FOREWORD.

The object of this publication is to keep the public of Bromley informed as to the activities of their library and the extent of its resources. It is intended to publish the Bulletin three times during the winter, and once during the summer, and oftener if necessary. In this, the first number, it is impossible to deal fully with the aims of the Bulletin owing to a very happy circumstance. Mr. Paul Henwood, of Church House, has most generously presented to the library no fewer than 600 volumes of the most recently published books—a gift so welcome and timely that the committee feel how poor a return is their simple thanks for the practical interest Mr. Henwood has shown in their work. The greater part of this gift is catalogued in the following pages, and thus occupies the whole of the first number of the Bulletin. The date of the opening of the new library having been advanced a week, some of the books still on order by Mr. Henwood are not included in this list. The annotations are extremely brief, full treatment being impossible in the space available.

Notes and News.

Progress in Reading.

The Committee are gratified to find that there has been such a ready response on the part of borrowers to their efforts to improve what may be termed the quality of the reading. While the purchase of books of fiction has by no means been neglected, the Committee have added very largely to the collections on Natural Science, Sociology, Fine and Useful Arts, Literature, History and Description and Biography, with the result that there has been a great addition to the number of borrowers of books from these classes. The system of access to the bookshelves has also helped to this end; the books themselves are always more attractive than a catalogue entry. The result is that while the average daily issue has increased to the gratifying extent shown by the following figures, the issue of fiction has decreased during the period under review by no less than 17 per cent., and this may be taken as the true test of a library's usefulness.

A comparison of the daily average issues during the years 1902 to 1906, with the latest returns for October, 1906:—

Reference Library.

This department is becoming steadily more popular as its contents are better known. The Reference Library is strong in quick reference books. To enumerate only a few—there are two Encyclopædias (the Britannica and Chambers'), dictionaries of the English, French, Italian, German, Anglo-Saxon, Spanish, Latin, Greek and other languages. Dictionaries of French, English and German technical terms, of synonyms, surnames, nicknames, slang and colloquial English; dictionaries of biography (including the Dict. of National Biography, 68 vols.), of painters and engravers, of psychology, music and musicians, quotations, Christian antiquities and biography, concordance to and dictionaries of the Bible, concordances to Shakespeare and Burns, and encyclopædias of architecture and mechanics. Readers should bear in mind that the books in the Home Reading Department supplement those in the Reference Library and may be freely used for reference purposes.

Popular Free Lectures.

The Library Committee have arranged for the following lectures to be given in the Lecture Hall of the Central Public Library. The Committee are sensible of the great kindness of the gentlemen who have undertaken these lectures in so readily complying with the request that was made to them to do so.

Monday, Nov. 19. JOHN WALPOLE BOND, Esq., On Some Birds of Kent. With lantern illustrations.

Monday, Dec. 3. R. S. BATE, Esq., M.A., Origin of the English Drama.

Monday, Dec. 17. L. STANLEY JAST, Esq., Chief Librarian, Croydon Public Library, The Fascination of the Dictionary. With lantern illustrations.

Monday, Jan. 7. AUGUSTUS CHAS. BODEY, Esq., B.Sc., A.I.C., An Evening with the Spectroscope. With lantern and experimental illustrations.

Monday, Jan. 21. Rev. DONALD TAIT, M.A., Vicar of Bromley, With William I in Normandy. With lantern illustrations.

Monday, Feb. 4. Rev. D. F. MACKENZIE, M.A., B.D., of the Bromley Presbyterian Church, Bromley, Athens: Past and Present. With lantern illustrations.

Monday, Feb. 18. WILLIAM J. HARRIS, Esq., Borough Librarian, History and Evolution of the Printed Book. With lantern illustrations.

Monday, March 4. Rev. PETER BARKER, M.A., Vicar of St. John's, "The Venerable" Bede and His Times.

Monday, March 18. A. CARR, Esq., M.A., Samuel Johnson and His Friends. With lantern illustrations.

The lectures commence at 8 p.m.

No charge will be made for admission to these lectures. Admission will be by ticket, which may be obtained at the Central or Branch Library and Delivery Stations, one week before each lecture. Should any seat be available after 7.50, no ticket will be required. The object which the Committee have in view is to promote and stimulate interest in the work of the Library and in the books it contains.

Delivery Stations.

Two new Delivery Stations have been opened, at College Road and Shortlands. The College Road Station is situated at 57, College Road [Mr. Mundy], and that at Shortlands at 53, Beckenham Lane [Mr. Burton, Chemist]. About 100 volumes are deposited at these stations, which are open for the exchange of books from 2 p.m. till 8 p.m. each weekday (excepting Wednesdays, when they are open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.). Books borrowed from the Central Library may be exchanged at any of the stations or vice versâ. The books at the Delivery Stations are changed frequently, thus providing a constant supply of fresh books. With the opening of these two new book stations, Bromley will be well served by its public library system. The success that has attended the small Branch at the St. Luke's Institute, Raglan Road, and the Station at Bromley Common, proves that these stations are taking a definite part in the life of the people, and are serving a very useful purpose.

School Children at the Public Library.

The Library Committee are arranging for visits of parties of elder boys and girls from the elementary schools to the Public Library, in order that the system of the Library may be explained to them, and that interest may be stimulated in an institution at which it is hoped that most of them will become readers when they have left school.

Reading Circles.

Also with a view to teaching the senior scholars at our elementary schools how to use the privilege of reading at home, and in order to give them guidance and help in the choosing of books, the Library Committee are organizing Reading Circles at the Central Library. They are grateful not only to those who have so kindly undertaken to conduct these Reading Circles, but also to the School Teachers for that hearty co-operation without which the object in view could not be so well achieved.

It will be seen that in these arrangements for the benefit of our young people the Library Committee have anticipated the Circular which the Board of Education have recently issued on the subject.

Donations.

The Committee desire to acknowledge the receipt of the following donations: Wm. McKewan, Esq., J.P., £10 10s; Messrs. W. Tait, 11 v.; H. E. Strong, 1 v.; J. Callick, 1 v.; F. Weeks, 15 v.; H. J. Helm, 3 v.; Mrs. J. M. Brown, 3 v.; W. G. Elder, 1 v.; J. H. Bridge, 1 v.; Miss Fitter, 9 v.; Editor Bromley and District Times, 5 v.; Mrs. Waller, 17 v.; Mrs. De la Condamine, 1 v.; Rev. C. A. Wright, 9 v.; Mrs. H. Gillespie, 1 v.

Extra Tickets.

Every registered ticket-holder may have an extra ticket on which only non-fictional works may be issued. To obtain this ticket all a reader has to do is to make an application to the assistant at the counter, when a ticket will be issued at once; no further recommendation is required.

University Extension Society.

The Library Committee are pleased that the University Extension Society have availed themselves of the opportunity which was presented to them by the Library Lecture Hall for their lectures. These are given on Thursday evenings at 8 p.m. The subject for the present course is The Greater Plays of Shakespeare, by A. A. Jack, Esq., M.A. LL.M.

It is hoped that those who make use of the Library will have no hesitation in consulting the Librarian or his Assistants upon all matters upon which information is needed.

RECENT PURCHASES.

Note.—The numbers in the right hand columns are the numbers of the books.

THE BOOKS UPON THE SHELVES ARE ARRANGED NUMERICALLY BY THESE NUMBERS.

The numbers in the "Handbook for Readers" also refers to these numbers.

R before a number signifies that the work is in the Reference collection.

BULLETIN OF THE BROMLEY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Everyman: a Morality, with designs by A. Dudley.
1906 .. .. . 822

According to Collier, it is "one of the most perfect allegories ever formed." Probably written in the reign of Edward IV. The original is in the Library of Lincoln Cathedral. Everyman is intended as a representation of the entire human race.

Green, John Richard. Stray Studies from England and Italy. 1892 .. .. . 828

Twenty-two essays on various topics.

Hope, Laurence. Indian Love. Port. 1905 .. .. . 821

Poems inspired by native (Hindoo) thought, sentiment and customs.

King's English. 1906 .. .. . 819.3

An attempt to deal systematically and in detail with the rules of correct style. It is not, however, a school book, but a book for general reference; and therefore all rules, however important, which are seldom or never broken, are omitted. The illustrations are drawn from representative writers and from the leading journals of the day.

SOME ENGLISH ESSAYS: A SHORT READING LIST.

READ wisely. Read good literature. Read "the best that has been thought in the world." The great essayists, from Bacon downwards, form an important and precious part of English literature, and things may be learnt from the great masters of the essay that cannot be acquired so well from the reading of any other kind of book. Therefore read the essayists.

The following list contains an excellent selection:—

The Card Catalogue.

This Catalogue, as its name implies, is arranged upon cards, and is situated just inside the entrance wicket on the right in the Home Reading Department. The cards are arranged in alphabetical order, NON-FICTION under AUTHORS ONLY, at present, and FICTION under AUTHORS and TITLES.

Should a reader require Darwin's "Descent of Man," he should turn up the word "Darwin," where all of Darwin's works will be found together; or should say Kipling's "Many Inventions," be required, the entry will be found under that title, and also under the word "Kipling." The number on the left of the card directs the reader to the place of the book on the library shelves.

When in doubt as to whether the library contains a certain book, ALWAYS CONSULT THE CARD CATALOGUE.

BOROUGH LIBRARIAN.

William J. Harris.

Bromley Gas Consumers' Company.

GAS COOKERS.

By the best makers may be hired at from 1/6 to 3/- per quarter, according to size. A selection of Gas Cookers may be seen at the Company's Offices, 156, High Street, Bromley.

Advantages of Gas Cookers.

- Economy of time and fuel.
- Greater cleanliness.
- Less waste of food in cooking.
- Reliable and always ready for use.
- Keeps kitchen cooler in Summer.

GAS FIRES.

The Medical Profession appreciates the advantages of Gas Fires, which are largely used by the leading Physicians and Surgeons.

Advantages of Gas Fires.

- A good fire may be obtained at any moment without the trouble of laying.
- The heat may be regulated and stopped at will.
- Perfect cleanliness: no wood, no coal, no ashes to soil the grate, no chimney to sweep.

Gas Fires are let on hire at rentals by the Company from 1/- per quarter upwards. Various patterns may be seen at the Company's Show Room as above.

Competent Workmen are sent to advise as to adoption of Gas Cookers and Fires, and as to cost of fitting them.

INCANDESCENT LIGHT MAINTENANCE

The Company maintain and keep in order Consumers' Incandescent Burners at 3d. per burner per quarter, supplying mantles, etc., at cost price. Full details can be had on application to the Secretary.

GAS COKE.

