Hundreds of Questions to Choose From

Make your 360° Feedback count with the right questions. Choose from Grapevine's vast library of question for instant, ready-made surveys. Or customize your own to ensure you get the information your company needs.

- Easily choose one of our Preset Evaluation Templates
- Effortlessly Customize Evaluation questions
- Group questions together by competency and rating

Designed with the HR User in Mind

Grapevine's 360° Feedback understands the needs of the HR Professional. Our survey tool assists you in easily creating, distributing, managing & evaluating all stages of the HR survey process. No special training is required by the user or participants.

- Easily define user groups and relationships (managers, direct reports, customer, peer, etc.)
- Ability to roll the survey out in phases or groups
- Group questions together by competency items
- Track responses and Follow-up with non-responsive participants

Simple Yet Comprehensive Reporting

Grapevine's 360° Feedback makes reporting easy. Options range from the individualized reporting to more broad and expansive findings. Plus, your company can see answers in "real-time," allowing you to gauge participants' responses and reactions before the survey is completed.

- Easily see answers in "real-time" format
- Create individual, department, and company employee reports
- Report comparison of individual to company or department averages
- Link questions to competency items for report averaging
- Control report distribution
