between

This symposium is designed to facilitate a discussion about the importance of deprescribing multiple psychotropic meds when working in clinical settings such as nursing homes and with the addicted population.

Chair: Derek Phillips, PsyD, Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center

Division: 55

Co-sponsor Division(s): 20, 38, 52

Subject Index: 53 Psychopharmacology

#545

Symposium: Prescribing Psychotropics Safely—Understanding Rare, Severe, and Life-threatening Reactions

This presentation will focus on severe adverse drug reactions that can manifest in psychopharmacological practice related to five general organ systems: central nervous system, cardiovascular, gastrointestinal, renal, and metabolic.

Co-chairs: Bret Moore, PsyD, Warrior Resiliency Program; David Shearer, PhD, Madigan Army Medical Center

Division: 55

Co-sponsor Division(s): 38

Subject Index: 11.10.5 pharmacotherapy

#547

Symposium: Cannabis Unleashed: Implications for Practitioners

Cannabis is now commonly reported by therapy patients. This symposium explores the uses and misuses of cannabinoids and synthetic cannabis, the elected uses by patients/clients, and the fluidity of attitudes toward cannabis.

Chair: Joan Read, PhD, Fielding Graduate University

Division: 55

Co-sponsor Division(s): 28, 50, PC

Subject Index: 11.10.5 pharmacotherapy

#548

Symposium: What Students Should Know About Prescriptive Privileges and Training Opportunities

Program Directors discuss the academic paths to obtaining the necessary training in Clinical Psychopharmacology. Presenters describe curriculum, APA program designation and eligibility of students in both post-doctoral and doctoral level programs.

Chair: Judith Steinman, PhD, CSPP-Alliant International University

Division: 55

Co-sponsor Division(s): EC, GS, PC

Subject Index: 11.10.5 pharmacotherapy

#554

Discussion: Town Hall to Advance Research, Practice, and Policy Through Reciprocal Collaboration

Facilitated by a panel of experts who have successfully bridged at least two of the arenas of clinical care, research, and policy, audience members will be engaged in conversations aimed at developing recommendations to increase collaborations.

Co-chairs: Carolyn Allard, PhD, California School of Professional Psychology, Alliant International University; Thema Bryant-Davis, PhD, Pepperdine University

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 17, 18, 42, 48, 52

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#555

Symposium: Community Support Engagement following Trauma Exposure—Implications for Recovery

Results of two studies examining community-based trauma survivors' experiences with social support, with implications for community and clinical intervention.”;

Chair: Christina Dardis, PhD, Towson University

Discussant: Christina Dardis, PhD, Towson University

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 27

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#556

Invited Panel Discussion: Transcending Divisiveness: Depolarizing Practices From Around the Globe

Learn international best practices for depolarizing communication between groups with differing views to increase collaboration within our communities. An expert panel of clinicians, researchers, and policy advocates will demonstrate a live example.

Co-chairs: Carolyn Allard, PhD, California School of Professional Psychology, Alliant International University; Anneliese Singh, PhD, University of Georgia

Division: 56

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#558

Symposium: Global Sex Trafficking—Trafficker Profiles, Prevention, and Intervention

Three studies on global sex trafficking are presented, including profiles of traffickers, reducing women's vulnerability to trafficking, and assessment and treatment methods for survivors of sex trafficking.

Co-chairs: Erinn Cameron, BA, Fielding Graduate University; Ani Kalayjian, EdD, Columbia University

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 9, 12, 17, 52

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#559

Skill-Building Session: Culturally Responsive Interventions for Women of Color Survivors of Interpersonal Trauma

This session will explore culturally specific methods of trauma-focused treatment and provide practical tips for practitioners working with women of color who have survived interpersonal trauma and violence.

Co-chairs: Robyn Gobin, PhD, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign; Shavonne Moore-Lobban, PhD, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 17, 29, 35, 41, 45, 52

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#561

Skill-Building Session: Promoting a Trauma-Informed Hospital Across Various Contexts—Theory and Practical Considerations

This skill-building session will explore the tenets and implementation of trauma-informed care across various medical populations including chronically and acutely ill medical populations and socially disadvantaged and traumatized youth.

Co-chairs: Marissa Feldman, PhD, Johns Hopkins All Children's Hospital; Anthony Vesco, PhD, Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 22, 52

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#563

Symposium: Trauma-Informed Care—Addressing the Needs of Immigrant Children and Unaccompanied Minors

This presentation covers the impact of trauma on unaccompanied children during the migration phases and the unique needs of first and second-generation immigrant children and their families.

Treatment strategies and case examples will be presented.

Chair: Elena Reyes, PhD, Florida State University

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 16, 29, 37, 52

Subject Index: 19 Cross-Cultural

#564

Symposium: Social and Community Factors in Prevention and Recovery From Interpersonal Violence

Four studies of social/community factors in interpersonal violence recovery are presented, including survivor use of online communities, social reactions to survivor disclosures, and community readiness to address/prevent interpersonal violence.

Chair: Heather Littleton, PhD, East Carolina University

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 27, 41, 52

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#565

Skill-Building Session: Trauma-Informed Supervision

Experiential exercises will be used to increase practical skills in implementing trauma-informed supervision. Suggestions will be offered to help supervisors foster resilience against and reduce negative sequelae related to treating trauma.

Co-chairs: Melissa Decker, PhD, Washington DC VAMC; Lea Didion, PsyD, Washington DC VAMC

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 19, 52

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#566

Symposium: Prevention of Sexual Abuse and Promotion of Emotional Safety in Educational Settings

Two research teams contribute to the prevention of emotional and sexual trauma and distress in high school (focusing on prevalence and prevention of student-educator sexuality) and college (focusing on enhancing comfort of minority students).

