IAL Finances Continue to Improve

By Charles C. Moore
Editor, The IAL News

The organization is steadily moving to firmer financial ground, IAL leadership told club delegates gathered in Durham during the June Annual Meeting.

Both president Bob Herbst and vice president Wade Hampton painted a positive future for the delegates, representing approximately 8,000 members.

The 2012 Annual Meeting and Voice Institute attendance met and then exceeded all attendance expectations, said Herbst.

Herbst said that once again Board of Directors expenses have basically been reduced to a fraction of previous costs.

“This is due to the fact that many of the Board members are taking little or no reimbursements for travel and hotel room expenses.”

He also said activities planned for those attending were a huge success.

“The Friday night trip to see the Durham Bulls vs. the Scranton Yankees was enjoyed greatly by 110 of us. It was a glorious night under the stars in a beautiful stadium.”

A complete financial report for 2011 can be found on pages 15 and 16.

Herbst also said the Voice Institute faculty members had also absorbed much of their own expenses.

“That enabled us to leave Durham in the black and not in the red,” he said.

In conclusion, Herbst said the Durham Sheraton Imperial AM/VI appeared to be a great success on many levels.

“Our Vendors almost unanimously said they had not experienced a better attended AM/VI or a more interested gathering in many years.”

I suppose the first thing I should do is introduce myself. I am Charles “Buck” Moore from Lancaster, S.C. Married for 50 years. Eight years in the Navy and three years at the University of South Carolina. We had two sons until an aortic dissection took our eldest at age 40 eight years ago.

I am a retired journalist and agreed to edit The IAL News after being asked by two IAL friends and elected by the IAL Board of Directors.

That’s me, except for our two grandchildren, computers, building slide shows, photography, watching our grandson pitch, reading our granddaughter’s writings, my books and my beloved South Carolina Gamecocks and Georgia Bulldogs.

Like most of you, the surgery changed my life, letting me know how much I loved living in the process. Hopefully we will get to know each other better through this little corner.

In the meantime, my email address is on Page 3. If you have a story idea, please send it to me. While we can’t run them all because of space limitations, I can guarantee all will be read and considered. For many we will “make” space if it impacts enough readers.

That’s me and an idea of what I believe about the IAL News. We are here to serve you the best we can.

Until November,

Charlie

Take 110 or so To The Ballgame

By Charles “Buck” Moore Editor IAL News

It was chaos. It was mayhem. It was fun. It was wonderful. It was a party.

The Durham Bulls vs. the Scranton Yankees, and a bunch of larys, SLPs, students, teachers and families crammed into the section set aside for groups.

The section is called the “Bullpen,” and it is right behind the visitor’s real bullpen.

(Slight interruption here to thank Bruce Medical for the entrance fee and transportation.)

The section has tables and very nice seating...And the buffet was simply great.

Alas, the Bulls lost 3-1, but that did not dampen anyone’s spirits.

Perhaps Susan Bolt, a University of South Carolina SLP graduate student summed it up best. “I came for the social aspect and have enjoyed myself immensely. These are simply wonderful people. Why wouldn’t anyone want be here around them.”

The IAL’s Terrie Hall and little Candace Lyle each captured a baseball.

Voice Institute Pronounced Huge Success

By Charles Moore
Editor, The IAL News

It would be hard for Voice Institute Director, Philip Doyle, Ph. D., to be more pleased.

"Feedback has been very positive on all fronts," he said, speaking of the 2012 edition of the IAL Voice Institute that concluded in June.

And no wonder.
This year’s edition boasts an attendance of upwards of 150.
Fifty-four of the attendees were students, 30 from Canada.
There was a laryngectomee who came all the way from India.
Dr. Doyle thinks this is a record for the number of students attending.
"I think for students yes, and overall, it was the most successful meeting I have been involved with over the past 10 years.
"In my own opinion, I think this year’s program was exceptional.
"In addition to the basic program, we had three new lectures added this year; one on extended surgical reconstruction, one on head and neck cancer and the human papilloma virus (HPV), and one on clinical distress monitoring. A very strong showing by students."

Trish Cavanagh, SLP, Veterans Administration Medical Center, San Francisco, CA., added more praise.
"The IAL/VI is a unique opportunity for SLPs, graduate students and laryngectomies to receive didactic and hands-on instruction in areas pertaining to the Speech Pathologist’s care of the laryngectomee," she said.

"However, since the program is over the course of several days, the SLP and graduate student participants also have opportunities to interact with both the laryngectomies and their spouses/families in discussions and problem-solving sessions. We as professionals have much to learn from the experiences of the laryngectomees and their family members. Typically, the lessons we learn from patients are gained after several years of practice, but the IAL/VI program provides an excellent opportunity to have so much in just a few days. To my knowledge, there is no other course that offers the variety of learning experiences in the care of the laryngectomee patient like the IAL/VI program."

From Carol Stach, SLP, Veterans Administration Medical Center, Houston, TX.
"From my vantage point, the educational, clinical and social experiences offered at IAL/VI provide unparalleled opportunities for laryngectomies, family members, speech pathologists, and graduate students.

"Attendees join together to learn about current laryngectomy rehabilitation. Many presentations are enhanced by live or recorded demonstration and hands-on experiences. Opportunities to share knowledge and seek input regarding alaryngeal speech clinical dilemmas are made available throughout the conference. I know of no other venue to provide such a unique array of training experiences in laryngectomy rehabilitation. There really is something for everyone at IAL/VI."
Global solution for pulmonary and phonatory rehabilitation after a total laryngectomy

American laryngectomizes can now fully benefit from the advantages of the Cyberose® HME®. It alone can be cleaned repeatedly, thereby proving cheaper with use. Thanks to the Cyberose® Global System, a Ceredas innovation, the pulmonary and phonatory rehabilitation of laryngectomizes with or without a voice prosthesis is now possible throughout their life.