Which is delivered at Consumers' premises in quantities of not less than six sacks, is highly recommended for kitcheners, ordinary fires and greenhouse stoves, being nearly smokeless and giving great heat.

Orders should be sent to the Secretary,

156, HIGH STREET, BROMLEY.

Notes and News.

Issue of Books.

The issues from the Home Reading and Reference Departments are still steadily increasing, and for the month of February averaged 532 per day, as against 324 for the corresponding month last year.

The System of Issue.

The Safe-guarded Open Access System has now been in operation for nearly twelve months and the results have been very gratifying. The object of the Committee was to extend the usefulness of the books in the library by enhancing their educational value in a practical and satisfactory manner. With this end in view, methods of exact classification have been introduced by means of which it is possible to display to readers in one place the books possessed by the library on any specific subject. Access to properly classified libraries is an education in itself, not only improving the public knowledge of literature, but teaching readers the value of books as tools applicable to the every day usages of life.

How to Find Books.

If you want to find a book upon the shelves and know—

The AUTHOR only, Consult the Card Catalogue.

The TITLE only, Consult the Card Catalogue.

The SUBJECT only, Consult the Subject Index in the Reader's Handbook (in blue covers).

The NUMBERS on the Cards in the Card Catalogue are the numbers of the books.

The BOOKS on the shelves are arranged numerically by these numbers.

When in doubt as to whether the library contains a certain book, ALWAYS CONSULT THE CARD CATALOGUE.

Reservation of Fiction.

Works of fiction, with the exception of books published within twelve months may now be reserved for readers on the payment of one penny. When the book is available a postcard will be sent to that effect. The object is to accommodate readers desirous of obtaining a work of fiction for a specific purpose.

Popular Lectures.

The 9 lectures given in the Lecture Hall on alternate Monday evenings have been a marked success, the Hall being filled on every occasion. This is a great encouragement to all concerned.

Visits of Scholars to the Library.

During the three weeks preceding the Christmas vacation the older scholars from the 15 elementary schools or departments in the Borough, visited the Library. Each visit occupied about three-quarters-of-an-hour and the scholars were accompanied by a responsible teacher. The library and its system was fully explained to them by the librarian and the benefits derived from the reading of good literature pointed out.

Reading Circle.

A reading circle for girls was successfully started at the library on December 4th, 1906. Twenty-four girls from four elementary schools in the Borough were selected for the first circle, and these have met thirteen times on successive Tuesday evenings at 6.30 p.m. The book taken has been "Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare."

The Library Committee are anxious to further this work, and the Librarian would be glad to hear from any lady or gentleman who would conduct a circle.

University Extension Society.

This Society holds its Meetings in the Lecture Hall of the Public Library on Friday afternoons, the subject of the last course being From Bach to Brahms. The work of German Master Musicians in modern music, by the Rev. Courtenay Gale, M.A.

RECENT PURCHASES.

Note.—The numbers in the right hand columns are the numbers of the books.

The numbers in the "Handbook for Readers" also refers to these numbers.

THE BOOKS UPON THE SHELVES ARE ARRANGED NUMERICALLY BY THESE NUMBERS.

R before a number signifies that the work is in the Reference collection.

PHILOSOPHY.

Aristotle (B.C. 384-322). Greek Philosopher, founder of the Peripatetic School.

Marshall, Thomas. Editor. Aristotle's Theory of Conduct. 1906 ... .. 170

The "Ethics" of A. is a "practical treatise or manual of daily conduct . . . [in which] motives are analysed and actions described and defined with great skill and clearness. . . . It is still the best general intro. to moral philosophy, the earliest, and, take it for all in all, the most interesting book on the subject."—Intro.

"The whole gist of the book, or pamphlet, is to prove that Bromley Chapel, upon the site of which Bromley Congregational Church now stands, was not erected for the use of dissenters of the Independent denomination, but was but a new home 'for the use of the church and congregation assembling in the Bethel Chapel, near the market-place in this town, many years in connection with the London Itinerant Society, established 1796.' This society, quite undenominational in its character, was 'commenced by a union of ministers, among whom were clergymen and dissenters of various denominations,' and conducted on the same broad lines as the London Missionary Society. Later there appears to have been some trouble in the settlement of the trust deed, and Mr. Bromley himself seems to have unwittingly tried to make the building denominational, in an effort to keep it undenominational, by inserting in the draft 'fifteen doctrinal Articles adopted by all the ministers in Lady Huntingdon's connection, which is an abridgement of the Articles of the Church of England, and is in unison with the Confession of the Faith of the established Kirk of Scotland.'"

Evans, Herbert A. Highways and Byways in Oxford and the Cotswolds. Illus. 3 maps. 1 plan.

1905 ... .. 446

Does not pretend to be an exhaustive history, the author has written about those places and things which interested him. First chapter only on Oxford, the rest devoted to the northern half of the basin of the upper Thames.

Fraser, Edward. The Enemy at Trafalgar. *Portraits.

Illus. Plans. [1906] ... .. 417

An account of the battle from eye-witnesses' narratives and letters and despatches from the French and Spanish fleets.

Goldman, Charles S. Editor. The Empire and the Century. 7 maps. 1905 ... .. 405

Contents.—Pt. 1. Imperial organism: 1, Principles of Empire; 2, Mechanism of Empire. Pt. 2. Constituents of Empire: 1, Nations in making, Canada Australasia, South Africa; 2, Realms in trust, India, Ceylon, Egypt, Tropics, Straits Settlements, West and East Africa, West Indies.

Gives an authoritative account of the Empire at this particular moment of its history, the views of representative persons upon those special departments of Imperial development with which they are severally qualified to deal. Not a propagandist work. Though the majority of contributors are in favour of Mr. Chamberlain's policy several are not, and there is some divergence of views on non-Imperial questions.

| Object is to indicate the chief landmarks in the progress of English literature, and to give the chief ideas by which successive generations were inspired to illustrate them with such fulness as shall render them intelligible and to place them as nearly in chronological order as is compatible with their clearness of presentation. Not so much a history of literature as a statement of literary aims and methods. |                                                                                                                                                         |            |     |                |

| Not so much an ecclesiastical history as a history of social and intellectual life taken as prolegomera to ecclesiastical history. The object generally is to show the conditions under which the early church had to work, rather than what it actually accomplished.                                                                                                      |                |

His chief historical work is "The History of England from the Fall of Wolsey to the Defeat of the Armada." In literature his best known works are those on the Carlyle Family and Erasmus. His accuracy has been greatly criticised in detail; but his brilliant yet simple style and power for presenting broad effects have secured for his histories great influence and popularity.

| No one is better qualified to write a life of Irving than Mr. Stoker. Soon after Irving took the Lyceum on his own account Mr. Stoker became his acting manager and remained his close friend and confidential adviser for nearly thirty years. He gives us here a wonderful picture of the working of a great theatre and of the brilliant company that gathered nightly behind the scenes at the Lyceum, including Tennyson, Gladstone, President Roosevelt, and hundreds of other well-known people. His description of Irving himself is full of enthusiasm, and the story of his closing years is told with sincere sympathy. |                |

GAS COOKERS.

By the best makers may be hired at from 1/6 to 3/- per quarter, according to size. A selection of Gas Cookers may be seen at the Company's Offices, 156, High Street, Bromley.

Advantages of Gas Cookers.

- Economy of time and fuel.
- Greater cleanliness.
- Less waste of food in cooking.
- Reliable and always ready for use.
- Keeps kitchens cooler in Summer.

GAS FIRES.

The Medical Profession appreciates the advantages of Gas Fires, which are largely used by the leading Physicians and Surgeons.

Advantages of Gas Fires.

A good fire may be obtained at any moment without the trouble of laying.

The heat may be regulated and stopped at will.

Perfect cleanliness: no wood, no coal, no ashes to soil the grate, no chimney to sweep.

Gas Fires are let on hire at rentals by the Company from 1/- per quarter upwards. Various patterns may be seen at the Company's Show Room as above.

Competent Workmen are sent to advise as to the adoption of Gas Cookers and Fires, and as to cost of fitting them.

INCANDESCENT LIGHT MAINTENANCE.

The Company maintain and keep in order Consumers' Incandescent Burners at 3d. per burner per quarter, supplying mantles, etc., at cost price. Full details can be had on application to the Secretary.

GAS COKE.

Which is delivered at Consumers' premises in quantities of not less than six sacks, is highly recommended for kitcheners, ordinary fires and greenhouse stoves, being nearly smokeless and giving great heat.

Orders should be sent to the Secretary,

Notes and News.

Exhibition of Local Books, Photographs, Engravings, Paintings, etc.

The above Exhibition was held in the Lecture Hall of the Public Library, and was open for one week, June 24th—29th, from 3—5 and 7—9 p.m., and was visited by over 2,000 people.

The Public Library Committee are gratified at the success of the Exhibition, and have decided to make arrangements for another, to be opened in the early part of next year.

Literary and Debating Society.

It is proposed to organise a Literary and Debating Society in connection with the Public Library.

Ladies and Gentlemen desirous of joining are requested to give their names to the Librarian.

A general meeting will be held in September to complete arrangements.

Books Lent to Teachers.

The Library Committee would like it more widely known that teachers in the local schools may borrow freely from the Library for the purpose of illustrating their lessons.

Reading Lists.

The following Reading Lists have recently been issued :—

List of Books on the Building and Allied Trades.

Nature and Nature Study.

Books for the Holidays.

A few copies of these lists are still available, and may be had on application at the Library counter.

English Church in the Eighteenth Century.
1896 ... .. 274.2

Contents: Introductory. Robert Nelson. The Deists. Latitudinarian Churchmanship. The Trinitarian controversy. Enthusiasm. Church abuses. The Evangelical revival. Church fabrics and services. Each chapter is signed. Bibliography.

Allen, Grant. The Evolution of the Idea of God :
an Enquiry into the Origins of Religion ... 209

Seeks to explain how we arrived at our knowledge of God. The problem divides itself into three main portions—(1) How did men come to believe in many gods; (2) How did certain races of men come to believe in one single supreme and omnipotent God; (3) How did the most advanced races and civilisations come to conceive of that God as Triune, and to identify one of His persons with a particular divine and human incarnation.

- Scott, Capt. Robert F. Voyage of the "Discovery." 2 v. 260 Illus. 12 coloured plates. 1905.... 999
An account of the work and adventures of the English Antarctic Expedition of 1901-4—the greatest enterprise of the kind that has left our shores since 1874—told by the Commander. The most notable achievements of the party were the discovery of King Edward Land, the investigation of the composition of the Great Ice Barrier, and the presumption gained that there exists a vast land area of irregular outline round the South Pole. Captain Scott leaves the more technical scientific details to future books by the experts of the party, and his narrative is full of interesting episodes of Arctic life and hairbreath adventures.