Chair: Constance Dalenberg, PhD, Alliant International University-San Diego

Division: 56

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#568

Invited Address: 2020 International Humanitarian Award

Chair: Telmo Baptista, PhD, Universidade de Lisboa

Division: APA

Subject Index: 21 Developmental

#569

Invited Address: 2020 Distinguished Scientific Contribution Award Address

Award address delivered by 2020 science award recipient

Chair: Luke Hyde, PhD, University of Michigan

Division: APA
Subject Index: 11.3 child clinical/pediatric

#570

Invited Address: 2020 Distinguished Scientific Award for the Applications of Psychology Address

Award address delivered by 2020 science award recipient
Chair: G. Terence Wilson, PhD, Rutgers the State University of New Jersey

Division: APA
Subject Index: 30 Evolutionary

#571

Invited Address: 2020 Award for Distinguished Contributions to Psychology in the Public Interest (Early Career)

Chair: Jessica Sales, PhD, Emory University

Division: APA
Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#572

Symposium: Town Hall - Conversation With Members of the Ethics Code Task Force

Hear about important updates and provide your perspective as APA drafts a new Ethics Code

Co-chairs: Linda Campbell, PhD, University of Georgia; Mark Leach, PhD, University of Louisville

Division: APA
Subject Index: 28 Ethics

#574

Invited Address: 2020 Award for Distinguished Professional Contribution to Independent Practice

Division: APA
Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#578

Symposium: Rosalee G. Weiss Lecture for Outstanding Leaders in Psychology

This lecture was established in 1994 by Raymond A. Weiss, PhD, in honor of his wife, Rosalee Greenfield Weiss. The lecturer is an outstanding leader in psychology whose work and activities have had an effect on psychology.

Division: APF
Subject Index: 43 Men's Studies/Men and Masculinity

#579

Symposium: Lynn Stuart Weiss Lecture

The lecture was established by Drs. Raymond A. and Rosalee G. Weiss, in memory of their daughter, Lynn, whose interests centered on the science and art of politics, with a focus on world law.

Division: APF
Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#580

Invited Address: Charles L. Brewer Distinguished Teaching of Psychology Award

This lecture recognizes a significant career of contributions of a psychologist who has a proven track record as an exceptional teacher of psychology.

Division: APF
Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#581

Symposium: Presidential Programming—Future of Work: Connected and Inclusive or Isolated and Divisive

This session focuses on the future of work, including changing employee needs and expectations and new ways of working. How do technological advances disrupt and/or empower this ever-changing workforce? How can leaders optimize how work gets done?

Chair: Malissa Clark, PhD, UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Division: B/D
Subject Index: 74 Work/Employment/Careers

#582

Discussion: Presidential Programming—Future of Leading and Growing

Multiple forces are transforming challenges facing leaders—volatility, uncertainty, diversity, global tensions, growing economic disparities, demands to engage in social issues. The session will focus on how these forces impact future of leadership.

Chair: Randall White, PhD, Executive Development Group, LLC

Division: B/D
Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#583

Symposium: Presidential Programming—Driving Interdisciplinary Science: Psychologists' Involvement in Interdisciplinary Research & Practice

This panel (comprised of I/O, social, and engineering psychologists) will discuss the role of psychologists in interdisciplinary science, both leading and participating in interdisciplinary research and practice. Audience engagement is encouraged.

Chair: Clair Reynolds Kueny, PhD, Missouri University of Science and Technology

Division: B/D
Subject Index: 46.2 Research

#584

Symposium: Presidential Programming—Age, Generations, and Aging: An Applied Psychology Perspective

The composition of generations and ages are changing. The three presenters in this session will discuss the research on aging and the implications of generational and aging myths from an applied psychology perspective focusing on work and technology.

Chair: Roni Reiter-Palmon, PhD, University of Nebraska at Omaha

Division: B/D
Subject Index: 2 Aging

#586

Symposium: Presidential Programming—Excelleration: Methods for Achieving Expertise More Rapidly

The complex mixture of individuals, teams and machines in the everchanging workplace requires “accelerated learning,” where employees rapidly gain expertise to the expert level. Verified approaches that speed up the learning process will be reviewed.

Chair: David Schroeder, PhD, Independent Practice

Division: B/D
Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#588

Symposium: National Academies - New Research From the Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education

Mary Ellen O’Connell, Executive Director of the National Academies’ Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, speaks with APA’s Howard Kurtzman about DBASSE’s latest projects and opportunities for psychologists at the National Academies.

Co-chairs: Howard Kurtzman, PhD, APA; Barbara Wanchisen, PhD, National Academies

Division: BSA
Co-sponsor Division(s): APA Board of Scientific Affairs
Subject Index: 46.2 Research

#590

Invited Address: Neal Miller Lecture

The Neal Miller Lecture features an eminent psychological scientist speaking about neuroscience and animal research.

Chair: Jonathon Crystal, PhD, Indiana University

Division: BSA
Subject Index: 8 Behavioral Neuroscience

#591

Discussion: Beyond the Food Pantry—Exploring the Unmet Needs of College Students

A growing number of college students are food insecure, housing insecure, or in need of other basic services. This symposium will explore the impact of homelessness, hunger, and lack of basic needs on students’ academic and social development.

Chair: Christina Shane-Simpson, PhD, University of Wisconsin, Stout

Division: CABE
Co-sponsor Division(s): APA Committee on Socioeconomic Status
Subject Index: 13 Community

#592

Symposium: Ready for Lift-Off—Launching Recommendations From the APA Intro Psych Initiative

This session will highlight data and recommendations for Introductory Psychology after nearly three years of work. Presenters will discuss dissemination of this work through an APA-published handbook and course design training institutes in 2021.

