

Privacy Policy for webpage and electronic information collection

Protecting your privacy and the confidentiality of your personal information is fundamental to the way we do business at North Parkland Power Co-op. We are committed to respecting people's personal information – keeping it confidential, accurate and secure.

Your privacy protection is assured.

When you consent to provide us with your personal information, North Parkland Power Co-op is committed to meeting its obligations under the Personal Information Protection Act. A copy of the Act is available for reading at the North Parkland Power Co-op office, and copies can be obtained from the Queen's Printer (telephone 780.427.4952, internet www.qp.alberta.ca/).

Using your personal information to your advantage.

As a North Parkland Power Co-op member, you have entrusted us with your personal information, such as your name, address, phone number, etc. This information is recorded in your file and used to maintain your electricity needs.

At North Parkland Power Co-op, we trust and value the accuracy of your personal information. Our employees play an important role in protecting personal information. They are required to adhere to this policy and take all reasonable steps to ensure that personal information is protected from unauthorized access.