BIOGRAPHY.

- Argyll, George Douglas Campbell, 8th Duke of (1923-1900). Politician. Argyll, Dowager Duchess of, Editor. George Douglas Eighth Duke of Argyll, Autobiography and Memoirs. 2v. Illus. Portraits. 1906 ... .. B

"List of published works, pamphlets, letters, &c., by the Duke of Argyll," v. 2, p. 595-601.

This very full memoir of the eighth Duke of Argyll consists of an autobiography, which, however, comes down only to 1857, supplemented by a memoir by the Dowager Duchess, letters, &c. The Duke's interests were many. He is well known as the author of "The Duke of law," and other scientific works, he played a considerable part in politics and ranked high as an orator. The book has many interesting descriptive criticisms of his political and literary contemporaries.

- Ariosto, Ludovico (1474-1533). Italian poet. Gardner, Edmund, G. The King of Court Poets : A Study of the Work, Life, and Times of Ludovico Ariosto. Illus. Portraits. Facsimile. 1906 B

A sequel to Mr. Gardner's "Dukes and Poets in Ferrara," and indeed assuming a knowledge of that book so far as the history of the times in which Ariosto's youth and early manhood were passed is concerned. Mr. Gardner hopes to continue his work in a third volume on the period following Ariosto's death, the years of the Counter Reformation.

Ariosto has been, after Homer, the favourite poet of Europe.—Hallam.

Dr. Brandes, who is eminent as philosopher, critic and literary artist, shows himself in this attractive volume mainly in the last of these capacities. The book comes to an end while he is still under thirty. The first half deals mainly with his life in Denmark, and throws many interesting side-lights on Danish scholars and men of letters. The second half tells of his sojourn in France and Italy and his brief visit to England.—Condensed from Athenæum, 1906.

Bromley Gas Consumers' Company.

GAS COOKERS.

By the best makers may be hired at from 1/6 to 3/- per quarter, according to size. A selection of Gas Cookers may be seen at the Company's Offices, 156, High Street, Bromley.

Advantages of Gas Cookers.

- Economy of time and fuel.
- Greater cleanliness.
- Less waste of food in cooking.
- Reliable and always ready for use.
- Keeps kitchen cooler in Summer.

GAS FIRES.

The Medical Profession appreciates the advantages of Gas Fires, which are largely used by the leading Physicians and Surgeons.

Advantages of Gas Fires.

A good fire may be obtained at any moment without the trouble of laying.

The heat may be regulated and stopped at will.

Perfect cleanliness: No wood, no coal, no ashes to soil the grate, no chimney to sweep.

Gas Fires are let on hire at rentals by the Company from 1/- per quarter upwards. Various patterns may be seen at the Company's Show Room as above.

Competent Workmen are sent to advise as to adoption of Gas Cookers and Fires, and as to cost of fitting them.

INCANDESCENT LIGHT MAINTENANCE

The Company maintain and keep in order Consumers' Incandescent Burners at 3d. per burner per quarter, supplying mantles, etc., at cost price. Full details can be had on application to the Secretary.

GAS COKE.

Which is delivered at Consumers' premises in quantities of not less than six sacks, is highly recommended for kitcheners, ordinary fires and greenhouse stoves, being nearly smokeless and giving great heat.

Orders should be sent to the Secretary,

Notes and News.

The Library Committee.

It will be seen that a considerable change has been effected in the constitution of the Committee as the result of the recent election by the Borough Council. The new members are Councillors Sparks, Lindley Jones and Weller, and Mr. T. C. Rogerson. Councillor Harper and Alderman Bell have again been re-elected Chairman and Vice-Chairman respectively.

The Winter's Work.

With the resumption of the Free Popular Lectures, with a Reading Circle for Boys as well as for Girls this year, with Lantern Lectures for senior scholars at our elementary schools, with the formation of a Literary and Debating Society in connection with the Library, with the visits to the Library of the older scholars in the fifteen elementary schools or departments in the Borough, and also, it may be mentioned, with the resumption in our Lecture Hall of the University Extension Lectures, and with, at the same time, a largely increasing issue of books from the Library, our work for the Winter may be said to be well commenced.

Those who judge a Library by the proportion of works of fiction read, will be pleased to learn that the proportion, which had risen somewhat during the summer, as had been expected, is again falling, and during the month of October was as low as 64 per cent. (at the Central Library).

A Reading Circle for Adults.

There are several new features in our work of Library administration that await opportunity for introduction. Among these is a Reading Circle for adults. A capable leader ought to have no difficulty in getting a Circle of 50 or 60, or even more. But we want to hear of a leader. Meanwhile, ladies and gentlemen who would like to become members of such a circle might give their names at the Library counter. The Librarian will also be happy to explain to the uninitiated just what a reading circle is and how helpful and interesting it may be made.

Lists of Books.

The Bulletin is occupied mainly, as usual, with a list of the principal books that have been purchased by the Committee recently. But there will be found, besides, lists of books on subjects that are, or will be, much discussed in the near future, and intelligent participation in the discussion of these problems will be facilitated by the study of such books as are here indicated. Attention is also directed to the contents of the monthly reviews as posted regularly in the vestibule of the Library. Much of the best thought of the day finds expression in the monthly reviews.

About Reserving Books.

Borrowers are reminded that it is possible to secure the reservation of any book by the payment of one penny. When the book is available a postcard will be sent to that effect. The object of this is to accommodate readers requiring a book for a specific purpose.

Free Popular Lectures.

The Library Committee have arranged for a series of twelve Popular Lectures to be delivered in the Lecture Hall during the winter months, as was the case last season. These lectures have proved to be an extraordinary attraction, the Lecture Hall being quite inadequate to accommodate all who have sought admission.

The following Lectures have yet to be given :—

- Monday, Dec. 16th. Dr. J. H. YOLLAND, M.R.C.S., L.S.A. (London) (Hon. Associate of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem in England).—"The History of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem." With Lantern Illustrations.
- Monday, Jan. 6th. F. LEWIS THOMAS, Esq.—"Music as a Handmaid to Religion." With Musical Illustrations.
- Monday, Jan. 27th, T. S. TOWNEND, Esq.—"Egyptian Antiquities." With Lantern Illustrations.

Literary and Debating Society.

The Literary and Debating Society which has been organised in connection with the Library held its first meeting on 28th October, and there are already about 75 members. A most varied programme of debates, papers, etc., on subjects of interest has been arranged, and there is every evidence that the Society will be a success.

Ladies and gentlemen who are desirous of joining the Society are requested to give their names either to the Honorary Secretary, or to the Librarian.

The Public Library.

The Public Library is an integral part of Public Education :— A collection of books is a university with departments as numerous and varied as the branches of knowledge and with schoolmasters who never grow old or stale ; and, best of all, its matriculants never become too big or too learned to sit willing students at the feet of these mighty Gamaliels. A Library is the most democratic of universities and demands no entrance examination or educational standard save the ability and willingness to read. Even for those who come only to "browse," as Dr. Johnson puts it, there is abundant pasturage, green and succulent as the heights of Parnassus. The Library cannot furnish brains, but it can and does equalise brains.—Dr. W. J. Conklin in Public Libraries for February.

Free to You!

Dress Goods often look different in a shop to what they do at home. This is the reason why most ladies like to have patterns of Dress Materials before making a purchase. Besides, buying a dress is not an every day occurrence, and so is a matter which one likes to think over to avoid being disappointed.

We have the finest selection of Dress Goods for winter wear it would be possible to collect, and we shall be pleased to send by post, or give to any lady calling, patterns of any particular materials she may think of buying. This gives an opportunity of judging the value we are offering, then come and see the stuff in the piece—handle it and try the weight. No trouble is too great for us. We want you to be satisfied with anything you buy from us, so that you will come back for your next dress.

BOROUGH LIBRARIAN.

William J. Harris,

Bromley Gas Consumers Company.

GAS COOKERS.

By the best makers may be hired at from 1/6 to 3/- per quarter, according to size. A selection of Gas Cookers may be seen at the Company's Offices, 156, High Street, Bromley.

Advantages of Gas Cookers.

- Economy of time and fuel.
- Greater cleanliness.
- Less waste of food in cooking.
- Reliable and always ready for use.
- Keeps kitchen cooler in Summer.

GAS FIRES.

The Medical Profession appreciates the advantages of Gas Fires, which are largely used by the leading Physicians and Surgeons.

Advantages of Gas Fires.

- A good fire may be obtained at any moment without the trouble of laying.
- The heat may be regulated and stopped at will.
- Perfect cleanliness : No wood, no coal, no ashes to soil the grate, no chimney to sweep.
- Gas Fires are let on hire at rentals by the Company from 1/- per quarter upwards. Various patterns may be seen at the Company's Show Room as above.
- Competent Workmen are sent to advise as to adoption of Gas Cookers and Fires, and as to cost of fitting them.

INCANDESCENT LIGHT MAINTENANCE.

The Company maintain and keep in order Consumers' Incandescent Burners at 3d. per burner per quarter, supplying mantles, &c., at cost price. Full details can be had on application to the Secretary.

GAS COKE.

Which is delivered at Consumers' premises in quantities of not less than six sacks, is highly recommended for kitcheners, ordinary fires and greenhouse stoves, being nearly smokeless and giving great heat.

Orders should be sent to the Secretary,

GAS COMPANY'S OFFICES,
156, HIGH STREET, BROMLEY.

Notes and News.

Exhibition of Local Views, &c.

Another Exhibition on similar lines to that which aroused such keen interest last year will be held in the Lecture Hall at the Library, and will be opened on Monday, May 11th. The Exhibition will be open for one week, from 2.30 to 5 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m. each day. The Librarian will be pleased to hear from any ladies or gentlemen willing to lend to the Public Library Committee for this Exhibition paintings, photographs, prints, or drawings, illustrating Bromley of the past.

Reference Library.

Readers who find themselves faced with a question which they cannot answer, and on which they would like further enlightenment, are recommended to make a note of the subject, and consult the Public Reference Library at the earliest convenient opportunity. An ideal Reference Library should, like the ancient Greek oracles, be capable of answering every question put to it.

The Committee are gratified to find that this department is steadily becoming more freely used, as its contents are better known. Readers should bear in mind that the books in the Reference Library supplement the books in the Home Reading Department. The two departments should always be consulted as a whole, for the one collection is the complement of the other.

Music in the Library.

The Library contains a large collection of music, both as to theory and practice. The Committee have recently added some classical music for the violin, and readers will also find a good selection of standard operas and oratorios.

Some Recent Gifts.