Co-chairs: Regan Gurung, PhD, Oregon State University; Garth Neufeld, MA, Cascadia College

Division: CABE
Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#593

Invited Address: The Diane Halpern Lecture [Van Kirk]

Chair: Jaclyn Ronquillo-Adachi, MA, Cerritos College

Division: CABE
Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#594

Symposium: Disability and Technology—Accessibilities, Biases, and Abandonment Issues

We will look at the issues related to technology accessibility, biases, and abandonment within a universal design framework. It is crucial to understand the benefits of technology use by individuals with disabilities and other minority groups.

Chair: Poorna Kushalnagar, PhD, Gallaudet
Discussants: Kara Ayers, PhD, University of Cincinnati; Poorna Kushalnagar, PhD, Gallaudet

Division: CDIP
Subject Index: 22 Disabilities

#596

Symposium: The Role of Psychology in Promoting International Cooperation in a Changing World—A Conversation With the APA NGO Representatives to the United Nations

Coinciding with the 75th Anniversary of the United Nations this session will address Psychology's support of the United Nations in Reaffirming its Commitment to Multilateralism through the Strengthening of the International System and Institutions.
Chair: Roseanne Flores, PhD, Hunter College

Division: CIRP

Subject Index: 21 Developmental

#597

Symposium: Commission on Accreditation Updates and Open Forum

Summarizes APA CoA actions since 2019 and planned actions for the rest of 2020; the session describes new accreditation processes and common challenges for programs in accord with the Standards of Accreditation and Accreditation Operating Procedures.
Chair: Cindy Juntunen, PhD, University of North Dakota

Discussant: Jacqueline Remondet Wall, PhD, APA

Division: COA

Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#598

Symposium: Addressing the Psychosocial Needs of Underrepresented People With Serious Life-Limiting Illness

This symposium will discuss issues faced by people with serious life-limiting illness and their loved ones and describe strategies for meeting their unique psychosocial needs with implications for research, program development, and practice.

Co-chairs: Katherine Ramos, PhD, Duke University Medical Center; Kelly Trevino, PhD, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer

Discussant: Kelly Trevino, PhD, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer

Division: CONA

Co-sponsor Division(s): APA Committee on Children, Youth, and Families, APA Committee on Rural Health

Subject Index: 63 Social

#600

Symposium: The Practices and Pitfalls of Supervision as an Early Career Psychologist

Presenters provide an overview of the various types of supervision models (emphasis on tiered supervision), specialty supervision practices, ethical challenges of supervision, and issues inherent to developing culturally competent supervision.

Chair: Maia Feigon, PhD, Cook County Health

Division: EC

Subject Index: 25.2 professional training

#601

Symposium: Am I What You're Looking For? Unpacking Successful Early Professional Advancement in Woman of Color

Am I what you're looking for? Unpacking "successful" professional development of junior faculty of woman in academic medicine.

Chair: Mirella Diaz-Santos, Cap, UCLA

Division: EC

Co-sponsor Division(s): 12, 13, 35, 41, 52

Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#606

Symposium: Seeking Out Small Grant Opportunities in Graduate School

This panel will provide information relating to (1) seeking out small grants opportunities; (2) establishing timelines for submission and considerations for formatting and writing; and (3) a broad overview of scoring/reviewing of grants.

Chair: Nathan Kearns, MS, University of North Texas

Division: GS

Co-sponsor Division(s): 28, 41

Subject Index: 74 Work/Employment/Careers

#607

Discussion: Increasing Diversity in Graduate Programs: Recruitment and Retention Efforts

This discussion will focus on increasing diversification efforts in recruitment and retention practices in graduate programs.

Chair: Mary Fernandes, MA, Georgia State University

Division: GS

Co-sponsor Division(s): 8, 13, 14, 27, 29, 41, 52

Subject Index: 11.13 training

#608

Skill-Building Session: How to Peer Review for a Scholarly Journal as a Graduate Student

This workshop will discuss (1) the benefits of serving as a peer-reviewer, (2) best practices in reviewing an article, and (3) opportunities for getting involved in peer review as a graduate student or early-career psychologist.

Co-chairs: Blanka Angyal, MA, University of Kentucky; Raechel Soicher, MA, Oregon State University

Division: GS

Co-sponsor Division(s): 13, 28, 41

Subject Index: 74.3 research

#609

Skill-Building Session: Teaching 101: Fundamental Strategies for Grad Students, ECPs, and Anyone Else Who Wants to Teach Well

Are you a grad student or ECP who has questions about teaching? Bring them to be discussed in this interactive session facilitated by a grad student and mid-career academic with extensive training and experience in teaching and teacher training.

Co-chairs: Melissa Beers, PhD, Ohio State University; Raechel Soicher, MA, Oregon State University

Division: GS

Co-sponsor Division(s): 2, 13, 41, APA Committee on Early Career Psychologists

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#611

Workshop: Internship Workshop I: Getting Started

For students preparing to apply for internship through the APPIC Match: Information on best practices, getting started, setting goals, and constructing an application (including AAPI Online, cover letters, CVs, letters of recommendation, and essays).

Division: GS

Subject Index: 44 Mentoring

#612

Workshop: Internship Workshop II—Interviews and Match

This session is a follow-up to "Internship Workshop I: Getting Started" and will provide students with in-depth advice and discussion on preparing for internship interviews and best practices on how to navigate the Match process.

Division: GS

Subject Index: 44 Mentoring

#613

Symposium: Assertive Allyship as Survival During a Polarized Time

At a time of national division, and dire need for culturally informed and competent services, allyship will be discussed as a critical part of training and sustaining an informed community of mental health providers, educators and scholars.

