

DJ YODA

DJ Yoda is a multi-award-winning hip-hop DJ and producer, headlining festivals and clubs around the world. No typical club DJ, his interests lie in finding fresh and unique ways to bring turntables out of the club and getting involved in bespoke collaborations. Working with classical composers to neuroscientists; brass bands to film directors; Dr Dre to Dame Evelyn Glennie; Banksy to Mark Ronson; BBC Radio 4 to the BFI, he reinvigorates his craft with wry invention and humorous intent.

Internationally respected for his turntablism, he was Dr Dre's first choice to record a guest mix on his inaugural Beats 1 show for Apple Music in 2015, and was one of a select band of artists to perform at Banksy's pop-up Bemusement Park, Dismaland.

Ever pushing the boundaries of live audio-visual performance his latest journey into popular culture - DJ Yoda: A History of Gaming - premiered at the London Film Festival on the UK's largest screen at the prestigious IMAX, charting best loved and most fondly remembered games from the early 1980s to the present. In recent years DJ Yoda has refined his composing and song-writing style, evolving and maturing his sound.

In 2015, his album 'Breakfast of Champions' saw DJ Yoda collaborating and producing with live musicians for the first time in his career. Building from this, his upcoming release features the brightest and boldest emerging talent from the young British jazz and soul scene, including Joel Culepper, Eva Lazarus, Theon Cross and Nubya Garcia. A fusion of genres inspired by soul, 90s jazz and hip-hop, the album also includes some of the most respected artists of their respective eras including Omar, Jungle Brothers, and MC, Ed O.G.
