Saving Money

How can IPGenie help your business save money?

Our approach is not just to offer cheaper prices for lower quality variants of what you already have. We will make an appraisal of how we can help your business to save money on telecommunications and propose a comprehensive solution.

Looking for a competitive edge?

IPGenie will work alongside you to demonstrate how you can reduce your telecommunications spend and improve the efficiency of your communications at the same time.

Revolutionise the way your business communicates

Price advantage for small business customers

IPGenie has secured deals with recognised network providers such as BT Wholesale and O<sub>2</sub>, which allow us to offer high quality services at commercially attractive rates to all of our customers. The scale of our business means that we can negotiate effectively to ensure that you receive the best value, irrespective of your business size.

Better broadband, lower price

Thousands of small business customers are still trying to run their offices using domestic grade broadband. In reality the poor service levels and unreliability of cheaper products can end up costing the business money through down-time and poor performance. Our broadband is configured for business use, which means faster downloads and improved reliability.

Free calls between sites

Our hosted IP voice services see all your employees as being on the same network, regardless of where they're working from. That means calls between sites are free. This solution can provide clear advantages for multi-site organisations and where your business has sales people travelling and working from home.

Pay for what you need or use

The majority of business customers pay for their mobile services on a bundle basis or on a pay-as-you-use basis, but why not do both and tailor the tariff to your individual employee's usage. IPGenie can analyse your current spend and recommend a solution that combines products in the most cost effective way.

Work smarter and save on travel costs

Hundreds of miles of travel for weekly meetings can be avoided by using crystal clear audio and web conferencing solutions, which IPGenie can provide. Our IPT solutions now offer video calling using handsets and applications for PC, Mac, smartphones and tablets.

Save even more with hosted IP telephony

By adopting a hosted IP telecom solution, you can make savings on maintenance costs and you'll always be upgraded to the latest call handling software. Best of all, there's none of the large capital outlay which often goes with buying a new phone system - instead you just purchase licences for the employees who need to access the service.

What solutions can IPGenie provide you?

Cheaper calls

Cheaper landline and mobile calls, with fixed price call packages also available.

Free calls

Free calls between your main business sites, including home workers on our IP products.

Connectivity

Business grade connectivity that will pay for itself.

IP technology

Reductions in phone line rental charges through the adoption of IP technology.

Lower travel costs

Lower business travel costs by adopting modern conferencing solutions.

Call recording

Flexible pay-as-you-use call recording, rather than the capital cost of an on-premise solution.

“Administration savings through informative billing and including home workers' phone charges on your main invoice.”

Helping you to save money

IPGenie have secured deals with recognised network providers allowing you to provide a great value product to your customers.