Co-chairs: Ramani Durvasula, PhD, California State University-Los Angeles; Carlen Henington, PhD, Mississippi State University

Division: MFP

Subject Index: 29 Ethnic Minority Studies

#614

Skill-Building Session: How to Prepare a Book Proposal

Attendees will learn about planning, preparing and submitting a book proposal.

Chair: Shontay Kincaid, PhD, APA

Division: P&C

Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#615

Symposium: How to Publish a Journal Manuscript

This session focuses on best practices for preparing your manuscript for publication in a peer reviewed journal. Participants will learn how to find the right journal for their work and get tips from a journal editor on the peer review process.

Chair: Rose Sokol-Chang, BA, APA

Division: P&C

Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#616

Symposium: How to Review a Journal Manuscript

This panel session focuses on best practices for reviewing a submission for a peer reviewed journal. Participants will learn how to get involved with a journal, and tips from a journal editor on the peer review process and preparing a formal review.

Division: P&C

Subject Index: 11.8 professional

#617

Invited Address: Ruth Hubbard Cousins Distinguished Lecture [Frantz]

If we were to create the Intro Psych course from scratch, what would we consider? How will students use what they learn? What's the most important information to impart? What skills can we help students develop and how will students demonstrate them?

Chair: Kimberley Duff, PhD, Cerritos College

Division: PB

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#618

Symposium: High-Impact Experiential Learning Programs and Strategies—Service-Learning

This session describes high-impact, life changing, experiential learning strategies in place at several of America's most innovative community colleges. These "transformative" strategies include service projects and student publishing opportunities.

Chair: Kimberley Duff, PhD, Cerritos College

Division: PB

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#619

Invited Address: Invited Session with Katarzyna Chawarska, PhD

Katarzyna Chawarska, Dir of Yale's Social and Affective Neuroscience of Autism Program, gives overview of her lab's research on selective attention, which is being used both to identify prodromal markers and possible new treatment targets in ASD.

Chair: Deborah Harris O'Brien, PhD, Trinity Washington University

Division: PC

Subject Index: 6 Autism

- #621
Invited Address: Lee Gurel Lecture
 Effective learning strategies are counterintuitive, which often leads to student resistance. Using a model of the cognitive challenges in student learning, this presentation will address how to prepare students to be effective learners.
 Chair: Allison Shaver, MA, Plymouth South High School
 Division: TOPSS
 Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology
- #622
Invited Address: Invited Session with Matthew F. Thompson, MS
 This presentation will review biological, social, and psychological risk factors associated with suicide risk, emphasizing the latest in neuroimaging research and will include intervention strategies and dispelling myths regarding suicide.
 Chair: Allison Shaver, MA, Plymouth South High School
 Division: TOPSS
 Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology
- #623
Symposium: The Past, Present, and Future of the NIH Sex as a Biological Variable Policy
 This session will provide a past, present, and future overview of the NIH sex as a biological variable directive and how it can improve an understanding of sex and gender vulnerabilities in psychological health.
 Co-chairs: Justin Strickland, PhD, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine; Wendy Lynch, PhD, University of Virginia
 Discussant: Wendy Lynch, PhD, University of Virginia
 Division: CPG
 Subject Index: 33 Health Psychology/Behavioral Medicine
- #624
Symposium: Walk a Mile Crossing the Border and Facing the System: Experiences of Immigrant Families and Children
 This is an opportune time to bring awareness to the challenges experienced by immigrant families within a restrictive immigration socio-political context and renew our commitment to embrace diversity and build pathways that promote their health.
 Chair: Mirian Ofonedu, PhD, LCSW, Maryland Center for Developmental Disabilities at Kennedy Krieger Institute
 Discussant: Mirian Ofonedu, PhD, LCSW, Maryland Center for Developmental Disabilities at Kennedy Krieger Institute
 Division: CPG
 Subject Index: 39.1 immigration
- #625
Skill-Building Session: Leveraging Science—Engaging in Advocacy to Promote Social and Emotional Development Among Youth
 Psychologists and policy advocates across APA Divisions will identify priorities and offer advocacy strategies to promote healthy social and emotional development among diverse youth in the 21st century.
 Co-chairs: Erlanger Turner, PhD, Pepperdine University; Amber Hewitt, PhD, Nemours Children's Health System
 Division: CPG
 Subject Index: 56.3 public policy
- #627
Symposium: Issues of Diversity and Inclusion for Elite Performers and Their Consultants
 This symposium brings together performance psychologists in four population domains to describe salient issues of inclusion and diversity relevant to their particular area of providing services and consulting with elite performers.
 Chair: Stewart Cooper, PhD, Valparaiso University
 Discussant: Kate Hays, PhD, The Performing Edge
 Division: CPG
 Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting
- #628
Symposium: Sexual Abuse of Minors: A Multidisciplinary Approach to Addressing the Problem
 Child sexual abuse (CSA) cannot be adequately addressed by any one profession alone. We discuss a multidisciplinary approach to this vexing social problem and present evidence-based psychosocial and medical interventions to assist suspected victims.
 Chair: Daniel Bromberg, PhD, ABPP, Special Psychological Services, LLC Bloomfield, NJ
 Discussant: Christine Wekerle, PhD, McMaster University
 Division: CPG
 Subject Index: 10 Child Abuse
- #630
Symposium: Trauma and the Lifespan
 This symposium will address the impact of early trauma across the lifespan, generations, and settings. Speakers will discuss funding priorities, biological markers, and implications for care, as well as nurturing resilience.
 Co-chairs: Stephanie Block, PhD, University of Massachusetts Lowell; Mary Ann McCabe, PhD, Independent Practice
 Discussant: Ann Masten, PhD, University of Minnesota
 Division: CPG
 Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#631

Symposium: Military Trauma in Understudied, High-Risk Veteran Populations—Women and LGBTQ Individuals

There is increasing recognition that trauma characteristics and contextual factors have idiosyncratic sequelae. Presenters examine the posttraumatic experiences of specific military subgroups and how treatments may be tailored to address their needs.

