CREMATION CONTAINER

Remains must be placed in a container for cremation. Such containers must meet the following standards: 1) be composed of Combustible Materials; 2) provide complete covering of the body; 3) be Resistant to Spillage or Leakage; 4) be Rigid for Handling with ease; 5) be able to Provide Protection for the Health and Safety of the crematory personnel.

THE CREMATION: PROCESSING OF THE REMAINS

- Cremation begins by placement of the cremation container in the cremation chamber where it is subject to intense heat and flame.
- Through the use of suitable fuel, incineration of the container and contents is accomplished and all substances are consumed and driven off, except bone fragments and metal.
- Certain items, including, but not limited to, body prostheses, dentures, dental bridgework, dental fillings, jewelry, artificial eyes and other personal articles and property accompanying the remains of the Decedent, will be destroyed during the cremation process.
- Following a cooling period, the cremated remains are swept or raked from the cremation chamber. Every effort is made to remove all of the cremated human remains from the chamber. However, a small residue, or dust, may remain in the cremation chamber, resulting in incidental or inadvertent commingling of minute particles of cremated remains with other previous cremations.
- After the cremated remains are removed from the chamber, all noncombustible materials (not previously removed) insofar as possible, will be Separated and Removed from the bone fragments by visible or magnetic selection and will be disposed of by the crematory in a non-recoverable manner.
- The bone fragments, are mechanically processed (pulverized) or reduced in size to uniform particles. This process of crushing or grinding may cause incidental commingling of the remains with the residue from the processing of previously cremated remains.
- If an urn or other container is not provided to the crematory, or is insufficient in size to accommodate all the remains, the crematory will place the remains, or any excess, in a temporary receptacle (container) made of plastic or cardboard. Any receptacle containing excess cremated remains will be kept with the primary receptacle and handled according to the Disposition Instructions on the Cremation Authorization Form.

AFTER CREMATION HAS BEEN COMPLETED

The urn or container containing the cremated remains will be returned to you or the individual, cemetery, or funeral establishment designated on the Cremation Authorization Form. If the cremated remains are not claimed by the 61st day following the date of cremation, Grand Rapids Cremation Services shall arrange for the final disposition or dispose of the cremated remains in any manner permitted by law.

LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

The obligations of Grand Rapids Cremation Services shall be limited to the cremation of the decedent and the disposition of the decedent's cremated remains as authorized on the Cremation Authorization Form. No Warranties Expressed or Implied are Made, and Damages Shall be Limited to the amount of the cremation fee.
