

A NEED TO TRAVEL

I am at a loss
I thought
We had
An understanding
But you did it
AGAIN

The troubling episodes
Always occur
Out of nowhere
Just when I have grown
To feel comfortable
And safe with you
Once more

What causes
This transformation
In you
Who in your history
Made you feel
So inadequate

Perhaps I will Never know
Or understand
The roots of
Your psychology
Your demons

But I am weary
So weary
Of this thing
This behavior
That alters
Who I once thought
You to be

I move far away
Physically
And emotionally
As if I have relocated
To another planet

Someday
I may travel
So far away
That I cannot
Will not
Resurface
Perhaps Sooner than
I imagine
Is possible