Co-chairs: Kenneth Thompson, MA, Alliant International University-San Diego; Carolyn Allard, PhD, California School of Professional Psychology, Alliant International University

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 71 Trauma

#632

Symposium: Harm Reduction or Harm Induction? Exploring the Current Research on E-cigarettes and Vaping

This session will explore the controversy around e-cigarettes and vaping, collectively known as electronic nicotine delivery systems (ENDS), to better inform psychologists in research and clinical practice about the state of the science and policy.

Chair: Susan Collins, PhD, Washington State University

Discussant: Dorothy Hatsukami, PhD, University of Minnesota

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#633

Symposium: Gender and Sexual Orientation—Understanding Power Dynamics in Intimate Partner Violence

Contributors will address intersections of sexual orientation, gender identity and other social identities, in relation to barriers to help-seeking, psychological effects, intervention and prevention, outreach and advocacy, and policy implications.

Chair: Brenda Russell, PhD, The Pennsylvania State University, Berks

Discussant: Bethany (Bee) Coston, PhD, Virginia Commonwealth University

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

#634

Symposium: School-based Mental Health Services for Immigrant Youth and Families

Children from immigrant families are less likely to engage in mental health services. This symposium will present culturally responsive school-wide, classroom-based, or small group programs to promote their mental health.

Chair: Cixin Wang, PhD, University of Maryland

Discussant: Prerna Arora, PhD, Columbia University in the City of New York

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 55 Prevention

#636

Symposium: LGBTQ Affirming Therapy: Current Research and Best Practices

This symposium brings together research on a variety of aspects of LGBTQ affirming care including understanding client experiences, the efficacy of targeted therapy treatments and training, and the implementation of training in graduate programs.

Chair: Em Matsuno, PhD, Palo Alto University

Discussant: Anneliese Singh, PhD, University of Georgia

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

#637

Symposium: Non-Pharmacological Methods for Health Promotion for Patients, Caregivers, and Healthcare Providers

The papers in this session will cover research on the impact that non-pharmacological approaches, particularly arts-based interventions and creative arts therapy, have for health and well-being for patients, caregivers, and health care providers.

Co-chairs: Melissa Menzer, PhD, National Endowment for the Arts; Julie Blaskewicz Boron, PhD, University of Nebraska, Omaha

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 5 Art/Music/Literature

#638

Skill-Building Session: Encouraging Publication of International Scholarship—Challenges and Strategies

This session will have several current journal editors share their experience of successfully publishing articles reflecting international scholarship, including the challenges they encounter and strategies developed.

Co-chairs: Amanda Clinton, PhD, APA; Changming Duan, PhD, University of Kansas

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 39 International

#639

Symposium: Psychologists' Contributions to Safeguarding the International Rights of Children

This symposium focuses on pathways to make the field of psychology as relevant as possible in the global policy setting world of human rights. It's a guide from professionals on how to get involved and where to funnel research for maximize impact.

Chair: Gabriel Twose, PhD, APA, Washington, DC

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 51.1 human rights

#640

Symposium: Advancing Social Justice Through Technology, Telepsychology, and Organizational Consultation

This symposium will introduce telebehavioral health competencies as a framework to examine the advancement of social justice through technology, telepsychology, telepractice, and organizational consultation.

Chair: Marlene Maheu, PhD, Telebehavioral Health Institute, LLC, San Diego, CA

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 69 Technology

#641

Symposium: Supporting First-Generation and Low-Income Doctoral Students in Psychology

This session will feature an interdisciplinary exploration of how the field of psychology can better support first-generation and low-income psychology doctoral students. We will share resources and strategies for success for current students.

Co-chairs: Bridget Makol, PhD, University of Maryland, College Park; Ashley Castro, MA, DePaul University

Discussants: Ashley Castro, MA, DePaul University; Bridget Makol, MS, University of Maryland, College Park; Elizabeth Talbott, PhD, College of William and Mary; Sharon Berry, PhD, Children's Minnesota, Minneapolis, MN; Celeste Malone, PhD, MS, Howard University; Stephanie Yee, MA, University of Maryland, College Park; Albert Ly, MA, Loma Linda University; Jordan Reed, MA, DePaul University; Heather Marshall, MA, BA, DePaul University

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 56 Psychology Policy and Training Issues

#642

Symposium: Prismatic Faith—Diverse Perspectives on the Complex Religious/Spiritual Lives of Sexual Minorities

This symposium presents research on the often complex religious/spiritual lives of sexual minorities. Presenters from diverse religious/spiritual and ideological perspectives dialogue and then invite audience members into the discussion.

Co-chairs: Jeffrey Paulez, PhD, Colorado State University; Edward Davis, PsyD, Wheaton College

Discussants: Erin Deneke, PhD, Caron Treatment Centers; Theresa Tisdale, PhD, Azusa Pacific University

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

#643

Symposium: The Universal Clinical Trial in Mental Healthcare: Longitudinal Research in Private Practices

The UCT advances an integrative technology and biomarker-guided clinical and research protocol for private practices for the purpose of generating "big data" driven patient diagnostic and treatment outcome analytics.