The Committee are pleased to record that they have received some important gifts of books, &c., from the following local gentlemen: T. S. Townend, Esq., Councillor W. Lindley-Jones, F.R.G.S., Dr. Maxwell, F. M. R. Holworthy, Esq., and W. McKewan, Esq., J.P.

Lectures on Nature Study.

A series of six lectures on Nature Study were delivered to boys and girls attending elementary schools in Bromley by the Rev. C. Hinscliffe during the winter session, October to March.

These lectures were exceedingly well attended, the average number present being about 180.

Reading Circle for Adults.

A Reading Circle for adults has at last been formed. It held its first meeting on Tuesday, March 24th, and the first reading on Tuesday, March 31st. The first book chosen by the Circle is Stevenson's "Virginibus Puerisque."

A few more members will be welcomed.

Branch Library and Delivery Stations.

Borrowers living on the outskirts of the town are reminded that the Branch Library, St. Luke's Institute, Raglan Road, is open for the exchange of books every week-day from 6 to 9.30 p.m. This branch contains about 600 volumes of general literature.

There are also Delivery Stations at the Post Office, 77, Bromley Common, 57, College Road, and 53, Beckenham Lane, open every weekday except Wednesday, for the exchange of books to registered ticket holders from 2 to 8 p.m. Each of these stations contains about 100 volumes, and these are frequently changed.

Students' Tickets.

Every registered Ticket-Holder may have an Extra Ticket, on which only non-fictional works may be issued. To obtain this ticket all a reader has to do is to make a request at the library counter; no recommendation is required.

Subscribers.

Persons over the age of 14, living beyond the Borough Boundary, but within half a-mile of it, may borrow books on payment of an annual subscription of 5s.

---

The Public Library is the "People's" University. The Library and its contents are the only elements that are permanent: everything else changes.

"A novel can be read as a work of art, as a mirror of modern thought and ideas, and as a reflection of the deepest truth about human nature."

- Shaw, Bernard. John Bull's Other Island; Major Barbara; How He Lied to Her Husband. ... 822

"His are dramas of talk, not of incident—of ideas, not of emotions. He brings on to the stage a group of characters, and sets them to discuss some topic which has absorbed his attention—it may be the relations of England and Ireland, as in 'John Bull's Other Island'; it may be the conflicting doctrines of Christianity and the 'Superman' philosophy on the problem of poverty, as in 'Major Barbara.' In any case they talk, and in their debates reveal differences of mental constitution and diversities of opinion."—Athenaeum, 1907.

- V. 1. 1837-43.
V. 2. 1844-53.
V. 3. 1854-61.

The object of the publication, the editors tell us, is not to supply matter to the historical student, but to present the nation with a portrait of Queen Victoria. With this aim such letters have been selected as exhibit the development of the queen's character, her political relations with her ministers, and her domestic relations with her husband and the members of her large family at home and on the Continent. Especially interesting are the lights thrown on the four men who formed her select body-guard, so to speak—Lord Melbourne, her uncle Leopold, king of the Belgians, and his former physician and secretary, Baron Stockmar, and Prince Albert.

Bromley and Crays Gas Company.

GAS COOKERS.

By the best makers may be hired at from  $1/6$  to  $3/4$  per quarter, according to size. A selection of Gas Cookers may be seen at the Company's Offices, 156, High Street, Bromley.

Advantages of Gas Cookers.

- Economy of time and fuel.
- Greater cleanliness.
- Less waste of food in cooking.
- Reliable and always ready for use.
- Keeps kitchen cooler in Summer.

GAS FIRES.

The Medical Profession appreciates the advantages of Gas Fires, which are largely used by the leading Physicians and Surgeons.

Advantages of Gas Fires.

- A good fire may be obtained at any moment without the trouble of laying.
- The heat may be regulated and stopped at will.
- Perfect cleanliness: No wood, no coal, no ashes to soil the grate, no chimney to sweep.

Gas Fires are let on hire at rentals by the Company from  $1/4$  per quarter upwards. Various patterns may be seen at the Company's Show Room as above.

Competent Workmen are sent to advise as to adoption of Gas Cookers and Fires, and as to cost of fitting them.

INCANDESCENT LIGHT MAINTENANCE.

The Company maintain and keep in order Consumers' Incandescent Burners at  $3d.$  per burner per quarter, supplying mantles, &c., at cost price. Full details can be had on application to the Secretary.

GAS COKE.

Which is delivered at Consumers' premises in quantities of not less than six cwts., is highly recommended for kitcheners, ordinary fires and greenhouse stoves, being nearly smokeless and giving great heat.

Orders should be sent to the Secretary,

Reading Circle for Adults.

This Circle commenced on October 20th, and holds its meetings in the Library Committee Room on Tuesday evenings at 8 p.m. Ladies or gentlemen desirous of joining should give their names to the Librarian. The Circle is conducted on methods similar to those of the National Home Reading Union

The Circle last year was very much appreciated by the members, and there is no doubt that the work done at these meetings acts as a great stimulus to thoughtful reading.

Literary and Debating Society.

The above Society will commence its second year's work on October 26th. An interesting programme of debates and papers on subjects of current interest has been arranged.

Particulars can be obtained of the members of the Committee or from the Librarian.

The Society meets in the Library Lecture Hall on alternate Monday evenings at 8 p.m.

Reading Courses.

"Culture is reading, but reading with a purpose to guide it, and with system . . . this . . . is the one essential service now to be rendered to education."—Matthew Arnold.

To read with purpose, that is to say to obtain the most benefit from our reading, it should be systematic and consistent.

The Librarian will be very pleased to compile graduated reading courses on any special subject in which a reader may be specially interested.

See Some coming Centenaries.

Milton, p. 30. Darwin, p. 31. Poe, p. 32.

Also Reading Lists on

Branch Library and Delivery Stations.

The Committee have recently issued a special circular pointing out to the inhabitants in the neighbourhood of the Raglan Road Branch Library (St. Luke's Institute) the educational advantages which are so easily within their reach. This Library, which is open every weekday from 6 p.m. to 9.30 p.m., contains 700 most interesting books, and in addition is supplied with 4 daily papers, 11 weekly papers and 4 monthly magazines.

The Delivery Stations (open 2 p.m. to 8 p.m., excepting Wednesday) are situated at Bromley Common (The Post Office), No. 55, College Road (Messrs. Dean & Son, Grocers) and 53, Beckenham Lane (Mr. Burton, Chemist). 100 volumes are deposited at each Station, and these are frequently changed.

CHARLES ROBERT DARWIN was born at Shrewsbury, February 12th, 1809, and died at Downe, Kent, April 19th, 1882. A distinguished naturalist and thinker, one of the greatest whom the last century has produced. He was equally remarkable as a laborious and patient observer, and as an original writer. Darwin is well remembered as a visitor to Bromley by some of the older inhabitants.

EDGAR ALLAN POE was born at Boston (U.S.A.) February 19th, 1809. His poems, especially "The Raven," are remarkable for their originality, and for the weird power which many of them exhibit; and his prose writings are marked by the same features, especially his "Tales." He died October 7th, 1849.

Notes and News.

Lectures to Children.

The Public Library Committee has arranged for a series of four monthly lectures to children, to be delivered in the Lecture Hall at the Library, by Mr. W. C. Berwick Sayers.

The Lectures commence at 6.30 p.m. Admission is free, but by ticket only, which can be obtained from the Librarian during the week before each Lecture.

SYLLABUS.

1. Feb. 11th. "The Conquest of the Land." (The story of our Railways).
2. Feb. 25th. "The Conquest of the Sea." (The story of Steam Navigation).
3. Mar. 25th. "The Conquest of the Air." (The story of Aerial Navigation).
4. April 29th. "With an Ice Axe in the Alps."

Each Lecture will be fully illustrated by lantern slides.

Issues from the Home Reading and Reference Departments.

That the Lending and Reference Departments of the Library continue to be freely used is evinced by the growing increase in the daily issue of books. During the last month the daily average issue has increased by 61 volumes over the corresponding month of last year.

Reading Circle for Girls.

This Circle meets on Tuesday evenings, at 6.30. The Circle consists of about 30 children. The book for the year has been "Cranford," by Mrs. Gaskell. The popularity of this Circle may be judged from the fact that an average attendance of 25 is maintained.

Reading Circle for Adults.

Ladies and gentlemen wishing to join this Circle should give their names to the Librarian.

A series of evenings with the poets has been arranged. The Circle meets on Tuesday evenings, at 8 p.m., at the Public Library. The following programme will be carried out :— February 2nd, Tennyson ; February 9th, Keats ; February 16th, Goldsmith ; February 23rd, Lowell ; March 2nd, Browning ; March 9th, Shelley ; March 16th, Byron. For further particulars on the conduct of the Circle, see the notice board in the Library Entrance Hall.

Free Popular Lectures.

These lectures still maintain their great popularity ; the following have yet to be given :—

Monday, February 15th, "Macbeth." Miss Catherine Punch.

Monday, March 1st, "Mendelism : a Theory of Heredity."

A. E. Price, M.D., M.S. (Lond.). With lantern illustrations.

Monday, March 15th, "The Isles of Dreams ; the Hebrides."

Miss Margaret McMillan. With lantern illustrations.

Nature Study Stand in Library Entrance Hall.

Mr. A. Gunner has again promised to conduct the Nature Study Stand, which excited so much interest last year. The Stand will re-appear in the Entrance Hall, in the early Spring.

Music in the Library.

Borrowers are reminded that they will find an excellent collection of music in the Lending Department, both as to theory and practice. It is contemplated issuing in the near future a complete list of music in the Library.

Surveys the several conditions attachable to the study of folklore and the various departments of science with which it is inseparably associated. Contents.—History and folklore. Materials and methods. Psychological conditions. Anthropological conditions. Sociological conditions. European conditions. Ethnological conditions.
- Harrison, Frederic. National and Social Problems.
1908. ... 304
This volume develops the principles laid down in two previous works. In the "Creed of a Layman" (146) is traced the growth of the author's convictions from a theologic to a scientific faith. The "Philosophy of Common Sense" (146) deals with the intellectual grounds on which a human religion must be based. The present work shows this system of philosophic religion in action, shows its practical effect in moulding opinion on the great questions of nations and society, on patriotism, international justice, government and on problems of wealth, labour and socialism.
- Hislam, Percival A. The Admiralty of the Atlantic.
Illus. Map. 1908. ... 359
"An enquiry into the development of German sea power, past, present and prospective." Argues that Germany is rapidly strengthening her navy to challenge the supremacy of England; draws attention to the serious danger of tampering with the strength of the British navy and army, examines the political and financial conditions affecting naval expansion in Germany, discusses plans of invasion, British shipbuilding policy, the navies of the world; and urges that financial distress will determine the naval rivalry between England and Germany, suggesting a tax on manufacturing imports as the best source of income. Is suggestive, and valuable for its facts, but its criticisms and opinions are to be received with caution.

