Toowoomba Street Art
Toowoomba has some of the most amazing street art in Australia, with well over 20 murals scattered throughout the city. They have been painted by renowned artists such as Adnate, Fintan Magee and Claire Foxton to name a few.

Yelarbon Silo Art
The Yelarbon silos were painted by Brisbane based artists Brightsiders, completing stage one of the eight silo group in July 2019. They depict a small boy and his paper boat playing in the Yelarbon Lagoon. They are the 31st to join the ASAT.

Goondiwindi Water Tank Art
The Goondiwindi water tank depicts a water scene showing the wildlife that lives beside the McIntyre River. In the native Bigamgul language, Goondiwindi means a ‘Place where birds rest’

Thallon Silo Art
The Thallon silos were painted by Joel Fergie & Travis Vinson in July 2017. Depicted on this silo titled ‘The Watering Hole’ is the Monnie River, two Rosellas, sheep and a stunning Thallon Sunrise. They were the 10th to join the Australian Silo Art Trail.

Cunnamulla Water Tower Art
During the April and May of 2019 Guido van Helten painted both the Cunnamulla and Charleville Water Towers. As neighbouring towns in a remote area of Queensland costs were combined in the hope that two towers would bring in more tourism.

Charleville Water Tower Art
The youth of Charleville are the feature on this silo which was painted by Guido van Helten in his now signature monochromatic mural style. It is a sister work of art the Cunnamulla water tower which was also painted by Guido.

Wandoan Water Tank Art
The Wandoan water tank was Painted by a group of artists sometime in the 90’. Different sections by different artists.

Thallon Water Tank Art
The Thallon water tank art is located behind the Francis Hotel in Pine Street. They were painted by Joel Fergie & Travis Vinson during their stay in Thallon in July 2017 when they painted the local silos.
