A credit allowance will be made for that portion of a call that is interrupted due to poor transmission (for example, noisy circuit), one way transmission (one party is unable to hear the other), or involuntary disconnection caused by deficiencies in the Company's service. The Customer may also be granted credit for reaching a wrong number. To receive a credit, the Customer must notify a Company Customer Service representative and furnish information, including the called number, the service subscribed to, the difficulty experienced, and the approximate time the call was placed.

Where a call has been disconnected, the Customer will be given a credit allowance equivalent to the charge for the initial minute of the call made to reestablish communications with the other party. If the Customer reaches a wrong number, the Customer will be given a credit allowance equivalent to the charge for the initial minute of the call to the wrong number if the Customer reports the situation promptly to a Customer Service Representative. This credit allowance for reaching wrong numbers is limited to an aggregate total of $100 over a 12-month period.

Credit allowance for interruptions of service which are not due to Company's testing or adjusting, to the negligence of the Customer, or to the failure of channels, equipment and/or communications equipment provided by the Customer, are subject to the general Liabilities of the Company, above. It shall be the obligation of the Customer to notify Company of any interruptions of service. Before giving such notice, the Customer shall ascertain that the trouble is not being caused by any action or omission of the Customer, not within the Customer's control.

No credit allowances will be allowed for an interruption of services for continuous duration of less than two hours.

For purposes of credit computation or leased facilities, every month shall be considered to have 720 hours.

The Customer shall be credited for an interruption of two (2) hours or more at the rate of 1/720th of the monthly recurring charge, if any, for the facilities affected for each hour or major fraction thereof that the interruption continues.

Credit formula: $\text{Credit} = (A/720) \times B$

A = outage time in hours

B = total monthly recurring charge for affected utility

No credit allowances will be made for:

1. Interruptions caused by the Customer's negligence or the negligence of others authorized by the Customer to use the Customer's Company-provided service.
2. Interruptions due to the failure of power, equipment, systems, or services not provided by the Company.
3. Interruptions during any period during which the Company or its agents are not afforded access to the premises where access lines associated with the Customer's services are terminated.
4. Interruptions during any period when the Customer has released the service to the Company for maintenance or rearrangement purposes, or for the implementation of the Customer's order.
5. Interruptions during the periods when the Customer elects not to release the service for testing or repair and continues to use it on impaired basis.
6. Non-completion of calls due to network busy conditions.
7. Interruptions not reported to the Company.
8. Interruptions in service due to the performance of the telecommunications network furnishing the Company service.

An interruption period begins when the Customer reports to the Company that the service has been interrupted and releases it for testing and repair. An interruption period ends when the service is operative again. If the Customer reports the service to be inoperative but declines to release it for testing and repair, the service is deemed to be impaired, but not interrupted. If the Customer elects to use another means of communication during the period of interruption, the Customer must pay the charges for the alternative service used.

Prior to the Customer's compliance with this request, the Company reserves the right to cease accepting and processing service orders. The Company may request subsequent additional pre-invoice payments for usage and may increase or decrease toll usage limits as it deems appropriate. The Company may refuse to furnish services if any charges owed by the Customer to the Company or any Company affiliate are past due for service(s) provided to the Customer.

If the Company incurs any fees or expenses, including attorneys' fees, in collecting, or attempting to collect, any charges owed the Company other than by hiring a collection agency, the Customer will be liable to the Company for the payment of all such fees and expenses reasonably incurred.

In the event that Customer charges to be billed by a local telephone company to the Customer are for any reason rejected and returned to Company by the local telephone company, and subsequently require direct billing by the Company, the Company may assess a Non-Incumbent LEC Billed Customer Billing Surcharge when billing the Customer.

Each party will bear the cost of preparing and presenting its own case.

Any in-person arbitration proceedings will be held at the location that AAA selects in the state where the Customer is located, unless otherwise mutually agreed upon by the parties.