- Howarth, Edward G. and Wilson, Mona. West Ham, a Study in Social and Industrial Problems. Diagrams. 1907. ... 306

CENTENARIES : MENDELSSOHN, FITZGERALD.

FELIX MENDELSSOHN-BARTHOLDY was born in Hamburg, February 3rd, 1809. Most of his works were composed in Liepzig, where he settled as director of concerts in 1837; but he had previously spent several years in Italy, and made repeated visits to England. Among his best known works are his music for the "Midsummer Night's Dream," his oratorios of "St. Paul" and "Elijah"; and his "Leider ohne Worte," (Songs without words). Both as a performer and as a composer he held almost the highest place among the musicians of the nineteenth century. Died November 4th, 1847.

For Life of Mendelssohn in the Library see

Rockstro, W. S., in the Great Musicians Series. ... B
also His letters, which contain an introduction by Sir G.
Grove. Portrait. 1894.

For the musical works of Mendelssohn see the Card Catalogue on the Library Counter.

FITZGERALD, EDWARD was born at Woodbridge, Suffolk, March 31st, 1809. He lived a retired life in Suffolk and had no liking for the conventional usages of society, and was therefore somewhat of a recluse. He numbered among his friends the poet Crabbe, Carlyle, Thackeray, Spedding and the Tennysons. His chief work was an English poetic version (from the Persian) of the "Rubáiyát of Omar Khayyam" (anon, 1859). He also published anonymously a "Life of Bernard Barton" (1849), "Euphranor" (1851), "Polonius" (1852), English versions of the "Agamemnon," two plays of Sophocles and "Six Dramas of Calderon" (1853). Died 1883.

---

GAS COOKERS.

By the best makers may be hired at from 1/6 to 3/- per quarter, according to size. A selection of Gas Cookers may be seen at the Company's Offices, 156, High Street, Bromley.

Advantages of Gas Cookers.

- Economy of time and fuel.
- Greater cleanliness.
- Less waste of food in cooking.
- Reliable and always ready for use.
- Keeps kitchen cooler in Summer.

GAS FIRES.

The Medical Profession appreciates the advantages of Gas Fires, which are largely used by the leading Physicians and Surgeons.

Advantages of Gas Fires.

- A good fire may be obtained at any moment without the trouble of laying.
- The heat may be regulated and stopped at will.
- Perfect cleanliness; no wood, no coal, no ashes to soil the grate, no chimney to sweep.

Gas Fires are let on hire at Rentals by the Company from 1/- per quarter upwards. Various patterns may be seen at the Company's Show Room as above.

Competent Workmen are sent to advise as to adoption of Gas Cookers and Fires, and as to cost of fitting them.

INCANDESCENT LIGHT MAINTENANCE.

The Company maintain and keep in order Consumers' Incandescent Burners at 1d. per burner per quarter, supplying mantles, &c., at lowest prices. Full details can be had on application to the Secretary.

GAS COKE.

Which is delivered at Consumers' premises in quantities of not less than six cwts., is highly recommended for kitcheners, ordinary fires and greenhouse stoves, being nearly smokeless and giving great heat.

Orders should be sent to the Secretary,

Notes and News.

Music in the Library.

A complete list of the musical works, both as to theory and practice, contained in the Library has been published by the Library Committee. A copy may be had on application at the Library counter.

How to get any book in the Library.

If the book you want is always "out," leave a penny with the Librarian, who, when the book you require is returned, will send you a post card at once informing you that the book is available.

Gifts to the Library.

The Committee have recently received some important gifts of books from the following local residents :—

E. B. Lewin Hill, Esq., C.B., F. Weeks. Esq., Miss Woods, W. W. White, Esq., Miss Jennings, A. Ebbs. Esq., H. J. Helm, Esq., I.S.O., Miss M. Fletcher, T. Arnold Bennett, Esq., Rev. C. C. Gosselin, T. S. Townend, Esq. and W. G. Elder, Esq.

Newspapers and Magazines.

In December, 1908, the Committee revised and added to the list of newspapers and magazines taken in the newsrooms of the Central and Branch Library. This list is now printed and may be obtained at the Library counter.

The Annual Report, 1908-09.

This Report was issued on April 27th : and records a year of great activity. The daily average issue of books was 519 as compared with 481 last year. The borrowers now number 4,918. The increase to the stock was 1,592 volumes, making a total stock of 15,851.

The following brief summary will give some idea of the "activities" of the Library during the past year :—

Free Popular Lectures. 13 lectures. Average attendance 200.

Reading Circles. Adult. 20 meetings.
Junior. 24 meetings.

Lectures to Children. 4 lectures. Average attendance 200.

Reading Lists on Topics of the day. 15 were compiled, 2 published in pamphlet form, 2 published in local paper, 3 issued in duplicate form, and 8 placed upon the notice board in the Entrance Hall.

Lecture Hall. During the year the Hall was used on 63 occasions.

Literary and Debating Society. 13 meetings.

Library Bulletin. 3 issues of 1,500 copies.

Wild Flower Stand in Library Entrance Hall. (This was maintained from April to October, and the contents changed with different specimens about twice a week).

Local Exhibitions. Open for three weeks, May 11th to 30th.

Elementary Scholars at the Library. 15 visits. Average attendance 25.

School Libraries. Returned to Central Library in summer vacation for purposes of checking, repairs and binding, additions, and then re-distributed.

---

“The Library is becoming more and more the workshop of the public school, and every well-equipped teacher should have some idea of how to make the best use of it.”

“We should make the same use of a book that the bee does of a flower ; she steals the sweets from it but does not injure it.”—COLTON.

“The first use of education is to enable us to consult with the wisest and the greatest men on all points of difficulty. To use books rightly is to go to them for help : to appeal to them when our own knowledge and power of thought fails ; to be led by them into wider sight, purer conception, than our own, and receive from them the united sentence of the judges and councils of all time, against our solitary and unstable opinion.”—RUSKIN.

This encyclopædia will contain articles on all the Religions of the world and on all the great systems of Ethics. Such persons and places as are famous in the history of religion and morals will be included. It will thus embrace the whole range of Theology and Philosophy, together with the relevant portions of Anthropology, Mythology, Folklore, Biology, Psychology and Sociology.

- James, William. A Pluralistic Universe. 1909. ... 104

The lectures in this volume were delivered at Manchester College under the title of "The Present Situation in Philosophy." In them the author criticises the school of transcendental idealism which began at Oxford under the influence of T. H. Green, and attempts to save empiricism and pluralism from the reproach of being philosophies of irreligion and disintegration.

- Jones, E. E. Constance. A Primer of Ethics. 1909. 170

Authoress is Mistress of Girton College, Cambridge. An elementary introduction to the science of conduct, with an ethical vocabulary and a collection of questions.

- Lang, Andrew. The Making of Religion. 1898. ... 209

- Petrie, W. M. Flinders. Personal Religion in Egypt Before Christianity. 1909. ... .. 299

The personal religion here described is that which concerns private beliefs, rather than public acts, and which stands apart from ceremonialism and religion as belonging to the state.

- Transactions of the Third International Congress for the History of Religions. 2 v. 1908. ... .. 270

- Warschauer, J. Jesus: Seven Questions. 1908. .. 232

The seven questions are; Son of God or Son of Man? Was he sinless? Did he work miracles? Had he power to forgive sins? Is belief in him necessary to salvation? Did he rise from the dead? Did he die for us?

Not only a record of events but a presentiment of the people amongst whom, and of the stage upon which those events occurred. The author has also endeavoured to correlate the aspects of the ancient and the modern world in relation to science and progress.

- Imperial Gazetteer of India. 26 v. Maps. 1909 ... .. R954

The first four volumes deal with India in its descriptive, historical, economic and administrative aspects. V. 5-24 is the gazetteer arranged in alphabetical order, v. 25 index, and v. 26 atlas. Comparative statistics for the three census years 1881, 1891 and 1901 are usually given, but in most cases later figures for 1903-4 have been added. The articles have been written for the most part by officials who had already acquired local experience as Census Superintendents of their Provinces or States in 1901.

- Johnston, Sir Harry. George Grenfell and the Congo. 2 v. 496 illus. 14 maps. 1908. ... .. 967

History and description of the Congo Independent State and adjoining districts of Congoland with some accounts of the native peoples, their languages and the flora and the fauna. Founded on the diaries of the late Rev. G. Grenfell and the records of the British Baptist Missionary Society.

Children's Reading Circle. Fourth Year.

This Circle meets every Tuesday evening at 6.30 p.m., and averages an attendance of 30 members. The books for the year are Ruskin's "Sesame and Lilies," and Blackmore's "Lorna Doone."

The Card Catalogue.

The card catalogue now contains the "Subject Index." This "Index" (which was published at the opening of the Library, and is now out of print), has been mounted on blue cards and inserted in the Catalogue. Thus the catalogue serves the purposes of a Dictionary catalogue in that all books contained in the library are noticed under their Authors, Titles, and Subjects.

Reserving Books.

Borrowers are reminded that it is possible to secure the reservation of any book on the payment of one penny. When the book is available a post card will be sent to that effect. The object of this is to accommodate readers requiring any special-book.

Literary and Debating Society.

This Society meets in the Lecture Hall on alternate Tuesday evenings at 8 p.m. An interesting programme of debates and discussions on topics of current interest has been arranged.

Particulars can be obtained from the Hon. Secretary at the Public Library.

Reading Circle for Adults.

Third Year.

This Circle meets every Friday evening at 8 p.m. at the Library. The book chosen for reading is Carlyle's "Heroes and Hero Worship."

Ladies and gentlemen desirous of joining the Circle should give their names to the Librarian, of whom all particulars may be obtained. No charge is made for membership.

Students' Tickets.

Every registered Ticket Holder may have an Extra Ticket, on which only non-fictional works can be issued. To obtain this Ticket all a reader has to do is to make a request at the Library counter; no recommendation is required.

Gifts to the Library.

The Committee have recently received some important gifts of books, etc., from the following local residents :—

Alderman R. W. James, James Silver, Esq., Mrs. Selby, Miss E. O. Barnard, D. Chisholm Simpson, Esq. Wm. Bardier, Esq., T. S. Townend, Esq., Mrs. J. S. Mann, B.A., Miss C. C. Harvey, and E. B. Lewin-Hill, Esq., C.B.

Lecture Hall, Hire of.

The Lecture Hall may be hired, subject to the approval of the Public Library Committee, for the meetings of public local organizations or local branches of public organizations, or for charitable purposes.

Applications for the use of the Lecture Hall must be made in writing upon a form to be obtained of the Librarian.

