ROXY O'BRYAN, owner and operator of Rejuvenation on the Rox, started her aesthetic career in her mid 20's. At the age of 26 she worked for a plastic surgeon which led her to expand her knowledge and expertise in aesthetic lasers, injectables and body contouring. Throughout the years she has received over 22 certifications for various lasers, state certification for micro needling with PRP, has injected thousands of Individuals with facial fillers, Botox and has performed over 7000 coolsculpting treatments.

Becoming an owner of an ascetic practice was not only a dream of hers but also her determination for the future of her children and her career. Roxy states, "The idea of owning my own business began when I was just a young child. By 27 it was my ambition and goal to one day make it a reality. I had extreme courage, confidence and drive and by age 35 my dream came true."

Roxy is a member of the Parker and Castle Rock Chamber of Commerce, the Better Business Bureau and serves at Thrive Church located in Parker. Her family enjoys spending as much quality time together as possible, volunteering for various shelters in the metro area, traveling and outdoor activities.

Too Embarrassed to Let Your Toenails be Seen?

Q:

"I have been battling unsightly and uncomfortable Toenail Fungus. I have tried expensive prescription topicals (20% effective), but there has been little improvement. I am concerned about the side effects, costs, and the liver enzyme testing required when using some oral drugs (60-70% effective). Are there any other options available?"

A:

Yes! Now there is a laser treatment for Toenail Fungus, which is a common issue experienced by more than 20% of men and women of all ages. Fungal toenails are common for more than 50% of men that are over the age of 40. This condition often causes toenails to crumble, thicken, become brittle, and change color. If left untreated, it can lead to serious complications.

Why Would You Trust Anyone but a Foot Doctor with the Treatment of Your Fungal Toenails?

One of the most successful methods of remedying toenail fungus is the application of laser treatment technology - clear nail growth in 80+% of cases as published in trials and confirmed clinically. Podiatry Associates, PC now offers a Laser Treatment for toenail fungus. This safe and painless treatment has no side effects and can be delivered in three treatment sessions of less than 30 minutes each, with no recovery period necessary. The laser penetrates the toenail and destroys organisms embedded in the nail bed and nail plate where the fungus lives.
