Theory of Change: Service Dogs

People with disabilities living more independent lives. These people with disabilities have fewer symptoms, fewer medical difficulties, fewer behavioral problems, and better emotional well-being. Family uses Autism Person with a disability Service Dog to help uses the dog to assist them in daily life. their child. Autism Service Dog is trained, and the family A Seizure Service Dog A PTSD Service Dog is of the child with autism trained to help a is trained to help a person with PTSD. is trained to use the dog person with epilepsy. to help the child.