Chair: Roland Carlstedt, PhD, McLean Hospital/Harvard Medical School

Discussant: Denise Fortino, PhD, Integrative Psychological Services of New York City

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 48.3 evidence-based practice

#644

Symposium: The Psychology of World Religions and Spiritualities: An Indigenous Perspective

This symposium takes the field of indigenous psychology and applies it to a diverse, international group of religions/spiritualities. As Western psychology takes a more emic approach, fresh approaches to research and treatment emerge.

Chair: Timothy Sisemore, PhD, California Baptist University

Discussant: Louise Sundararajan, PhD, Independent researcher

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 58 Religion and Spirituality

#646

Symposium: Fingerprinting Treatment: Evaluating Individual Differences in Support of Personalized Medicine

This symposium discusses individual differences as it pertains to personalized medicine using an audience response demonstration of differences and experts discussing treatment outcomes and the philosophical foundation of this field.

Chair: Kelly Dunn, PhD, Johns Hopkins University

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 53 Psychopharmacology

#647

Symposium: Telemental Health in Diverse Contexts—Opportunities, Best Practices, and Challenges

This symposium will discuss telemental health within diverse settings including perinatal mental health, independent practice, and humanitarian emergencies. The advantages of, challenges to, and ethics of telemental health will be discussed.

Chair: Sonali Gupta, PsyD, The Center for Victims of Torture

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 69.3 telepsychology

#649

Symposium: A Collaborative Data Blitz on Sex and Gender Vulnerabilities in Psychological Health

This session will provide students and early career psychologists the opportunity to share research and network with individuals focused on sex and gender vulnerabilities in psychological health using a dynamic data blitz format.

Co-chairs: Justin Strickland, PhD, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine; Alexandra Minieri, PhD, George Mason University

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 1 Addictive Behavior

#650

Discussion: Climate Action: A Working Group Approach for Psychologists to Address the Crisis

Divisions for Social Justice will facilitate discussion in working groups focused on climate justice in the context of immigration, youth, community adaptation and resilience, climate change perceptions and communication, and vulnerable populations.

Chair: Mindy Erchull, PhD, University of Mary Washington

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 27 Environmental

#651

Symposium: Diverse Translational Perspectives in the Development of Opioid and Substance Use Disorders

Pain management and substance abuse remain health challenges.

This multidisciplinary symposium of clinical and preclinical presenters examines the biological, developmental, and psychosocial variables that lead to opioid and substance use disorders.

Chair: Erik Garcia, PhD, University of Texas Medical Branch

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 66 Substance Abuse

#652

Symposium: Growing Older With HIV: Strategies for Healthy Aging

Half of those living with HIV in the U.S. were age 50 and older in 2016. This symposium will explore how specific sub-populations of older HIV-positive adults not only survive, but manage to thrive despite the challenges of aging with this disease.

Chair: Mark Brennan-Ing, PhD, City University of New York Hunter College

Discussant: David Pantalone, PhD, University of Massachusetts Boston

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 2 Aging

#654

Symposium: A Push and a Nudge—Leveraging Behavioral Economics to Improve Psychological Health

This session will provide an overview of traditional and novel behavioral economic principles and their applications to improve psychological health and well-being.

Chair: Justin Strickland, PhD, John Hopkins University School of Medicine

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 7 Behavior Analysis

#655

Symposium: Aging Gracefully: There's an APP for That! Gerotechnology and Optimal Functioning in Older Adults

This workshop presents a comprehensive program of cutting-edge psychotechnology applications and research designed to foster neurocognitive and psychological development, growth, and functioning in older adults. There's an app for that—really!

Chair: Laura Palmer, PhD, Laura Palmer Ph.D. LLC and Associates

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 2 Aging

#656

Symposium: NIH Toolbox® Assessment Across the Lifespan

The NIH Toolbox's neuropsychological tests are administered via an iPad app. Using technology and IRT/CAT, most tests take <5 min. Learn how these procedures increase applicability of tests across a range of ages (3-85) and ability levels.

Chair: Julie Hook, PhD, MBA, Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

#657

Symposium: Improving the Success of Student Veterans Through Cultural Understanding

The presenters in this symposium will describe the military culture and describe effective programs and practices that will allow faculty members and administrators to help their veteran students succeed and thrive in the academic environment.

Chair: Nathan Ainspan, PhD, Department of Defense

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 46 Military and Veterans

#658

Symposium: Psychological Care for Transgender Service Members and Veterans: Examining Current Policies

This symposium will explore multiple perspectives on topics relevant to professionals providing clinical care, education, and advocacy for policy change for transgender and gender diverse individuals in military settings.

Co-chairs: Tracy Beegen, PsyD, U.S. Army; Gary Howell, PsyD, Institute for LGBT Health and Wellbeing & Florida School of Professional Psychology

Discussant: Gary Howell, PsyD, Institute for LGBT Health and Wellbeing & Florida School of Professional Psychology

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 62.4 transgender and gender nonconforming

#659

Symposium: Ethics in Work With Immigrants and Refugees: Interdisciplinary Collaborations Across Diverse Settings

This panel will examine the ethical and legal considerations in working with immigrants and refugees. We will address ethical issues related to the treatment of youth and adults that can apply to work with other marginalized populations.

Co-chairs: Meredith Weber, PhD, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine; Mary Beth Quaranta Morrissey, PhD, JD, Fordham University-Lincoln Center

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 39.1 immigration

#660

Symposium: Trigger Warnings From Three Perspectives— Education, Emotion Regulation, and Intergroup Conflict

Speakers who research an emerging and controversial topic – trigger warnings in higher education — will present their analyses from three perspectives: education, emotion regulation across time, and group processes and intergroup relations.

