

Learn to Be a Hero

You don't need tights and a cape to be a Hero. Dr. Paul's story will make your staff and colleagues feel like the Heroes we all know they can be.

Boost Confidence

Dr. Paul's positive reaction to his own adversity is a realization that our challenges can become our greatest gifts.

Promote Growth

Learn to strategically react to challenges in the workplace with focus, creativity, and resilience, offering critiques rather than criticism.

topics for professionals

Diversity • Disability Acceptance • Leadership
Overcoming Adversity • Growth & Resilience
Cultural Sensitivity • Anti-Bullying • Productivity
Inspirational Keynotes • Training Workshops

Paul Stuart Wichansky, Ph.D, was born with cerebral palsy and a hearing loss. He shares powerful, insightful stories that have allowed him to walk, achieve multiple milestones, and lead a confident, productive life in the face of adversity.

Some professional clients:

- United Nations
- Novartis Pharmaceuticals
- Bristol-Meyers Squibb
- Vanguard Financial
- Cerebral Palsy of NJ

Programs Include:

- School Assemblies
- Conference Keynotes
- College Programs
- Professional Workshops
- After-Dinner Comedy

"As a college professor for over 30 years, I've had hundreds of guest speakers in my classes: famous athletes, winning coaches, world-class experts, even the governor of the state! Only one of these speakers has ever received a standing ovation from my students: Dr. Wichansky. He stole their hearts. For some, he changed their lives."

- Rob Gilbert, Montclair State University professor and author

Never let your attitude become your disability. It's your Access to Success.