Changes to Privacy Statement

These guidelines have been developed with the recognition that Internet technologies are rapidly evolving. From time to time, campusfinancial.org may need to change our privacy statement because of changes in the law, in technology, in campusfinancial.net's business, or in our attempts to serve your needs better. We will use every effort to communicate in a timely manner any changes to our privacy statement

What information does campusfinancial.net gather?

The choice of how much personally identifiable information you disclose to us is completely at your discretion. It is not mandatory for you to answer any question, but please realize that in order to serve you better, you will need to provide certain information to access some areas of our site, obtain or register for special services, or complete transactions initiated by you. If you choose not to provide information, we may not be able to permit access to such areas, provide those special services, or complete such transactions.

Information gathered through traffic monitoring

Like many other websites, campusfinancial.net is equipped with a program that monitors traffic by automatically recording every visitor's host, domain name, pages visited, length of user sessions, browser type and/or IP address. This program tracks the number of times the site is hit, how many visitors come to the site, which parts of the site they frequent, and the length of time of each visit. This information does not contain personally identifiable information and is used to evaluate areas of interest and to improve the campusfinancial.org site.

Information gathered obtaining services

Campusfinancial.net collects full name, home address, e-mail address, telephone number, and other personally identifiable information that is voluntarily provided by the user. Any and all personally identifiable information that is collected is maintained by campusfinancial.org in accordance all applicable laws. By providing such information, the user consents to campusfinancial.net's Privacy Policy, including the uses of the information described in this Policy.
