Cookies

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small file which is placed on your computer's hard drive when you visit a website. They are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the site owners, such as which pages you find useful or not. A web browser normally deletes session cookies when it quits. A cookie does not give us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us. Cookies are used on this site to maintain functionality as you move between pages.

Links to other websites

Our website does not contain links to other websites of interest, but if it should in future, once you have used these links to leave our site, you should note that we do not have any control over that other website. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the protection and privacy of any information which you provide whilst visiting such sites.

Data retention

We will retain your personal information for as long as we deem it necessary for the purposes outlined above. We will keep different types of data for different amounts of time, as detailed below. For the purposes of this policy, 'interaction' is defined as any action taken on our website or emails, e.g. entering a competition, opening an email, changing email preferences. All timescales outlined in this policy are effective as of 21st September 2020.

Windmill Buying Services Ltd do not retain credit card information.

After the above time periods have elapsed without any interaction, we will delete all personal information associated with your account. Please note that once data has been deleted, it cannot be retrieved and you will lose all benefits associated with your account.

Controlling your personal information

You may choose to restrict use of your personal information for direct marketing purposes by opting-out at any time by visiting <https://windmill-buying.co.uk> or getting in touch by email at sales@windmill-buying.co.uk.

We will not sell, distribute, or lease your personal information to third parties unless we have your permission or are required by law to do so. We may use your personal information to send you promotional information about third parties which we think you may find interesting if you tell us that you wish this to happen.

We respect your Right to Access (the right to see what personal data we hold and process, and why) and your Right to be Forgotten (the right to have your personal data erased from our systems). To access your data, or request for your data to be deleted, please submit a formal query using our contact form and a member of the team will be in touch to discuss your requirements. Alternatively, please write to us at Windmill Buying Services Ltd. 4 Derby Street, Norwich NR2 4PU

If you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, please write to or email us as soon as possible, at the above address. We will promptly correct any information found to be incorrect.

Your consent

By submitting your information you consent to the use of that information as set out in this policy. If we change our privacy policy we will post the changes on this page, and may place notices on other pages of the website, so that you may be aware of the information we collect and how we use it at all times. We will also email you should we make any changes so that you may consent to our use of your information in that way. Continued use of the service will signify that you agree to any such changes.