After surgery and during radiotherapy, CyTubeMajor™, a laryngectomy tube and tracheostoma support, receives the Cyberose® HME®. The CyGripOne™ is available for patients requiring a tracheostoma tube. The patented holding tab makes it easy to remove. Users of a voice prosthesis benefit from CyValveFreedom™, a hands-free valve avoiding the manual obstruction of the tracheostoma. Finally, Tracheodouche™, a shower protector, is fitted on the CyTubeMajor™ or the Cyberose® base, allowing for the pleasure of a shower without the risk of discomfort.

Hygiene and Ease

Another Ceredas innovation distributed in the U.S., Tracheoclean®, the disposable tracheal protection used during the post-surgical period is also unique on the market. Easy and fast to insert, it doesn’t require any special care. It also protects the caregivers while preserving the patient’s self-image.

Spokane, Wash., to Host 2013 Annual Meeting

IAL Staff Reports

Spokane, Washington, has been chosen as the site for the 2013 annual meeting of the IAL.

IAL President Bob Herbst announced the selection at the June 2012 annual meeting in Durham, N.C.

“In my many years as a IAL Board of Directors member, I have never seen a community more excited to host an IAL/Voice Institute meeting, he said.

“We hope to see everyone who can get there do so. It is a very beautiful part of the world and the Red Lion Hotel is situated directly in the heart of downtown on the banks of the Spokane River.”

Spokane was incorporated in 1871, but had existed as a trading community for decades. Its metro population is approximately 610,000, according to the U.S. Census Bureau.

“Spokane provides the same opportunity in 2013 as Durham in 2012, said IAL Vice President Wade Hampton. “We are looking forward to the new challenges and the support of Ed Chapman and the local community.”

Interim treasurer, Wade Hampton, who also serves as IAL vice president, reported a profit of $12,204 for 2011.

“The IAL has been frugal and collected on invoices to keep our books balanced. The net gain points out the ability to manage the IAL in tight economic times.”

The IAL also has two CD’s totaling $105,290.55. These funds provide under $500 yearly towards the funding of Batten Scholarship, said Hampton.

“The IAL has protected these funds, though there are no restrictions placed on their use,” he said.

Hampton also praised the work done by IAL workers in preparing the Durham meeting and predicted another superb meeting next year in Spokane, Washington.

“The host club, The Western Piedmont Speak Easy Club did a tremendous job with organizing and registering our guests, he said.

Sapp Funderburk (board member) and Terrie Hall’s club (Speak Easy) provided staffing for this difficult task. The members filled in, ran errands and generally provided a welcome support to the 2012 AM/VI. Thanks!

“Our journey to Spokane provides the same opportunity in 2013. We are looking forward to the new challenges and the support of Ed Chapman and the local community.”

Jan Lewin, Ph.D., section chief of Speech Pathology & Audiology at the M.D. Anderson, Houston, Tx., was the keynote speaker.

“She made a wonderful contribution to our knowledge of staying healthy after laryngectomy, dedicating the lecture to the memory of our Founder, Dutch Helms,” said Sanders.

“The reception held by Bruce Med was fantastic, as always, and we love Richard Najarian for what he does every year to kick off our dinner,” she said.

Florida Laryngectomee Association To Hold Annual Meeting

The Florida Laryngectomee Association will hold its annual meeting at the Holiday Inn at the Walt Disney World Resort, at Lake Buena Vista. The hotel will assist attendees in planning a vacation around the annual meeting.

Dates are September 28th-30th, 2012. Room rates are $85, single to quad occupancy (plus room tax of 12.5%). Under normal circumstances the hotel will honor this rate 3 days prior and 3 days after the meeting. Reservations can be made directly to the hotel by calling the toll free number, 1-877-394-5765 and referring to the group code FLL.

This year is the 60th Anniversaries of the Association.

Pre-registration is required by September 17, 2012. Check-in and late registration will be held on the pre-function area of the hotel.

The faculty will consist of veteran speech pathologists with Ph.D. and masters level education with more than 100 years of combined experience servicing laryngectomies.

Atos Medical products and expertise are developed in close cooperation with leading institutions, doctors, researchers, speech language pathologists and patients from all over the world. All our claims and arguments rest on the results of clinical studies. Atos Medical started the research and development on the first Provox voice prosthesis in 1987. Throughout the years, we have worked hard to develop Provox as the leading voice and pulmonary rehabilitation system on the market. We continue to allocate substantial resources for product development and training programs for Ear, Nose and Throat specialties. Our goal is clear: Atos Medical will continue to lead the way in ENT.

PROVOX® StabiliBase™ The new longer-lasting Provox adhesive

The new Provox StabiliBase adhesive is specially designed to improve your comfort, while wearing an HME cassette, a FreeHands HME or another product from the Provox system. Its design and structure aims to provide a good fit and device stability during speech.

Longer lasting adhesive and voicing*

Provox StabiliBase adhesive stayed on significantly longer and did not need to be changed as often as FlexiDerm™ or XtraBase™. Provox FreeHands HME® users reported that with StabiliBase they could use their FreeHands device for significantly more hours than with FlexiDerm or XtraBase.

Comfort and fit*

The Provox StabiliBase is designed in a convex shape with stabilizing bars providing a good stoma fit, especially for users with deep stomas.

Provox StabiliBase -the preferred choice*

Overall, the majority of participants in the clinical trial preferred the StabiliBase adhesive.