Chair: Guy Boysen, PhD, McKendree University

Division: CPG

Subject Index: 31 Experimental (General)

#662

Symposium: Where Do We Go From Here (2.0)? A Continued Conversation on Motivation Theories and Their Implications for Education Policy, Practice, and Ethnically Diverse Student Populations

Co-chairs: Alison Koenka, PhD, Richmond; Allan Wigfield, PhD, University of Maryland

Discussant: Jamal Matthews, PhD, Montclair

Division: 15

Subject Index: 25 Education

#663

Symposium: Applications of SRL vs. ERL Theory to Psychoeducational Counseling in University: New Evidence

The Theory of Auto vs. Hetero-Regulation of Learning -SRL vs. ERL Theory- (de la Fuente, 2017) has tried to respond to factors not resolved by previous research, based on the Self-Regulated Learning model (B. J. Zimmerman, 2001).

Chair: Jesús de la Fuente, PsyD, Pamplona

Discussant: Paul Sander, PsyD, Teesside

Division: 15

Subject Index: 46.2 Research

#664

Symposium: Scientific Misconduct: Addressing Questionable Research Practices

Chair: Robert Horn, PhD, Flagstaff

Division: 15

Co-sponsor Division(s): 5, 40

Subject Index: 46.2 Research

#665

Symposium: The Relevance of Educational Psychology to Education Policy: Past Lessons to Inform the Future

Chair: Sharon Nichols, PhD, San Antonio

Discussant: Ron Astor, PhD, Los Angeles

Division: 15

Subject Index: 25 Education

#667

Invited Address: Presidential Address with Gail Sinatra, PhD

Division: 15

Subject Index: 25 Education

#668

Skill-Building Session: Hitting the Ground Running With School-Based Research

Co-chairs: Christine Bae, PhD, Richmond; DeLeon Gray, PhD, North Carolina State University

Division: 15

Subject Index: 25 Education

#669

Symposium: An Interdisciplinary Approach to Teaching Psychology in an Early Education Setting

A comprehensive unit plan for educators on teaching psychological concepts to early childhood students has been created. Each of the 15 lesson plans emphasize how; concept material can be reinforced throughout portions of the daily routine.

Co-chairs: Anna Malone, BA, West Liberty; Susan Smith, BS, West Liberty

Division: 15

Co-sponsor Division(s): 2

Subject Index: 68 Teaching of Psychology

#670

Symposium: Educational Psychologists Investigate Cognition and Motivation in STEM

Division: 15

Subject Index: 25 Education

Skill-Building Session: Changing Behavior Without Shame—Trauma-Informed Behavioral Intervention

Misapplied behavior management practices are inconsistent with trauma-informed practice and can harm students. We will identify beneficial evidence-based practices most consistent with trauma-informed care and address barriers to effective implementation.

Chair: Meredith Weber, PhD, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine

Division: 56

Co-sponsor Division(s): 7, 15, 29

Subject Index: 21.4.3 childhood

Symposium: Developing a Meaningful Career in Psychological Science—Early Career Awardees Present Short, Lively Talks and Share Reflections

Five of APA's Early Career Awardees present talks: social influences on health, risk and resilience in childhood, language production, motivation deficits, and social-cognitive factors in adolescence. The panelists reflect on their careers in a Q&A.

Co-chairs: Susan J. Harris, PhD, American Psychological Association; Anne E. Kazak, PhD, Nemours Children's Health System; Howard S. Kurtzman, PhD, American Psychological Association

Division: 7

Subject Index: 24 Early Career

Symposium: Advancing Bullying Prevention Research Through the Lens of School-Wide Social Emotional Learning

In this symposium, five empirical studies with different methodological approaches and samples from diverse backgrounds are presented to discuss the roles of key factors related to school-wide social emotional learning in bullying prevention.

Chair: Chunyan Yang, PhD, University of California, Berkeley

Discussant: Amanda Nickerson, PhD, University of Buffalo

Division: 16

Subject Index: 55 Prevention

Symposium: Bullying and Mental Health among Racial and Sexual Minority Students

We will present results from four studies examining the risk and protective factors for victimization and mental health difficulties among racial and sexual minority students, and what factors may buffer the negative effects of peer victimization.

Chair: Cixin Wang, PhD, University of Maryland

Discussant: Susan Swearer, PhD, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Division: 16

Subject Index: 72 Violence/Aggression

Symposium: Mind-Body Health Interventions

This symposium examines how Mind-Body Health (MBH) techniques have increasingly been implemented to address the health and well-being of children in educational, health care, and university-based settings

Chair: Melissa A. Bray, PhD, University of Connecticut;

Discussant: Lea A. Theodore, PhD, Adelphi University

Division: 16

Subject Index: 33 Health Psychology/Behavioral Medicine

Symposium: Using DSM while Working with Non-dominant US Populations: Decolonization Work in Action

This symposium will critically review the benefits and drawbacks of using DSM while working with nondominant US populations. Case examples and recommendations are discussed.

Division: 17

Subject Index: 48 Multicultural

Division 35 Business Meeting

Division: 35

Subject Index: 73 Women's Studies/Psychology of Women

Invited Address: Early Career Award Address

Division: 40

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

Symposium: Fellows Address

Division: 40

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

Symposium: Health Disparities in Neuropsychology during the COVID-19 Era: What can we do about it?

Chair: Margaret Lanca, PhD, Cambridge Health Alliance

Division: 40

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

Symposium: Neuropsychology Training and Supervision in the Era of COVID-19

This session addresses issues related to training and education in clinical neuropsychology, in the era of COVID-19. The pandemic has caused dramatic changes to healthcare delivery, which in turn has had a direct impact on neuropsychology students and trainees. Highlighted will be the impacts from the perspective of trainees and neuropsychology supervisors. We will also highlight important data obtained from the APPCN survey and discuss implications for the future.