Branch Library and Delivery Stations.

The Annual Report. A Year's Work, 1909-10.

A copy of the above Report may be had on application at the Library Counter.

The Committee again record an increased popularity and growth of the usefulness of the Library.

The issue of books for the year was 146,530, and the daily average 550 as compared with 519 last year, and the borrowers tickets in force now number 5,359. The stock is now 17,224, an increase over last year of 1,391.

The following is a brief summary of the activities of the past year:—

Twelve Free Popular Lectures have been given and were a great success, the attendance averaging 200. The Adult Reading Circle held 20 meetings, and the Junior Circle met 22 times during the session. The meetings of both Circles were well attended and much appreciated.

There were 5 lectures to children, with an average attendance of 200. The Literary and Debating Society held 13 meetings. Two issues of the Bulletin were published, consisting of 1,500 copies each. The Wild Flower Stand in the Entrance Hall during the Spring, Summer and Autumn months attracted great attention.

The older scholars from the 15 elementary schools or departments in the Borough visited the Library during the year. The children were shown over the Library and its object and uses were explained to them by the Librarian.

Gifts to the Library.

THE FUNCTIONS OF PUBLIC LIBRARIES.

In the course of his presidential address before the members of the Library Association at Exeter, Dr. Kenyon, the Principal Librarian of the British Museum, dealt with the functions of public libraries. "Free Libraries," he said, "were instruments of culture. While the British Museum Library was in the main an instrument of knowledge, the free library and local libraries in general were, in addition, instruments of culture. Not only so, but they were, in continuation of our primary and secondary schools, and in co-operation with our universities, the main factor in the intellectual culture of the nation. To those, therefore, who regarded intellectual culture as the salt of a nation's life, they stood in the forefront of the agencies for good, on which the future of the nation depended. He was not afraid of putting it as high as that. Not in its wealth, not in its knowledge, not even in its material power, did the ultimate greatness of a nation consist, but in its spiritual and intellectual culture, in the contribution which it made to the development of the human race. The provision of good literature, and the guidance of students to the recognition of it, were the functions of libraries and librarians.

"The public libraries of England were enabling Englishmen to train themselves in science and technology, in sociology and history, they were, indeed, performing a function of vital importance to the country.

"The work of free libraries was, as far as it went, on sound and on the right lines. As far as could be judged, they were also doing work in adding materially to the higher culture of the nation. In many places the library authorities had plainly recognised the need of assisting students by more positive means than merely having the books on the shelves. They had systematically undertaken the provision of lectures and temporary exhibitions, and they had associated the library with a museum or art gallery, so as to present a varied appeal to the awakening taste and intelligence of the public. Such agencies worked in hidden ways, and it was impossible, except at long intervals of time, to judge of their effect. But that the work was on right lines he had no doubt at all."

RECENT PURCHASES.

BIOGRAPHY.

- Boccaccio di Certaldo, Giovanni (1313-1375). Italian novelist. Hutton, Edward. Giovanni Boccaccio: a Biographical Study. Illus. Portraits. Facsimile. 1910. ... .. B

"English works on Boccaccio," p. 355-359; "Boccaccio and Chaucer and Shakespeare," p. 360-366; "Synopsis of the Decameron together with some works to be consulted," p. 367-393.

There is (1910) no other study of Boccaccio in English to compare with Mr. Hutton's in fulness or in literary worth. The many illustrations from old pictures, books and manuscripts add much to the value of the book.

- Browning, Oscar (1837- ). Historian. Browning, Oscar. Memories of Sixty Years, at Eton, Cambridge and Elsewhere. Illus. Ports. 1910. B

Oscar Browning was master of Eton from 1860 to 1875 and has been lecturer in history and political science at Cambridge since 1876. He has found his supreme interest in the education of statesmen, and he looks upon Mr. Gerald Balfour and Lord Curzon, whom he taught, as works of his hand. His book is personal from beginning to end, but never self-important.

Notes and News.

The Annual Report 1910-1911.

ABSTRACT FROM THE REPORT.

"The introduction at the opening of the new Library of the more liberal and intelligent system of "Open Access" has induced the public to make a greater use of the books in both the Reference and Home Reading Departments. This is evident from a comparison of the issues, which in 1905-6 were 83,512, a daily average of 315; while for the year covered by this report the issues were 158,186, shewing a daily average of 588. These figures shew how greatly the Library is appreciated by the public as a centre of popular and mental recreation.

These figures do not include issues from the Reading Room of directories, year books, calenders, etc., nor do they include the numerous issues in the Home reading and Reference Departments, which cannot be recorded. The freedom given to the users of the Library means a certain loss in the record of issues, but accessibility without restriction has made the Library a more useful institution; this is so apparent as to more than compensate for the mere building up of statistics."

Copies of the Annual Report may be had on application at the Library Counter.

Extension of the Library.

For some time past it has been apparent that the great use made of the Library rendered its enlargement a pressing necessity. Mr. Carnegie, who presented the Borough with the present Building was approached on the matter, and after consideration of the facts supplied to him by the Committee, generously offered the sum of £4,000 for the extension of the Library. This munificent offer has been gratefully accepted by the Borough Council and the Library Committee are proceeding with the scheme of enlargement.

The Reading Circle (6th year.)

Ladies and Gentlemen wishing to join this Circle for the coming Winter session, should give their names to the Librarian as early as possible as the membership is limited.

Index to Periodicals.

The contents of the most important magazines taken in the Reading Room are indexed on cards which are classified under their subjects and filed in special cabinets in the Reference Library. This Index supplements the general catalogue and is valuable, containing as it does the current information on all the most important topics of the day. Magazines may be borrowed for home reading.

Reserving Books.

Readers are reminded that the books in the Home Reading Department may be reserved on the payment of one penny. A post card is sent when the book is available.

Renewal of Books during the holidays.

Books may be renewed by post card. The last date of issue and the number of the book must be plainly stated.

---

“The Library is becoming more and more the workshop of the public school, and every well-equipped teacher should have some idea of how to make the best use of it.”

THE VALUE OF BOOKS.

“Books are a guide in youth, and an entertainment for age. They support us under solitude, and keep us from becoming a solitude to ourselves. They help us to forget the crossness of men and things, compose our cares and our passions, and lay our disappointments asleep. When we are weary of the living, we may repair to the dead, who have nothing of peevishness, pride, or design in their conversations. It is chiefly through books that we enjoy intercourse with superior minds; and these invaluable communications are within the reach of all.”

- Webster, Hutton. Primitive Secret Societies; A Study in Early Politics and Religion. 1908. ... 366
Dr. Webster has done all students of social institutions a service by collecting and interpreting so much evidence to show the significance and development of the rites by which the boy becomes a citizen with the responsibilities of the adult. He also describes the training of the novice, the rise and decline of secret societies, magical fraternities and the like. The author shows that these institutions have been world wide; that they have arisen to meet social needs; that they decline when advancing social organisation produces better methods of social contact.
- Webb, Sidney and Beatrice. The History of Trade Unionism. 1911. ... 331
Recital of chief events in external and internal history of trade unionism without much of deeper problems as to its justification, spirit and policy. Bibliography by R. A. Peddie.

- Swinstead, G. Hillyard. The Story of My Old-World Garden and How I made It in a London Suburb. 50 Illus. 1910. ... .. 636
Mr. Swinstead illustrates with pen and camera his almost incredible success in turning a suburban waste plot of not less than 55ft. by 45ft. into a romantic garden abounding in picturesque nooks, bowers, pergolas, paved paths, stone seats, fountains, sundials, and what not. The extraordinary feature is not so much the crowding of so much variety into so limited a space without producing a sense of overcrowding, but the suggestion of hidden possibilities beyond the actual confines of the little garden, by means of "indefinite boundaries." With taste and the careful selection of old material, Mr. Swinstead has in the autumn of one year created a garden that has all the appearance and intimate charm of an "old-world garden."

A large part of these two solid volumes are devoted to matters concerning the Roman Church and, in a less degree, Anglican controversialists. The Cardinal was a power in the public as well as the religious life of England. He was pre-eminently representative of the English Roman Catholics, and stood far apart, in politics as in churchmanship, from the Irish hierarchy. The materials for the present work consist mainly of the Cardinal's private papers and public utterances, supplemented by the personal recollections of Father Considine, S. J., his Spiritual Director."

The Juvenile Library.

From time to time books are added to the collection and a list of recent additions will be found on the next page. The collection contains about 950 volumes in all classes of literature.

The Committee in their arrangements for the enlargement of the Library are providing a special room for Juvenile readers. This side of the Library work has not been developed so fully as desired owing to the lack of accommodation, but with a special room devoted to the children, much may be accomplished, and the aim will be to more greatly encourage the use of the Library by Juvenile Readers.

Notes and News.

Extension of the Library.

The work in connection with the enlargement of the Library is now in progress. The enlarged Library will include a new and larger Reference Department and a special Library for Children—the Reading Room will be greatly improved by the addition of the room which was the old Reference Library. The Lecture Hall is also to be considerably enlarged.

The Reading Circle (5th year.)

The Circle meets every Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Public Library.

The books for the session are "The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius" and "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" by Oliver Wendell Holmes. One evening in each month will be devoted to the following subjects: The Rubáiyat of Omar Khayyam; Maeterlinck; Mark Twain; Readings from the Brontës; Readings from the works of Charles Dickens; and an evening with the works of Tolstoi.

Ladies and Gentlemen desiring to join the Circle should give their names to the Librarian of whom all particulars can be obtained.

Reading Circle for Children.

This Circle meets every Saturday afternoon from 3.30 to 4.30. The books for reading are "The Shakespeare Story Book," by Mary Macleod and "Silas Marner" by George Eliot.

The Librarian will be glad to receive the names of any girls desirous of joining the Circle.

The Reference Library.

The Reference Library has been temporarily removed to the Lecture Hall, on the first floor, during the building operations.

The Index to Periodicals.

This valuable index, which supplements the general catalogue and contains the current information on important topics of the day will be found in the Reference Library.

The contents of the most important magazines taken in the Reading Room are indexed on cards which are classified under their subjects and filed in special cabinets.

The Card Catalogue.

When in doubt whether the Library contains a particular book, always refer to the card catalogue which is situated on the right of the Home Reading Department. Every book in the Library is indexed in this catalogue under title and author. It also contains a SUBJECT INDEX mounted on BLUE CARDS, and is a complete guide to the books on the shelves.

PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION.

Number.

Alford, B. H. Old Testament History and Literature.