Chair: Scott Sperling, PsyD, University of Virginia;
Co-Chair: Pamela Dean, ABPP-CN, University of Washington

Division: 40

Subject Index: 49 Neuropsychology

Presidential Address: Presidential Address with Gary Howell, PsyD

Division: 44

Subject Index: 62 Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Invited Address: Presidential Address and Awards

Division: 47

Subject Index: 64 Sports Exercise and Performance

APA 2020 Presidential Address

Division: APA

Subject Index: 37.1 leadership/management/administration

APA Member Town Hall: Moving Psychology and APA Forward in a Rapidly Changing World

Scheduled Premiere: August 7, 2020, 12:45-1:45 p.m. ET

Division: APA

Subject Index: 23 Disaster/Crisis

Micro-learning Session: Supercharge Your Presence: How to Lead Without a Title

Discover alternative avenues for being a leader, identify practical strategies for making an impact and earn to recognize and overcome personal barriers to leadership.

Division: APA

Subject Index: 24 Early Career

Micro-learning Session: Transforming Uncertainty into Opportunity: The Serendipity Mindset

Learn how to use uncertainty to enhance your worldview, expand your social circles and create new opportunities for innovation. Dr. Christian Busch will share his work on the science of serendipity and how it can be used as a tool for innovation.

Division: APA

Subject Index: 37 Industrial/Organizational and Consulting Psychology

Online Teaching and Learning: Best Practice Tips and Pearls of Wisdom for Faculty

Learn how to be an effective online instructor and deliver quality online education in psychology.

Division: APA

Subject Index: 25 Education

Discussion: APA Policy Fellowships: Engaging in Policy in a Changing World

Division: B/D

Subject Index: 56.3 public policy

Microlearning: Emerging Leaders Network—Applying to Graduate School: What You Need to Know Before You Go

This session is for individuals preparing to apply to doctoral programs and will address: 1) reaching out to prospective advisors and labs; 2) preparing a compelling personal statement; and 3) preparing questions and talking points for interviews.

Division: GS

Subject Index: 25 Education

Microlearning: Emerging Leaders Network—Cultivating effective mentorship and academic identity in psychology doctoral students of color

Doctoral students of color (SOC) are largely underrepresented and experience a high prevalence of discrimination and microaggressions. Research indicates that SOC with supportive mentorship successfully navigate their academic careers.

Chair: Julii M. Green, PhD, Alliant International University

Discussant: Christa N. Call, MA, Alliant International University

Division: GS

Subject Index: 25 Education

Microlearning: Emerging Leaders Network—Infusing Multicultural Training, Advocacy and Community Outreach into Clinical Psychology Programs

Student co-chairs of the Diversity Training Committee at UNC will present their efforts to enrich student training opportunities and increase diversity in clinical psychology doctoral programs by supporting minority applicants.

Chair: Hannah L. Joseph, M.A.

Discussant: Beryl Cowan, JD, PhD

Division: GS

Subject Index: 11 Clinical/Counseling/Consulting

Microlearning: Emerging Leaders Network—Robots are coming

This session will discuss advances in AI assisted therapy and assessment. Panelists will also discuss the role of robotics in healthcare. The session will center around the use of AI for improving well-being and delivering better mental healthcare.

Division: GS

Subject Index: 25 Education

Microlearning: Emerging Leaders Network—Strength in Numbers: Examining the Importance of Relationships for Black Students with Success Guilt

This program aims to examine survivor's guilt in first-generation African American students as well as teach critical skills for navigating relationships with distant friends and mentors as well as managing success guilt.

Division: GS

Subject Index: 25 Education

Microlearning: Emerging Leaders Network—The Examination for Professional Practice In Psychology (EPPP): New Data and New Questions

After reviewing the stated purposes and validation process for the EPPP, we present data from two new studies which assessed the relationship between demographic variables and EPPP performance.

Chair: Brian A. Sharpless, PhD

Division: GS

Subject Index: 74.2 practice

Invited Science Lecture: Black Youth Suicide: What We're Missing

Scheduled Premiere: August 6, 2020, 12:45-1:45 p.m. ET

Division: APA

Subject Index: 67 Suicide

Invited Science Lecture: Measuring and Confronting Racism: Documenting Race-Based Trauma

Scheduled Premiere: August 6, 2020, 4:30-6:00 p.m. ET

Division: APA

Subject Index: 71.1 community impact

Backstage Pass Event: Does Psychology Hold the Key to COVID-19?

Scheduled Premiere: August 6, 2020, 7:00-8:00 p.m. ET

Division: APA

Subject Index: 63 Social

Backstage Pass Event: Stress, Kindness, and Coping: The Escalating Global Health Crisis and Our Young People

Scheduled Premiere: August 7, 2020, 7:00-8:00 p.m. ET

Division: APA

Subject Index: 33.2 health promotion/prevention

Backstage Pass Event: The Perfect Storm for BIPOC: The Emotional Toll of Racism and COVID-19

Scheduled Premiere: August 8, 2020, 7:00-8:00 p.m. ET

Division: APA

Subject Index: 43.1 boys and men of color

Main Stage Event: The Psychological Toll of COVID-19

Host: Soledad O'Brien, Award-winning journalist, entrepreneur and host of the weekly syndicated political show Matter of Fact

Division: APA

Subject Index: 33.5 health equity/disparities

Main Stage Event: The Psychology of Being a Leader in a Time of Crisis

Scheduled Premiere: August 7, 2020, 11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m. ET;

Division: APA

Subject Index: 37.1 leadership/management/administration

Main Stage Event: The Science of Racism

Scheduled Premiere: August 9, 2020, 11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m. ET

Division: APA

Subject Index: 71 Trauma