1910. ... .. 221

"The revision of the Old Testament, according to Mr. A., was carried out by Ezra and Nehemiah under the influence of the Prophet Ezekiel. The moral as well as the hierarchial effects of the Exile are very plainly set forth, and the intensity of Jewish hatred of all "strangers" and their secular exclusivism are explained and in a sense justified."—Annual Register of Christianity in Action, 1911. ... .. 267

This is a companion volume to Mr. Begbie's "Broken Earthenware" which told of the work of the Salvation Army. Mr. Begbie here tells of the work of the West London Mission, and his effective and moving narratives differ in two respects from those in "Broken Earthenware"—the instances of "conversion" are not sudden but gradual; and most of them concern women, not men—and women of a social level above the very depths.

- Böehme, Jacob (1575-1624) Teutonicus Philosophus.
The High and Deep Searching Out of the Threefold Life of Man through [or according to] The Three Principles. Written in German
1620. Englished by J. Sparrow. 1909. ... 212

B., generally called Behmen in England, was a German Theosophist and mystic born in 1575, who spent his early years tending cattle and his later life at shoemaking. He had great natural gifts in the direction of philosophy and in 1612 he published a work, "Aurora," which showed a remarkable knowledge of Scripture and the writings of the mystico-philosophic alchemists. The v. before us was publ. in 1620. "The chief aim of B. is to explain the origin of things, especially the existence of evil, and this he does by a mystic process of thought expressed in material symbols, which it is not easy to summarise. God is the . . . original and undistinguished entity, at once everything and nothing, which, however, has in itself the principle of separation, whereby all things come into existence. It is through the principle of negation, which in a way is identified with evil, that creation is explained. His philosophy, in fact, is an application of the principle of contradiction to explain the great problems of philosophy and religion; but the difficulties are only concealed or shifted about under a cloud of mystical language in which a system of triads, suggested by the Christian doctrine of the Trinity, have an important place. In B. we have an obscure presentation of the thesis, antithesis, and synthesis, which have such a large application in the philosophy of Hegel."—Chambers's Ency.

The work is composed of five books. The First Book relates generally the history of the fortunes of the Church in Rome in the first days up to A.D. 180. The Second Book details the everyday life of the Christian in the first, second and third centuries, during which period the religion of Jesus of Nazareth was in the eyes of the Roman government an unlawful cult. The Third Book treats especially of the hard and painful nature of the "life", which, from A.D. 64 was the lot of the Christian in the Roman Empire. The Fourth Book is devoted exclusively to the story of the Roman Catacombs. The Fifth Book is supplementary and deals with the Jew and the Talmud.

- Besant, Sir Walter. London City. Illus. Maps.
Plan. 1910. ... .. R437

With "The City" begins the second section of Sir Walter Besant's great survey of London. The seven volumes already issued are historical, ranging from "Early London" to "London in the Nineteenth Century," and, with small exception, these were written by Sir Walter himself. The last three volumes, of which that now announced is the first, are topographical, and yield nothing in interest to their precursors. "The City," indeed, will be found by many persons to be quite the most interesting volume in the whole work. It consists of a running commentary on streets and places from Sir Walter's pen, with illuminating glimpses into the past, given with his unflagging enthusiasm. Set in this text will be found valuable records of churches, vanished or still standing; of City halls and their vicissitudes; and of notable City men and buildings. It is impossible to give any idea of the book in such a brief space, so teeming is it with anecdote and observation, thought and reminiscence. As a memorial of London as it was up to the end of the nineteenth century it is an invaluable record.

Describes the various streams which, though no longer above ground, have given their names to London streets. Traces the growth of the water supply of London, from the imperfect methods of the Middle Ages to the systems of the present day. Describes the spas of the 17th and 18th centuries, giving a vivid picture of the custom of those days of "taking the waters" at this or that Spa. Deals also with the medicinal properties of some of the mineral springs, and the superstitions connected with "holy" wells. Includes a chapter on the Hampstead Wells.

"List of books," p.483-493.

Admirable survey of the field of Literature as seen in perspective from the point of view of the English-speaking peoples. The five 'literary Bibles'—the Holy Bible, classical epic and tragedy, Shakespeare, Dante and Milton, and the versions of the story of Faust—as the nucleus of world literature are presented in comprehensive and interesting summaries, and collateral studies, comparative reading, strategic points in literature etc., are discussed. The chapter on the place of the world literature in education is of special interest.

"The underlying purpose is to create right general notions concerning the growth of literature and to stimulate a love of works that are truly great."—Adapted from Nation.

W.H.G. collected the material and wrote half the book, and at his death the second half was written by H.C.M. The first author had the help of the Browning family and has identified the various places connected with B., and the resultant "Life" corrects many errors of fact and inference in earlier biographies, and takes cognizance of all the later material that has been published on the poet. A list of authorities is included in the pref. C.R.I.

Butler, Sir William Francis. An Autobiography.

1911. ... .. B

Sir William Butler (1838-1910) was an Irish soldier who served under Lord Wolseley in Canada, in Ashanti, in Egypt and in South Africa. The most interesting part of the book is perhaps to be found in the last three chapters, which relate to the South African war. Disapproving of the British management of the situation, just before the outbreak of hostilities he resigned his command and returned to England. The autobiography ends at this point but there is a brief supplementary chapter by his daughter. The book makes agreeable reading, both from the vigor of the narrative and from the frankness of the views expressed.

Catling, Thos. My Life's Pilgrimage : With an Introduction by the Rt. Hon. Lord Burnham.Ports. Illus. 1911. ... .. B

Mr. Catling celebrated the jubilee of his service on Lloyd's Weekly News, on which he began as a printer and of which he had for twenty years been editor, in 1904. He tells brightly enough (in headed paragraphs) the many experiences of public events and notable people which fill this long and honourable journalistic career. Many facsimile letters, reproductions of contemporary drawings of events, &c.

Notes and News.

The Library Extension.

The new Extension includes the following additions:—Reference Library, Juvenile Library, Magazine Room, and enlarged Lecture Hall.

The Home Reading Department, has been provided with new book-cases thus increasing the book accommodation. The lighting of this room has also been considerably improved.

The Reference Library is entered through the Home Reading Department. This new room has shelving accommodation for about 5,000 volumes, and will seat 24 readers.

Juvenile Department.

(For particulars see following page).

The Magazine Room, which was the old Reference Library, has two entrances, one through the Reading Room, and one from the main lobby. This room will contain the monthly and quarterly magazines, and the ladies papers will also be found here.

The Lecture Hall has been enlarged and can be used as one large, or two small halls. The small hall will seat 185 and the larger hall 275. The combined halls when used as one will seat 460 persons.

The New Juvenile Library.

The new Juvenile Library (entrance to which is from the Home Reading Department) contains about 2,000 volumes and is worked upon the same system as the main Library.

The library will serve the purposes of reference, study and lending library. A good assortment of reference books has been provided suitable for young readers.

The room will be furnished with two tables which may be used by Juvenile Readers for purposes of study.

The children will have direct access to the books on the shelves. Very great care has been exercised in the selection of the books, and only the best works in the various departments of literature have been admitted—chosen with the view to their suitability, and the value of their contribution to the subject.

The books are arranged under a simple form of classification, whereby all books on allied subjects are brought together.

The Juvenile Card Catalogue.

The Card Catalogue is arranged upon the dictionary plan, and indexes every book under Author, Title and Subject.

Picture Exhibitions.

It is proposed to organize exhibitions of good facsimiles of great works of art by famous painters. The endeavour will be to teach children the educational value of an appreciation of the best in art. The exhibitions will include :

1. Pictures by great artists arranged in chronological order.
2. The various schools of painting.
3. Pictures dealing with special subjects, as portraits, landscapes, seascapes, etc.

PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION.

Ancient Hebrew Literature. 4 Vols. Arranged by
Rev. R. Bruce Taylor. Everyman Library. 221

"A national literature extending over a period of nearly a thousand years. The Rev. R. Bruce Taylor has followed a topical arrangement, grouping all the books of the Old Testament together with those of the Apocrypha according to their subjects, under the headings "Pentateuch" "Early and Later Historical Books," "Prophets," "Apocalyptic Literature," "Poetry," "Wisdom Literature," "Homiletic Narratives." The text of this edition is based on that of King James, the "Authorised" version; the editor has rarely accepted textual emendations; but has constantly referred to and sometimes adopted interpretations given by the latest Hebrew scholarship.

Barrett, W. F. Psychical Research. [1910]. Home University Library ... .. 130

This is, in the main, a survey of the work and the results so far achieved by the Society for Psychical Research. The author deals with the phenomena of unconscious muscular action, "Thought Transference," "Mesmerism, Hypnotism, and Suggestion," "Telepathy over Long Distances," "Phantasms of the Living and Dead," "Dreams and Crystal-Visions," "Divining," "Hauntings" "Automatic Writing," etc.

Bergson, Henri. Creative Evolution. 1911. ... 113

"A brilliant and eridite study of the true meaning of the evolution-ary movement. The author maintains that theory of knowledge and theory of life cannot be separated, and thinks that acting together they may solve the problems posited by philosophy."—A. L. A. Booklist.

Hamilton, Alex., and Others. The Federalist; or the New Constitution. [1911]. Everyman Library. 070

Originally issued like the "Spectator" in serial essays, the "Federalist" was mainly written by General Hamilton, the hero of Mrs. Gertrude Atherton's novel "The Conqueror." James Madison was his chief collaborator. Momentous as was its influence, the "Federalist" only ran through certain New York journals for a few months of 1787-8. Its direct purpose was to lead the State of New York to ratify the constitution which had just been drawn up by the Convention. It owed much to the political sagacity of its writers, but yet more to that of the framers of the new Constitution. The value of its teaching for English readers to-day is increased because they can examine it in the light of the subsequent history of the United States, and see where its teaching failed in practice.

Lindsay, A. D. The Philosophy of Bergson. 1911. ... 194

An appreciation, Endeavours to bring out the unity and systematic nature of Bergson's thought, and to show something of its connection with the historical development of philosophy and more especially with the philosophy of Kant.

Maeterlinck, Maurice. Death. Trans. by Alexander
Teixeira de Mattos. 1911. ... .. 236

Consoling and hopeful views of the great mystery. The author thinks little of the horrors of death, bids both the dying and their friends be of good cheer, and discusses the after-life in a speculative but optimistic fashion.

- Bevis, J. F. and Jeffery, H. J. British Plants, Their Biology and Ecology. Illus. 1911. ... 580

A valuable companion to the elementary text-book and field flora; studying not the anatomy or scientific classification in "natural orders" of the plants, but their life and influence of their environment upon it and the evolution and distribution of the British flora. It is written in headed paragraphs with many careful illustrations; and the general reader, for whom no less than for the special student it is intended, will, if he really needs instruction and not popular "chat," find it very useful.

LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

NUMBER

- Bartholomew, J. G. A Literary and Historical Atlas of America. Illus. Col. Maps. Plans.
1910. Everyman Library. ... .. R800.3

Much the same method has been followed as in the European Atlas of the series. One chief purpose of its maps is to trace clearly the development of the United States. They show us the New England of the Pilgrim Fathers, described by Captain John Smith in 1614; and the Guiana and Orinoco River which Sir Walter Raleigh discovered. They give us the Peru of Pizarro, great rivers like the Amazon and the beginning of great cities such as you see in old New York. Special charts and line maps help to trace the literary associations of New England with Emerson, Hawthorne, and Thoreau, and define the old Indian territory known to Fenimore Cooper. A special gazetteer has been compiled; and an interesting series of plates illustrates historically the succession and great variety of the American coinage, north and south.

- Bartholomew, J. G. A Literary and Historical Atlas of Europe. Illus. Col. Maps. Plans. [1910].
Everyman Library. ... .. R800.3

Embodies the latest geographical knowledge, with special reference to books of history, travel, romance, and geography.

- Belloc, H. First and Last. 1911. ... .. 824

Forty-one essays on different subjects, as the Reveillon, cheeses, the views of England, the lunatic, St. Patrick, reality, the public, the sources of rivers, King Lear, etc.

- Cousin, John W. A Short Biographical Dictionary of English Literature. 1910 ... .. R820

This work, which includes both English and American writers, has been specially compiled for Everyman's Library by Mr. John W. Cousin, of Edinburgh. Its aim is to condense as much fact and critical opinion as possible into a very small space. It is brought down to the present day, including living authors whose work has bulked large enough in the public eye to be given semi-official recognition.

- Euripides. The Plays of Euripides in English. 2 Vols.
1906. Everyman Library. ... .. 882

"Euripides," says Coleridge, "brought tragedy by many steps nearer to the real world than his predecessors had ever done." And Aristotle probably meant the same thing when he called him, "the most tragic of the poets." In these two volumes are presented all the extant plays of the poet, who was born in 480 B.C. on the very day of the battle of Salamis, and, now that his position has been interpreted by Dr. Verrall and Prof. Gilbert Murray, seems to embody the intellectual greatness of Greece.

The translations are by various hands. The volume opens with Shelley's famous version of the "Cyclops," and other translators who contribute to the volume are Dean Milman, Potter (1780), and Woodhull (1809).

Horatius, Flaccus Q. The Complete Works of Horace. Trans. by Various Hands. [1910]. Everyman Library. ... 874

Horace is one of the classic poets that even the English reader innocent of Latin and Greek desires to know, and he is one of the best and most translated. Very good versions of his Odes, Epodes, Satires, and Epistles have been made by various hands, and the right way to represent him is by a choice of translators—the method adopted in this volume. Dr. Marshall's version of the Odes and Epodes and Secular Song, Smart's of the Satires' etc., and Lord Roscommon's of the "Art of Poetry" have been drawn upon; and the result is a complete Horace in English dress.

Kipling, Rudyard. Young, W. Arthur (of Bromley). A Dictionary of the Characters and Scenes in the Stories and Poems of Rudyard Kipling. 1886-1911. ... R823

Letters of an Englishman. 1911. ... 824

These are essays which have appeared in the columns of the Daily Mail. The subjects are very varied and touch in a vigorous manner—though avoiding as a rule the fiercer controversies—on many of the social phenomena of the day; and they have the unity derived from a point of view, that, namely, of a "Toryism not of politics, but of life and letters."

Mabinogion, The. Trans. by Lady Charlotte Guest. 1906. Everyman Library. ... 891

Lady Charlotte Guest (1812-1895) was the first to translate into English the "Red Book of Hergest," and other old Welsh MSS., and thus make accessible a large store of Celtic romance and mythology.

Moulton, James Hope. Early Religious Poetry of Persia. 1911. Camb. Man. of Science and Literature. ... 891

Bibliography.

Peacock, Thomas Love. The Plays of Thomas Love Peacock, Published for the First Time. Ed. by A. B. Young. 1910. ... 822

Written between 1814 and 1820, but not before printed. The plays are three: two in prose, "The Dilettanti: a Farce," and "The three Doctors: a Musical Farce," both resembling in style, satire and pungent wit P.'s novels (see the Card Catalogue), and "The Circle of Loda: a Drama" on an ancient Scandinavian theme written in blank verse.

Shakespeare, William. Ransome Cyril. Short Studies of Shakespeare's Plots. 1904. ... 822

- Briggs, Martin Shaw. In the Heel of Italy: a Study of an Unknown City. [LECCE]. Illus. Plan. Map. 1910. ... .. 945.5

Lecce lies in the rich plain forming the heel of Italy. A prosperous city and an administrative and educational centre, but little visited by the tourist, a description and history of which has never yet, so says Mr. Briggs, been published in any language. Its distinguishing feature is that no Italian town has such a wealth of "baroque" buildings—Gregorovius has called it "The Florence of Rococo art." But its history is also of much interest, and local savants have been busy among its records. Mr. Briggs was commissioned three years ago by the Editor of the Architectural Review to explore and describe it, and he makes use of the material he has collected in the present volume. Bibliography, 14pp. Drawings and photographs.

Gooch, G. P. History of Our Time 1885-1911. 1911. Home University Library. ... 94c

The first six chapters, which record the development of the European Powers and explain their relations to one another, form the core of the book. In the case of each country we find some dominant characteristic, which gives a certain unity to the story. The latter part of the book is mainly devoted to a bird's-eye survey of Asia, Africa, and America; the closing chapter briefly sketches a few of the movements, political, social, and religious, which know nothing of geographical or racial boundaries.

With a Biographical Sketch by Her Father John Morgan Richards, and an Introduction by the Right Rev. Bishop Welldon, Dean of Manchester. Illus. Ports. 1911. ... .. B

'These letters will, I think, enable the readers of her books to understand and appreciate her more fully. They will see that her literary work was no tour de force, but the outcome of an abounding vitality. The brightness of her insight, her pictorial art, the epigrammatic precision which distinguished her books were never wanting to her familiar correspondence; yet the correspondence reveals a many sided sympathy which might not have been guessed from her books.'—Bishop Welldon.

- Paracelsus. (Theophrastus von Hohenheim) (1493-1541). Alchemist and Charlatan. Stoddart, Anna M. The Life of Paracelsus, Theophrastus von Hohenheim. 1493-1541. Illus. Ports. 1911. ... .. B

Paracelsus, the synonym with many writers for bombast, and quackery of every kind, has now been made the subject of a serious and impartial biography. The writer was impelled to his task by Robert Browning's poem, "Paracelsus." "It is a wonderful page in the history of scientific progress that tells of this brave man, alone, delicate, poor, maintaining against all Europe the great cause of personal research into nature, undismayed by ill-treatment, scorn, and failure, unshaken by the combined hostility of doctorculi and pedagogues, steadfast to the truth to which he had dedicated his life."—P. 78. The book throws many side-lights on the condition of medicine and on university life during the period.

- Pitt, William. (1759-1806). Statesman. Rose, J. Holland. William Pitt and the Great War. Illus. Ports. 1911. ... .. B

The second part of a complete biography of the younger Pitt. This volume is concerned with events from 1791 to his death in 1806, covering that trying time in the history of England during the French Revolution and the rise of the military power of Napoleon.

Shakespeare, William. (1564-1616). Dramatist. Smeaton, Oliphant. Shakespeare; His Life and Work. [1910]. Everyman Library. ... B

Epitomises all that has been discovered by previous workers from Malone to Dr. Wallace and adds a register of classic opinions on the plays, with a host of other necessary details. In its pages the author takes each play in order, collates in the way of "variorum" criticism what has been said by the experts and the doctors even where they happen to disagree, and adds enough of original interpretation to weld the whole into a readable text book. Rhyme-tests and time-tests, metrical and technical questions are duly tabulated in the volume.

- Wesley, John. (1703-1791). Religious Reformer.
The Journal of the Rev. John Wesley, A.M.
4 Vols. [1910], Everyman Library. ... .. B

Wesley's Journal (1735-1790) is still his best biography. "He can talk well on any subject," said Dr. Johnson of Wesley, and the Journal is, as Montaigne said of his own essays, un livre de bonne foi, written in perfect honesty and good faith. It reveals his limitations and defects, but it shows him to be a man of vast powers, of unsurpassed zeal and devotion, and of the loftiest Christian character.

EXPLANATION TO THE READER.

This Catalogue is divided into two parts; a Subject Index and a Class List.

The Class List is a Catalogue of the books as they are classified on the shelves. The books on the shelves are arranged in strict numerical order.

1. The SUBJECT INDEX (green) refers the reader to the subject in the Class List.
2. The numbers on the right refer to the pages in the Class List.
3. The numbers in brackets ( ) are the numbers of the subjects as they are arranged upon the shelves.

---

Readers are specially reminded that the books in the Home Reading Department may also be consulted in the Reference Library. The subject numbers in both departments are identical.

If you cannot find what you want in the Reference Library, consult the books in the Home Reading Library. If these fail you,

EXPLANATION TO THE READER.

This Catalogue is divided into two parts; a Subject Index and a Class List.

1. The SUBJECT INDEX (green) refers the reader to the subject in the Class List.
2. The numbers in the Subject Index on the right refer to the pages in the Class List.
3. The numbers in brackets ( ) are the numbers of the subjects as they are arranged upon the shelves.

The CLASS LIST is a catalogue of the books as they are classified on the shelves. The books on the shelves are arranged in strict numerical order.

Readers are specially reminded that the books in the Home Reading Department may also be consulted in the Reference Library. The subject numbers in both departments are identical. If you cannot find what you want in the Reference Library, consult the books in the Home Reading Library. If these fail you,

CONSULT THE LIBRARIAN

or his Staff, they may be able to help you.

We endeavour to answer any question.

| The central thesis is that the idea of a homogeneous and measurable time is an artificial concept caused by the intrusion of space into the realm of pure duration which he defines as a succession of conscious states qualitative in character. In the application of this fact to free will, he submits that difficulties arise from taking one's stand after an act has been performed and applying conceptual methods to it, and asserts that freedom, though not definable, is "one of the clearest facts established by observation." ## RECENT PURCHASES.

This List catalogues some of the most important books added to the Library during the past six months.

The annotations to the books have been omitted to allow more books to be included in the Bulletin. The annotations in most cases will be found on the AUTHOR CARDS in the CARD CATALOGUE in the Home Reading Department.

NOTE—The numbers in the right hand columns are the classification numbers of the books.

THE BOOKS ARE ARRANGED NUMERICALLY ON THE SHELVES BY THESE NUMBERS.
